

Omaha's Biggest Industry

A photographic study of the Omaha packing houses by Ernest Bihler.

Government inspectors examining newly killed hogs

Skimming hams to improve appearance and remove excess of fat.

Boiling and pre-passing selected ham for picnic and luncheon use.

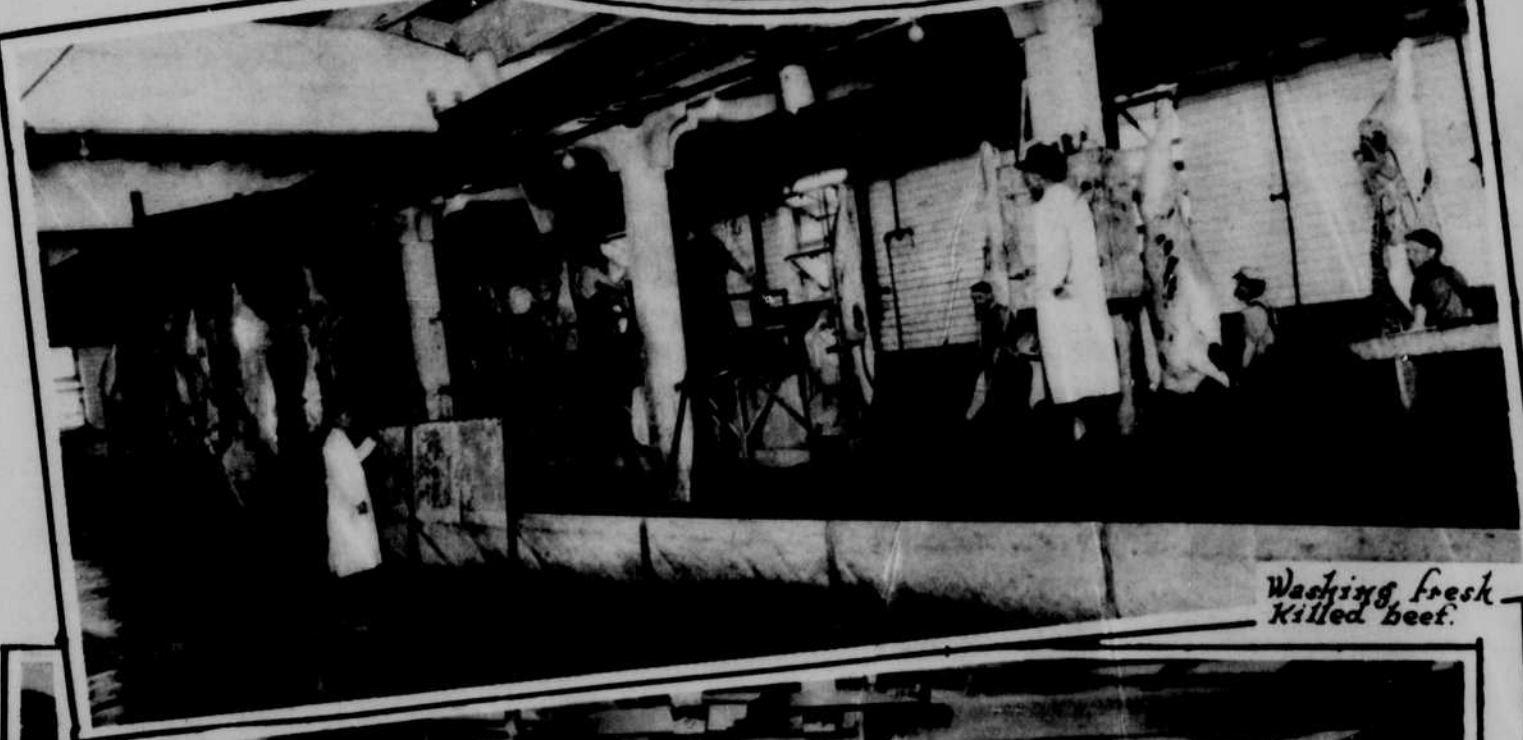

Making glue

Trimming up and grading bacon

Trimming pork loins

Washing fresh killed beef

Packing dry sausage for domestic and foreign use.

Cooling leaf lard