

WOMAN'S NEWS-FEATURES

Should He Ask to Call or Wait for an Invitation?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I have known a young lady for the past year and a half. For the last six months I have been going home with her every evening. We have had an argument over this question and wish you to answer same. When I am about to leave her do I ask if I can call on her, or does she invite me?

At the end of a year and a half of acquaintance, you are not on such formal terms that it matters much whether you ask if you may come to see the girl or whether she invites you to call. But naturally when it comes to the hospitality of her home, a woman should offer it rather than wait for the man to try to find out if he is welcome there. By this I do not mean that girls should ask every man they meet to call—but when a man has shown (as you have by escorting her home) that he is a friendly fellow, it is the girl's place to invite him to call if she really wants him to come.

Fondling: Of course you did right, my dear. But seriously now, what was there to quarrel about? Don't take your engagement too seriously. What you now think is a great love may be but a passing infatuation. You are both rather young, in fact, too young to take love affairs seriously.

Ann Marie: The condition of your scalp is causing your hair to fall out. What you need is oil treatments. Go to some reliable hair dresser.

Heartbroken Mary: For your children's sake try to make the best of the situation for the present. He is doing you and his family a great injustice, but as you say he may see his mistake in time. If you attend a church your pastor might be able to help you.

Mrs. M. J. B.—You can get suggestions for parties and also any number of interesting games in the reference room of the public library.

Lyns: Some dictionaries give a list of names for men and women. I might suggest Warren, Donald, Howard, Marvin, Arnold, Kenneth, Berton, Gordon, Archibald, Reginald or Percival. Personally I prefer plain names, such as John, Henry, William, James or Joseph.

Wedding of Miss Westerfield

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Westerfield, was solemnized last night the marriage of their daughter, Miss Esther and Rev. Lawson S. Lavery of Harrisburg, Pa. Rev. Donald C. MacLeod of Dundee Presbyterian and Rev. R. R. Brown, radio pastor of Omaha, were the officiating clergymen.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine ornamented with crystal beads. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her wedding veil was loaned by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. James Behehan, and her wedding ring was worn by six ancestors named Esther.

Elizabeth Oranck Westerfield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gowned in green crepe de chine. Helen Genevieve Westerfield and Helen Elizabeth Davis, flower girls, wore pale pink silk voile. Herbert Ellery Westerfield, brother of the bride, served as best man. Miss Marjorie Miltz played the wedding marches.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home. Seasonal flowers were used for decorations and a color scheme of pink and white was carried out.

The bride was graduated from Omaha Central high school in 1921. The groom completed his course at Dickinson college in 1915, graduating with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will reside at Harrisburg, Pa. The bride and groom met at Binghamton, N. Y., where Prof. Lavery was then instructor in Greek and Miss Westerfield his pupil.

Mission Convention to Be Held Here Oct. 31.

Four hundred delegates are expected here late in October for the convention of the Congregational Board of Missions of the Interior, comprising 23 states. The meeting will be held at the First Central Congregational church October 31 to November 2.

W. F. Barton, president of the American Missionary board, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Fred P. Loomis of this city is state president of the association. Mrs. E. G. McGilton, local chairman of the committee on arrangements for the conference, is being assisted by Mrs. George Remington.

Miss Judson Will Give Shower for Miss Belt.

The first of the prenuptial affairs for Miss Dorothy Belt will be a kitchen shower and a bridge party to be given Saturday afternoon by Miss Dorothy Judson at her home in Fairacres.

Mrs. Norman Curtice, who will be the week-end guest of Miss Judson, will share honors with Miss Belt, who is to wed Francis Gaines in October.
