Two Detectives Work Night and Day on Case—Cars of Prominent Omahans Looked Over.

Police are still searching for the bandits who robbed two messengers transporting the Metropolitan Utilities district payroll last Saturday. Every member of the department is under orders to run down every clue.

The bandits who are being sought are now known to have followed the paymaster's machine from the bank to a point in Florence. The street car which struck the bandit car at Twenty-fourth and Sprague streets has been located and all persons known to have seen the bandits have been questioned.

Lieut. A. C. Aderson, head of the battalion department, and Detective Joe Wavrin are working day and night. Wild rumors abound and all are being chased down.

Twelve Cadillac cars with broken or new right rear fenders have been examined. Most of the cars are owned by prominent citizens and none proved to be the bandit car.

Lieutenant Anderson told of one man who rushed into the police station and breathlessly told of a five-passenger car which was equipped with a new fender. The lieutenant found that the automobile was one owned by a merchant and was parked daily on Farnam street. The break in the fender was months old, the detective said.

"We get all kinds of calls," the officer said. "It is necessary to check all of them up but when that is done the result is often amusing."

Jap Fund at Goal but More Needed

Washington, Sept. 12.—The $5,000,000 originally asked of the American people for Japanese earthquake sufferers, was exceeded by more than $100,000 yesterday, as contributions continued to pour in from every section of the country, but Red Cross officials sent forth the word that continued support of the public was necessary.

A total of $5,108,300 had been pledged when the books were closed for the day. The executive committee of the Red Cross announced, however, that late advices on the extent of the catastrophe made it clear that the sum originally asked for would be inadequate, and the campaign for funds would be continued.

Three of the country's divisions to which the work of collecting money was allotted, exceeded their quotas on the first $5,000,000. They were the Washington, Central and New England divisions. The Washington region reported $3,014,000 against a quota of $2,900,000; the Central gathered $801,000 with a quota of $800,000, and New England showed returns of $400,000 against $350,000 asked.

The mother, Mrs. Iva Gannaway, brought action to regain custody of Doris, alleging that the Kerrigan home was not the proper place for the child. She wept today as testimony was given to show she smoked cigarettes and drank.

"How can they say it?" she moaned, "when they know it isn't true?" Judge Day refused to permit Doris to testify.
