

Two Murderers Attack Officer Attempt at Jail Delivery in Dallas Fails as Two Convicts Die.

By International News Service. Dallas, Tex., Sept. 27.—Two men already condemned to die, are dead, and another perhaps fatally wounded, as the result of an attempted jail delivery here last night.

The dead: C. E. Gaines, occupant of the "death house," to be hanged for murder; Willie Champion, assistant jailer.

Critically injured: Peter Welk, facing 40-year sentence for complicity in a murder.

The jail delivery had been carefully planned and the prisoners were given outside aid.

When Jailer Champion opened a tier of cells to make an inspection, he was confronted by Gaines and Welk, both armed with sixshooters.

Champion tried to disarm them. Both prisoners opened fire and Champion fell with bullets through the body. He died shortly afterwards in a hospital.

Other officers, attracted by shooting, rushed to the jail corridor. A gun battle ensued.

Gaines was instantly killed. Welk, shot several times, was taken to a hospital, where today it was stated he probably would die.

Prior to the shooting, officials learned a large automobile circled the jail a number of times. The machine, it was believed, was to be used by prisoners in making their get away in case the jail delivery was a success.

Investigation Under Way. Where the prisoners obtained their weapons was a mystery.

An investigation was under way today. Gaines had been condemned to die in connection with the robbery of the Jackson street postoffice, two years ago, when a postal clerk was killed and over a million dollars taken. The money was later recovered.

Gaines' home was in Indianapolis, where his mother lived. Authorities are trying to locate her.

Welk had been sentenced for complicity in a shooting affair near Garland, Tex., several months ago. A deputy sheriff was killed in a battle with prohibition officers during the melee.

Omaha Grain

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Wheat trade flat today. Chicago bullion today and unloading by long carriers the market was firm on wheat. The reaction of disconcerting from a bull standpoint and profit taking the leading cereal gave a demand unchanged to 1/4c higher. Oak was strong to 1/4c higher and barley and rye 1/4c lower and barley firm and unchanged.

The strength of September and December contracts in Chicago today and the future's market today and prices during the season. Shorts in new high fair commission house demand. Wheat, however, continued to drag and while the market declined and traders were less bearish they were waiting and holding little on either side. Pressure increased on the upturn. Many traders considered the advance enough for the time being and felt that the market was entitled to a reaction.
