

County Board to Investigate Prisoners' Riot

Commissioners Will Inspect Damage to Jail and Menu Served to the Inmates.

County commissioners will investigate today the damage to plumbing and other fixtures in tier No. 2 of the county jail, caused by rioting of prisoners Sunday morning.

Several commissioners expressed themselves as being indignant over reports that prisoners are not receiving efficient food. Two prisoners departed Monday that the riot was directly due to the "short" portions of food served to them Saturday. They declared the 36 prisoners in tier No. 2 had decided to go on a hunger strike.

"We are feeding inmates, nurses and good meals a day for much less than the sheriff receives for feeding the prisoners," said County Commissioner Kubat. "It would mean a saving of thousands a year to the county to take the feeding of prisoners out of the hands of the sheriff and place the purchase of prison food directly in the hands of the county."

"We are going to look into the damage done to the jail, and also into the feeding matter," said Commissioner Matt, who is chairman of the court house building committee. "We may go quite a ways before we're through investigating."

Sheriff Endres yesterday refused to make public the jail menu for last Saturday. He denied, however, that he was making any large profit on the 50 cents a day which is allowed him for feeding each prisoner, and asserted that at times the food served the individual prisoner costs more than 50 cents a day.

Pageant Is Planned for Teacher's Meet

"The Enchanted Year," a pageant depicting the four seasons in Nebraska, will be one of the features of the coming convention of the members of district 2 of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, which is to be held in Omaha October 31 to November 3.

Students of the four Omaha high schools will present the pageant at the Auditorium Friday evening November 2. It will be in the nature of a musical fantasy in four parts. Part one, "Spring Magic" will be presented by Benson high school; part two, "Midsummer Eve," by Central high school; part three, "Gifts of Autumn," by South high school, and part four, "Winter Festival," by Technical high school. Preparations are being made for the reception and entertainment of several hundred school teachers of Nebraska during the annual convention.

Among the speakers will be Walter W. Head, Dr. J. J. Tigert, Dr. E. P. Cumberly, Miss Maude McBroom, Miss Clara O. Wilson, Homer C. Smith, J. H. Beveridge, President W. F. State Teachers' college, and others.

A regular passenger airplane service has been established between London and Prague.

"Wonder Girl" Uses Gift of Prophecy to Speculate With Wall Street Stocks

Eugene Dennis.

Atchison, Kan., Sept. 25.—Miss Eugene Dennis, "wonder girl," has turned her talent for predicting the future into cash. She's playing the stock market, using her gift of clairvoyance instead of inside tips.

Miss Dennis who has been making a tour of the country answering questions propounded by theater audiences, returned to her home in Atchison recently, for a visit with the "home folks" after which she will go to New York where, she says, a bunch of experts will examine her. She entered the office of an Atchison newspaper the other day and casually asked: "How's steel?" "What's that?" inquired a reporter. "Steel, United States steel. Was there a break after a slow opening?" she went on.

She says that the show business is a "hard life." "I've cut my former manager loose stocks are the berries right now. We've been selling short but we're about ready to climb on for an upward swing.

"Once we had a line on 50,000 bushels of wheat. We first sold short and then rode back making double profit. We're leaving wheat alone for a spell."

Miss Dennis states that the offer she has received from a motion picture corporation will be rejected.

"If my gift of picking sure things on the market keeps up," she said, "no more footlights for Eugene."

Incidentally, after closing out at 30 on 1,000 bales of cotton, bought at 23 3/4, Miss Dennis intends to purchase a new automobile with her share.

Eugene appeared at one of the Omaha motion picture houses a year ago last February. At that time she was 18, according to David P. Abbott, 3216 Center street, at whose home she stopped while in Omaha. Mr. Abbott invited the girl here to display her power of thought reading.

$300,000 Cash for Bank Site

Guarantee Fund Life Association Buys Former Home of Nebraska National.

J. C. Buffington, president of the Guarantee Fund Life association, a locally organized insurance association, Tuesday paid $300,000 in cash for the former Nebraska National bank site at the southwest corner of Eighteenth and Douglas streets.

The Calkins company handled the transaction which brought to an end at noon today after conferences extending over more than 30 days.

"We will spend more than $100,000 for improvements before we take over the building," said Mr. Buffington. The transaction is one of the biggest of the year, according to Clifford Calkins of the Calkins company.

"Kid Wild West" Acts Part.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 25.—"Kid Wild West" unmasked and brandishing a large and glistening revolver, suddenly stepped inside the restaurant of "Tony, the Chili King" (A. Petrucci) here at midnight, and took $20 from a cash register while Tony and two assistants were backed against the wall, their hands held high.

"Tony's" place is in the central part of the business district. The bandit escaped.

Big Oklahoma City Fire.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 25.—Damage estimated at $100,000 was caused last night by a fire which swept three upper floors of a downtown building occupied by the Sigmon Furniture Manufacturing company.

Because of the acute unemployment situation in Sweden, skilled workmen are crowding ships bound for America.

Good Executive Is Real Teacher

Cleveland Business Expert Addresses Ad-Sell League on "Just Business."

"The good executive is primarily a teacher," said E. Elmo Martin of Cleveland, in his talk on "Just Business" before the Ad-Sell league at its dinner at the Hotel Fontenelle Monday night.

He continued: "In our efforts to sell our ideas to the man above, and to sell our ideas to the men and women under our direction, it is well to remember that: 'You cannot take an idea out of a man's mind; the best you can do is to proceed to put another idea into his mind.'"

"No man can transmit, with exact precision, a thought which he has, to the mind of another."

"As an executive thinketh so he is. Men seek to justify their actions on motives other than those that impel the act."

"The good executive will put it in writing."

"A man's understanding depends almost entirely on his mental attitude," Mr. Martin declared. "Seventy-five per cent of needed supervision and possibly 75 per cent of friction is due to misunderstandings, and both can be materially reduced if the executive will come to know and regard the fundamental facts of human nature in his dealings with his co-workers—the people above and the people below," he said.

"A good executive in order to be able to manage his subordinates must have the knowledge of the technique of the business, must know how to handle himself and his own work and how to multiply himself through others."

Snowy Baker, headliner at the Orpheum this week spoke also. Being an Australian, he described that country. He said Australia was highly unionized, about the only union not represented being a policemen's union. Most of the Australian public utilities are municipally owned, he declared.

J. J. McCloskey presided at the meeting.

Dr. S. B. MacDiarmid, chairman of the membership committee, spoke briefly on the drive for 299 new members, which started last night.

The Stellar Saxophone quintet, now at the Rialto theater, gave several numbers.

Million Marks Worth But Purchasing Power Little Over Half-Cent

$4 as Waste Paper

New York, Sept. 25.—One million German marks were worth seventieths of 1 cent as currency in New York, but 1,000,000 of the old 1-mark notes, sold as waste paper here, would bring about $4. Thousands of these old mark notes still are held in this country as souvenirs, but they are valueless so far as purchasing power is concerned.

No Omaha Women to Attend Meet

Local Congressional Union Has Been Inactive for Several Years.

Omaha women will not attend the national woman's party convention which has been called for December 1 to 3 in Washington for the purpose of making efforts for the passage of the proposed equal rights amendment to the constitution, on account of lack of active work of the local group.

The convention was called by the executive council in Colorado Springs on September 24.

More than 150 Omaha women joined the Congressional Union for suffrage at the time of its introduction to Omaha in 1917 when a luncheon was held at the Blackstone hotel.

Life membership for the organization which was later known as the national woman's party, was taken out by the women present at the cost of 25 cents each.

Among the prominent women who joined at that time are: Mesdames Halleck Rose, E. S. Wood, Alfred E. Lick, Fred Cusaden, W. H. Hester, J. B. Thompson, E. L. Burke, C. W. Russell, John L. Kennedy, John Metcalfe, C. O. Talmage, J. H. Dumont, F. H. Cole, Alfred Darlow, E. C. Twanley, H. H. Stevens, Cuthbert Vincent, Victor Coffman, A. W. Bowman, Harry Morrow, George Sumner, A. C. Anderson, Warren Blackwell and Mrs. C. E. Johannes.

Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, now of New York City, was chairman. A few luncheons were held following the meeting.

lowing that date but no important work was done by the political body. When suffrage was obtained in the state of Nebraska all local interest dropped. Mrs. Johannes is now in New York City, but will return November 1, so she will be unable to attend the meeting in Washington.

Move for Beer.
Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 25.—Moderation of the Volstead act to permit the sale of beer and wine under government distribution for use only in the home will be urged at the next session of congress by petitions from every state in the union. Plans for opening the campaign were begun last night with the organization of Moderation League of Minnesota at a meeting of a group of citizens from all parts of the state.
