Wilson Wins Title From Champion

Merits Decision Over Johnny Wilson After Slow Match of Fifteen Rounds.

Small Crowd at Fight

Polo Grounds, New York, Aug. 31.—The world's middleweight boxing championship passed from Johnny Wilson of Boston to Harry Greb of Pittsburgh in a 15-round battle before a small crowd in the Polo grounds tonight.

The new champion was not produced in his customary windmill style, because he did not have to. Wilson made a lethargic defense of the title he won from Mike O'Dowd, and hardly at any time did he press his opponent.

About 5,000 people including thousands of women, were in the stands at the Polo grounds when the fight was held on the site for the 15th round world's championship bout between Champion Harry Wilson and Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh.

McLaughlin, of the west side, New York, won the first four-round preliminary from Charles Arthur, who was which was a slashing affair. The men are middleweight.

The second preliminary produced the spectators began to trickle but none of the sections appeared to be filled. It was a six-round bout between two more middleweights, won by Paddy Flynn, of Brooklyn, from his fellow townsman, Harry Under.

Under the third preliminary it was felt that the crowd was not only disappointed to see the fight between Greb and Wilson, but to see the fight between Greb and Wilson.

Both were given enthusiastic ovations. The weights were announced as 135 each. Jack O'Sullivan was the victor in the ring.

In The Omaha Sunday Bee

All aboard! North Pole Limited! Will a few more years see the north pole supplanting the mountains, the seashore and the Minnesota lakes as the favorite vacation ground for tired travelers from the United States?

A huge new dirigible now being built will attempt the trip to the north pole as an experiment. If the trip is a success, what's to prevent the establishment of a dirigible line between the United States and the Arctic circle?

How do you like your sports? Rough and risky? Or do you prefer to sit in the grandstand and let others play for you? Adam Brede of Hastings likes to get his recreation by pursuing wild animals in wild places.

That's the kind of a short story Charles Collins has written for the magazine section of The Sunday Bee. He calls it "On Paradise Peaks." You will find it well worth the 20 minutes it takes to read it.

Of course all the copy books tell us that laziness is little less than a sin. But O. O. McIntyre doesn't believe in copy books. He admits he's lazy himself and on top of that he insists laziness is a quality much to be envied.

The first mail ever brought from St. Joseph to Omaha by airplane arrived at Ak-Sar-Ben field at 4:27 yesterday afternoon in a Laird Seawall machine, piloted by Walter Beach and carrying as a passenger George A. McClellan, publisher of the St. Joseph Gazette.

The trip was made by special permission of the United States mail department as part of the celebration of the pony express anniversary in St. Joseph. Pouches of mail carried by the plane will be sent forward today by the regular transcontinental ships.

The ship brought letters to Mayor Dahlman and Walter Head from Mayor George E. McIninch of St. Joseph, who sent greetings and stated that the present trip was one to inaugurate interest in a regular daily commercial and mail plane line between St. Joseph and Omaha.

Mr. McClellan, who wore a golf suit and cap, said they dashed through two hundred storms on their way, but that otherwise the trip was uneventful. He is a seasoned flyer, having made his first flight in 1909 in a Wright machine.

The air voyagers stopped here only 45 minutes, during which greetings were exchanged and answers were written to the letters from St. Joseph and mailed under 2-cent stamps on the ship, which took the air at 5:15 and soon disappeared toward the south.

Burglars broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wiley, 3217 Dodge street, prepared their dinner and then departed with many valuable articles, according to Detectives Killian and Davis, who are investigating the robbery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley have been in California for three months. A brother, Frank Wiley, came to Omaha a few days ago and discovered that their home had been entered through a rear door, which was chopped down, apparently with an ax. The detectives found that the burglars had fried eggs and made coffee while in the home.

By Associated Press.—Nome, Alaska, Aug. 30.—(Delayed.)—An expedition which left here August 3 to relieve a party led by Alan Crawford which went to Wrangell island in 1921, returned to Nome today with the news that all of the Crawford party except one was dead.

Herold Noice, leader of the relief expedition, reported that he found little ice and had no trouble in reaching the island in the power schooner Donaldson.

The one person left alive from the Crawford expedition was an Eskimo woman.

Taxes to be paid by Columbus people for all purposes based on the 1923 valuation will be lower than the past year, and the same condition will prevail generally throughout the county, with exceptions of some villages and townships where it has been found necessary to raise the levies.

Chemists have tested the water and found it entirely fit for consumption. Boiling now may be dispensed with. "There isn't a case of typhoid fever or any other disease attributable to impure water in Omaha today," Dr. Pinto said.

Miners-Operators Conference Adjourns Until Today After Governor Pinchot Offers Compromise Proposal.

Are Pledged to Secrecy

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 31.—After five hours and 15 minutes of continuous conference, the meeting of anthracite operators and miners with Governor Pinchot adjourned at 5:45 this afternoon to meet again tomorrow morning.

A pledge of secrecy was exacted from both parties by the governor, but it is understood that a compromise proposal offered by Pinchot following "qualified rejection" of the first suggestion has partially brought the miners and operators together again.

Government Pinchot, following the adjournment of the conference, would make no statement.

In spite of the break in the water system which rendered the water unfit for use for several days, citizens obeyed the orders of the health department to refrain from using it. Later, when the water cleared, permission to use the water was given, but only after it had been boiled 10 minutes.

As a counter measure, the council of commissioners has ordered the remittance of a number of taxes on all grain destined for export. This the government believes, will to a certain extent alleviate the situation.

Crisis in the Ruhr Expected Sunday

Ludendorff and Other Military Leaders to Attend Demonstration.

By Universal Service.—Berlin, Aug. 31.—It is learned tonight that the German cabinet is considering the draft of an announcement regarding the modifying of passive resistance in the Ruhr.

It is probable that the decision will not be published in such form as to arouse the German nationals to further opposition. The opposition to the cabinet from this source has been rapidly growing and any attempt to yield in the Ruhr would mean serious trouble.

A critical turn in the situation is expected by Sunday, which is the anniversary of the battle of Sedan. The German nationalists and the extreme "Deutsche Volkische" party will hold a big demonstration at Nurnberg.

General Ludendorff, General Von Secher, Adolf Hitler and other well-known right leaders have promised to attend.

Similar demonstrations are planned elsewhere but there will also be demonstrations by communists at several places. Sedan celebrations have been forbidden in Berlin, Hamburg and Saxony because of fear of collisions.

The communication does not mention any casualties, but from other sources it is reported there were some.

U. S. Again on Friendly Terms With Mexico

Resumption of Diplomatic Relations Announced at Washington—Former Treaties Revived.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Recognition of Mexico by the United States became an accomplished fact at noon today.

As a result, it is understood the United States will not only approve, but will invite American bankers to participate in the financial restoration of Mexico.

Senator Manuel Teller, charge d'affaires at the Mexican embassy, has been designated the official representative of his government in Washington.

These selections will stand, it is understood, pending the designation of ambassadors.

The terms of recognition are said to be satisfactory to world powers and announcements re-establishing recognition of the Obregon government by other nations will follow shortly, it was said in diplomatic circles here.

The immediate effect of recognition is to revive all existing treaties and diplomatic agreements between the two countries. They have respective states of suspension since the turmoil in Mexico caused by the assassination of President Carranza.

The Hearst newspapers, through Universal Service, informed the public of this important international development 24 hours in advance of any other publication. Universal Service made this announcement without qualification, giving the exact hour at which the formal statement of recognition might be expected from Washington and Mexico City.

The text of the announcement as issued at the State department follows: "The government of the United States and the government of Mexico, in view of the reports and recommendations submitted as a result of the American-Mexican conference held at the City of Mexico from May 14, 1923, to August 15, 1923, have resolved to renew diplomatic relations between them and, therefore, pending the appointment of ambassadors, they are taking the necessary steps to accredit formally their respective charges d'affaires."

Next Friday, September 7, the two claims conventions agreed upon will be formally executed here and in Mexico City. The seal will be exchanged for signatures and go into the archives of the State department until congress meets, when President Coolidge will ask the senate to ratify them. One convention deals with general claims of Mexicans against the United States and of Americans against Mexico. It is for general claims exclusively with claims growing out of the series of revolutions in Mexico.
