

Concrete Plugged.
Akron, Sept. 15.—Patterned after the old custom of "plugging" a watermelon before paying for it, a machine has been devised to remove a plug from concrete work. Such a machine has been purchased by the city to make a check on the contractors doing public work and to check on the inspectors. It has been dubbed by the city officials as an "honesty machine," for it shows up the quality of the concrete work.

Lightning Rips Off Steeple.
Columbia, Mo., Sept. 15.—One side of the steeple of a local church was ripped off in a freak electrical storm which swept Columbia, the lightning reaching down to peck at the tips of three buildings, but doing no great damage.
