Hairy Chin Title Race Is Started

Dempsey and Firpo Quit Shaving Until After Friday Bout—Bull of Pampas Is Grunting Champ. Kearns Counting Coin

By FRED S. HUNTER, Staff Correspondent The Omaha Bee. New York, Sept. 11.—News of stupendous importance came out of the rival training camps today, and sporting circles here are all aflutter. Dempsey and Firpo have quit shaving until after the fight. Thus will the first skirmish in the conflict for the heavyweight championship of the world go to the gladiator who succeeds in propagating the most ferocious looking whiskers.

Students of pugilism tell us that there is sound reasoning behind this scheme of outrageous hirsute adornment. They say that a stubble of black beard helps prevent annoying cuts in the face from chopping blows. Yet we recall distinctly that Tommy Gibbons not long ago came into a 20-foot ring (that's correct, that's all the law allows in Montana) with the clean, pink tinted cheeks of a baby, and he didn't fare so badly.

Dempsey Has Experience. But no matter how Dempsey and Firpo are determined to fight it out for the whisker championship, and no doubt the race will be close, although the odds probably are with Dempsey, who has had much experience in this line. There is one honor, however, that we venture to predict Firpo will retain without greatly exerting himself. That's the grunting championship. We have no hesitancy or fear of contradiction in right now declaring Firpo the long-distance grunting champion of the universe.

Looie also is no slouch at grunting his teeth. Every time the terrible forehead of Terra del Fuoco decided to let one go, he first grunts his teeth, then swings and grunts. The swing may miss—most often it does—but the grunt, never. Omaha fans will remember how Luis grunted in the late unpleasantness with Homer Smith. He was a big league grunter then, and now he has improved 1,000 per cent. His grunts in the training camp at Atlantic City almost drown out the boom of the surf on the beach.

Dempsey Outpointed. Dempsey has been known to do some grunting as he slips home his left hook, but it never was in the class with Firpo's and it is one point where the champion may as well make up his mind he will be outpointed.

A new arrival in New York today was Mons. Jack Kearns, the famous financier, who did so much to solve the financial problems of the state of Montana. Kearns did not expect to duplicate his Montana coup here in New York. The bucket shops here have beaten him to it.

Kearns has left the Dempsey camp and will remain here until after the fight. He has much to do. His most important job will be to count Dempsey's earnings, which, judging from the advance sale of tickets, probably will keep him fairly busy until after Friday.

Taper Off Training. Both Dempsey and Firpo have begun to taper off their training, and Wednesday likely will see little real work done in either camp. Then Thursday, with the exception of a little exercise, will be a day of rest.

Dempsey has been working his head off in the training camp, whereas Firpo has been taking things about as easily as he dared.

Firpo apparently has the same intense dislike for training that most fighters have. Dempsey, no doubt, possesses the same feeling, but he is able to overcome it, although it is true that Dempsey seldom obtains sparring partners capable of making him go at top speed. His sparring partners at Saratoga have been of the usual caliber and quite unequal to the task of improving the champion's boxing powers in any way.

The same applies to Firpo's camp, only more so. In addition, Firpo has shirked his other responsibilities, particularly road work. Dempsey does road work. He goes on the road each morning and he runs.

Firpo's favorite exercise is to go for a walk on the board walk and he merely jogs along or walks. Mostly he walks. Firpo has been eyeing and one is better able to appreciate the attractions of the beach at Atlantic City when proceeding at a most leisurely gait.

Firpo also did a little exercising via the wheel-chair route, which is admirable exercise for a lazy man or a sufferer from chronic rheumatism. If Friday night's championship fight is destined to go the full distance of 15 rounds, it's a cinch Dempsey is the better prepared of the two to keep going at full speed.

Tommy Gibbons today cut loose with a prophesy on the outcome of the bout. He predicts the Argentinian will pass out of the picture within six rounds. Tommy declares Firpo is over-matched, that he hasn't had the experience, that he lacks the speed, etc. In other words, Tommy is intimating that he himself could take Louis Angel to a trimming. Well, maybe he can.

Physicians late today said there had been no change for the better since he was stricken. He is 68 years old.

Dr. Callfas Urges Probe of Dineen and Wappich

Governor Bryan Should Investigate Anti-Saloon League Charges, Says Omaha Woman.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Sept. 11.—Dr. Jennie Callfas of Omaha declared today that in her opinion Governor Charles W. Bryan should demand an investigation of charges preferred against Police Judges William Wappich and Frank Dineen by E. A. High, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. "Truthfully, I don't know whether they are true or not," Doctor Callfas said. "But so much has been printed about them, so many charges have been preferred that I believe it would be a good thing for all concerned if an investigation were held. If Governor Bryan asks me anything about it I shall tell him exactly what I said today."

The chief object of the visit of Doctor Callfas was to intercede in behalf of McKinley Madison, who appeared before the Anti-Saloon League and paroled today seeking a parole. "The boy has worked for me and friends of mine for years in Omaha and there isn't anything criminal in his makeup," Doctor Callfas said. "He got drunk one day and forged a check for $100.00. I don't think it is fair to keep him in jail until after Friday."

Both Dempsey and Firpo have begun to taper off their training, and Wednesday likely will see little real work done in either camp. Then Thursday, with the exception of a little exercise, will be a day of rest.

One House Legislature Proposed

New Proposal to Be Pushed at Initiative Election by Senator Otto Mutz of Lincoln.

By P. C. POWELL, Staff Correspondent The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Sept. 11.—The list of laws to be initiated at the next election received an addition today. State Senator Otto Mutz of Lincoln announced that he had prepared petitions for referring a one-house legislature to voters in 1924. The list of referendums for 1924 follows:

Repeal of civil administrative code and substitution of executive council plan of government, by Governor Charles W. Bryan. Repeal of intangible tax law, by Governor Bryan. Set of new water power bills on initiative, by Governor Bryan. One-house legislature, by Former State Senator Mutz.

Mutz says that Congressman Edgar Howard of Columbus had endorsed his plan. He has written to J. N. Norton of Polk for a similar endorsement. Norton introduced a similar bill when in the legislature several years ago. Such a bill was introduced in the legislature last winter by Hardin of Franklin. United States Senator George W. Norris has urged a similar plan. Mutz plans to eliminate the state senate. He would have the house of representatives with its present membership of 100, the sole law making body and would place the lieutenant governor in command. The Norris plan is to eliminate one body entirely and reduce the size of the other by one-half, or more. Senator Norris would extend the length of the law-making period and would also increase the present salaries of state law makers. A committee of 29 will be appointed to circulate the petitions. Alanson Chapman of Lincoln will be secretary.

Ad-Sell Speaker Pleads for Union

Chicago Man Says Present Civilization Rests on Co-Operation.

Another plea for co-operation was voiced Monday night by Ralph Parlette of Chicago, in a talk before the members of the Omaha Advertising and Selling league at Hotel Fontaine. "Civilization rests on co-operation," he said. "Farmers, employers and employees must work together to obtain the highest civilization. Most of the farmers' woes can be traced to individualism. He declared the home to be the best institution in the world and the basis of society. Modern civilization has been based on a tendency to solidify the home. He urged business as a whole to get in tune. Harry Watts presided at the meeting, which was attended by 500 persons.

Fund to Aid Quake Victims Nears Goal

Washington, Sept. 11.—Officials of the American Red Cross estimated this afternoon that more than $5,000,000 for relief work in Japan would be subscribed before the end of the day. The total at noon was placed at $4,544,000, which included a check for $25,000 from Robert S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific railroad.

Washington, Sept. 11.—After a conference yesterday with President Coolidge, Chairman Adams of the republican national committee said the committee probably would meet in Washington in December to select a place for the 1924 national republican convention. All the cities that have issued invitations will be given a full hearing, Mr. Adams said. He added, however, that a final decision would be deferred until satisfactory assurance had been given with regard to hotel rates and other charges.

Red Cross Near Fund Goal.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The $500,000 quota assigned the central division of the American Red Cross for the Japanese relief fund will probably be exceeded within a few days, according to Red Cross officials, who said many chapters are planning to double their quotas. Division headquarters here today reported $674,000 had been contributed in the 19 states of the division. With Chicago leading, Detroit, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Des Moines, Helena, Springfield and Omaha are reaching and exceeding their quotas, officials said.

Glass So Transparent

Henry A. Fettesir suffered a concussion of the hip Tuesday afternoon when he walked into a pane of plate glass which workmen were carrying across the sidewalk in front of the McCrory 10-cent store on Sixteenth street near Farnam.

Following the collision a crowd collected. A woman, whose name police did not learn, screamed that someone had stolen her purse containing $11. Fettesir was taken to police station. He appeared dazed. He told police he had no occupation and that he lived at 3301 Howard street. "How do you live?" they asked him. "I have an income."

Youth Hurt in Auto Spill Held for $600 Theft

Son of Hartington Prosecutor and Omaha Boy Suspected of Looting County Treasury.

Edward Cahow, 18, 2541 North Fortyninth street, and Scott Millard, 19, son of the county attorney at Hartington, Neb., were placed under arrest by Pottawattamie county deputy sheriffs early yesterday as suspects in the robbery of $600 from the safe in the county treasurer's office at Hartington Monday night. The boys were arrested while in the mercy hospital, Council Bluffs, suffering from injuries received when their automobile crashed with another car three miles north of Council Bluffs on the Lincoln highway. The safe in the treasurer's office was robbed during the night. The combination had been worked. The robbery was discovered by Adolph Matson Jr., deputy county treasurer, when he went to the office yesterday. The time lock on the vault and safe had not been set. Officers were sent to have taken between $250 and $300 from the clothing of the boys after they reached the hospital. Both denied connection with the robbery, declaring they had spent the night in Sioux City and were on their way to Omaha at the time of the accident. The accident occurred when the boys turned a corner at high speed on the wrong side of the road, according to a witness, and crashed into a motor car driven by D. E. Johnson, 1517 Co. street. Two wheels were knocked off the boys' car and it plunged into the ditch. Neither is considered seriously injured. Sheriff Peter Clarence of Hartington was given orders to quiz the boys soon after he had heard of the accident. Scott Millard was appointed deputy county treasurer at Hartington in January and quit the position to resume his study of law at the University of Omaha.

Pact With Germany Would Spell End of Reparations

France, However, Would Gain Advantage Grip on Great Industries of Western Europe. By Universal Service. Paris, Sept. 11.—"If France accepts Germany's industrial entente offer, which is expected to be made within the next 24 hours, it will end France's hope of getting any indemnity. It will also mean that the Ruhr was invaded for nothing, and that Premier Poincare's policy of 'making Germany pay' will have failed." This opinion of a high official is echoed in many political quarters close to the government. While the acceptance of Chancellor Stresemann's offer will signalize the defeat and failure of the Poincare aggressive policy, incidentally impairing France's chance of collecting reparations running into billions, it will be a real, constructive victory for French big business. With her Gallic talons sheathed in Ruhr mines and other German industries, the French comite des forges will become literally the ally of the Stinnes and Thyssen groups in Germany, which explains the perturbation of Britain. This alliance, however, will work two ways. It will give France a grip on the industry of Europe, but on the other hand, the very existence of the Franco-German business pact will inevitably handicap the French government in obtaining reparations. That is why Premier Poincare refused Chancellor Cuno's economic pact offer of last December, and that is why he is struggling against the present efforts to force his hand.

Kansas Judges Reap Harvest by Marrying Nebraska Couples

Smith Center, Kan., Sept. 11.—Probate judges in Kansas counties bordering on Nebraska are reaping a harvest in fees for marrying Nebraska couples, who balk at giving 10 days notice of their intention to wed, as the new law in their home state provides. The probate judge here marries from one to a half dozen such couples daily, and they are increasing. Some of them come as far as 200 miles, and appear greatly elated with the thought of having "cheated" the Nebraska law.

U. S. Ship Is Halted by Italians

Liner President Wilson Held by Military Pending Decision Whether to Seize Greek Passengers. Action Is Protested

By Universal Service. London, Sept. 11.—The United States liner President Wilson, which arrived at Naples last Friday, was boarded by a detachment of Italian carabinieri. It was learned tonight. The American vessel was not allowed to depart until the Rome government decided whether to seize all the Greeks of military age among the 400 passengers bound for Greece. The captain of the President Wilson protested against the action as a violation of the law of nations. The ship and its passengers were allowed to depart after being held for several hours. The newspaper Secolo, of Naples, was suppressed for publishing the story of the occurrence.

May Seize Fiume.

Paris, Sept. 11.—It is understood from information gathered in reliable sources that Premier Mussolini will proclaim the annexation of Fiume to Italy within a week, probably about September 15. The government of Jugo-Slavia is reported as being aware of Mussolini's intention and as intending to make no serious protest provided Porto Barros and Susak, adacant, are not directly affected.

Rome, Sept. 11.—Best informed opinion here is that Italy will refuse any mediation of the settlement of the Fiume question with Jugo-Slavia, as proposed by the latter. Italy, it is declared, intends to deal directly with Jugo-Slavia, in line with the demands made for a settlement, setting September 15 as the date for a reply, even employing forceful means if necessary to end what it regards as an intolerable situation imperiling peace.

Italian Fleet Off Albania.

The conference between M. De Margerie and Chancellor Stresemann will be continued. Any proposition received by France from Chancellor Stresemann will be communicated immediately to the British and other allied governments.
