in the Second avenue school. This school building was used as an army canteen during the war.

City Health Officer C. H. Bowser issued a warning not to use water from wells until it is boiled. He says this should be continued for 30 days.

Engineers at Work.

The Bluffs city engineering department wasted no time in starting to remedy the flood conditions. From a sewer drain at Seventeenth and Broadway workers removed much old furniture—parts of chairs and tables. This sewer, when cleaned out, should drain the district between Thirteenth and Twentieth streets north of Broadway. It is believed.

Tons of pavement were washed out by the torrents of water in the hilly districts. Street piles of bricks were lodged at the foot of Harrison street on Washington avenue. In some places the torrent had made large holes in the pavement. Hundreds of stalled automobiles were seen Saturday night in all parts of the city.

Fire apparatus was used in pumping out basements in the downtown district all day Saturday. The work was of little avail, however, for the Saturday night rains refilled the basements.

To add to the already serious condition a water main at Sixteenth and Avenue A broke, raising the level of the water even higher in that vicinity.

Groceries were being delivered on rafts to some homes isolated by the floods.

Guard Ordered Out.

The three Council Bluffs companies of the Iowa National guard were being mobilized at the armory last night. The call for mobilization was sent out by Maj. Polson Everest, battalion commander of the guard.

The guardsmen will remain at the armory until Monday morning, and then dismissed if no further emergency arises. Major Everest said about 100 men are expected to report. Motor cars and boats will be placed at strategic points for emergency purposes.

Disarmament Plan Submitted by League

By Associated Press.

Geneva, Sept. 29.—The league of nations assembly today voted to forward to all the governments for their examination and opinion the draft of the treaty of mutual assistance among the nations, the fundamental note of the pact being disarmament in proportion to national security.

Dr. Urrutia, Colombia shared the often voiced view that real progress would be made when the work of the international justice more nearly universal arbitration was made common.

He reminded the assembly of the view that war is avoided by proclamation of solutions but only by or a modern forces which war in such a way that emergency arises these employed practically.

Reserve in 3 Corps.

Sept. 29.—Members of the naval reserve organization were organized into three units approved by Secretary of the Navy.

The reserve, which is to be organized into three units, will be amalgamated with the regular reserve, the other organizations being merged into the regular reserve.

Method Heals Rupture

City Doctor's Discovery Makes Truss or Operation Unnecessary.

St. Louis, Mo.—(Special)—A discovery which, experts agree, is equal in curative effects in rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of Dr. Andrews, the well-known Hernia specialist of this city. His extraordinary success in this method proves that it holds and holds a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces, no elastic bands, no leg bands, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has healed hundreds of persons to throw away their trusses and declare their ruptures absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of The Bee who writes him at his office, 1503 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today.—Advertisement.

Fortune of $150,000 Is Said to Have Been Built on $10,000 Theft

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Samuel Kofman of Ellenburg, Wash., said to be wanted there for stealing merchandise valued at $10,000 from W. G. Curtis two years ago, was arrested here today, posing as a man of the name of Hoffman. According to the police, Kofman since coming to Chicago two years ago invested the proceeds of the sale of the merchandise, and now owns an apartment building valued at $150,000.

H. G. Wells to Contribute Regularly to The Sunday Bee, Starting Today

Beginning today, H. G. Wells, British writer, and author of "Outlines of History," will become a regular contributor to The Omaha Sunday Bee.

First of a series of articles from his pen will be found on page 5, section D of this issue.

Mr. Wells has gained for himself a reputation as a thinker and political economist, and is referred to as an authority on his chosen subjects. His articles, appearing exclusively in Omaha in The Sunday Bee, will deal with a variety of subjects, and will present the author's views and opinions, together with his deductions from facts, with a clarity and force which is the charm of all his work.

Abduction of Girl by Chinese Bandits Confirmed

Shanghai, Sept. 29.—The China inland mission today received from its mission at Chowkiakow, Honan province, a letter confirming the capture by bandits on September 22 of Miss Mary Darroch and Miss Mary R. Sharp, missionaries, together with several mission school girls and other persons, at Sinwashan in the same province.

The letter said the bandits captured and looted the place after which they carried the women and girls off to the mountains where the letter said they were being held for $10,000 ransom. Troops are reported to have been dispatched from Yencheng in search of the outlaws.

Miss Darroch has been in missionary work in China for 25 years. She came from Glasgow, Scotland. Miss Sharp is from Australia.

Motion Pictures of Japan Disaster at Sun Theater

First pictures of the Japanese earthquake will be shown at the Sun theater Sunday starting at 11 a. m. Rivers choked with the dead, Tokio and Yokohama in flames, homeless refugees fleeing are some of the scenes that will be in the film. These first pictures of the earthquake are sent to Omaha by the International News service.

other son, were seriously injured. The four were at their ranch home when the tornado struck.

These four additional deaths brought the storm's toll in Nebraska to 14 persons. Serious injuries to other persons which may result in deaths and the possibility that still other fatalities may be discovered may increase the list, however.

Blue River Rising.

The Blue river at Beatrice was reported still rising last night. The city wells at Zimmerman Springs caved in as a result of the high water of the river, making the water unfit for consumption.

Advice from Crete were to the effect that the river had become stationary after rising to a level of 76 inches over the dam there. This is the highest in the town's history. The two river bridges at Crete are closed to traffic.

It was raining north and west of Beatrice up the valley last night, indicating the possibility of still higher water in Beatrice.

At Barnston, 25 miles down the valley from Beatrice, it was reported at the Beatrice Power company's plant there that the river was still rising. It had risen 11 feet within 24 hours there.

Reports from Lincoln state that the bottoms of the capital city are under four feet of water over an area of five miles by three miles. In some sections the water in this district rose so rapidly that many families were prepared to flee on a moment's notice. Five feet of water was standing in the basement of the new capitol building Saturday morning. Engineers stated it will require two days to pump this water out.

From Columbus comes the report that high winds have flattened the corn, and that rain has washed the corn in many fields out by the roots. The report from Columbus continues: "Windmills have been blown away. Humphrey a heavy gust of wind swept through, scattering and breaking off trees and unroofing barns."

"The little red schoolhouse, a landmark for 43 years, five miles northwest of Monroe, Neb., was smashed to pieces with all contents by a twister during the heavy storm which swept the county. The loss exceeds $2,000."

Bolt Hits School.

Postville's new schoolhouse, north of Monroe, was completely destroyed by fire resulting from a bolt of lightning. The loss is estimated at $3,000.

"Lookingglass creek, which crosses the Spalding-Cedar Rapids line, north of Monroe, came over its banks and covered the tracks of the Union Pacific. Plum creek, which runs south, crossing the Union Pacific between Fullerton and Genoa, near Meadison, gave the Union Pacific no end of trouble because of its overflow waters attacking the bridge approaches."

"With the continued rains of two days, the waters of the Cedar river threatened the lowlands. Union Pacific trainmen and employes last night demanded the opening of the gates at the big Fullerton power dam to give the water a free sweep downstream, and thus avoid washing out the tracks."

"Shell creek waters are rising and the Union Pacific is making special preparations to meet the emergency where the creek crosses the right-of-way near Schuyler."

"Trunk lines of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company are badly damaged. In many places along the Cedar river and creeks terminating in the Loup, the lowlands are fast filling with water. Several bolts of lightning have struck in the city and railroad yards are crowded with waiting freight which the roads are holding along the main line of the Union Pacific because of the congested conditions at Council Bluffs."

Ten Bodies Recovered.

The drowning of 12 persons in one house at Louisville, Neb., remains the outstanding tragedy of the great storm. These 12 persons were assembled in the home of Robert McCarter to mourn the death of Mrs. Mary McCarter, whose funeral had just been concluded. Ten of the bodies have been recovered.

The shriek of women and children, mingling with the deeper cries of the men, and heard above the crash of timbers and the rush of an angry flood, stand out in the memory of O. E. Baker, 525 South Twenty-fifth avenue who was in the near vicinity when the creek overflowed its banks at Louisville.

Mr. Baker was in a hotel 40 feet from the raging torrent, yet, he says, the water reached the hotel, and flooded the lobby. Guests took refuge on the stairways where they could watch the rising flood. For two long hours they kept the anxious vigil. Finally, at 9:30, the water began to subside.

"It is hard to appreciate what it feels like to be caught in such a plight," said Mr. Baker. "For a time it seemed as though none of us would live to tell the story."

Man Suffers Three Broken Ribs When Struck by Auto

F. K. Olson, 4707 North Twenty-ninth street, suffered three fractured ribs when he was struck early this afternoon at Thirtieth and Fowler streets by a car driven by Mrs. M. Ford, wife of a non-commissioned officer at Fort Omaha.

He was carried to his home and given medical attention.

Mrs. Ford said that he stopped when he saw her coming, and then, after she speeded up to pass by, he started to run across the street, and was knocked down.

Methodists to Spend Big Sum for Educational Purposes

Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—More than $1,500,000 will be spent by the Methodist Episcopal church for educational purposes during the next five years in Arizona, Nevada and California, under authority of resolutions adopted here today at the annual conference of the church. The university of Arizona is one of the institutions at which a part of the money will be spent.

Seven Tremors Felt in Nippon; Panics Result

Kobe Among Towns Rocked—Small Japanese Banks Face Ruin—Railroad Connects Yokohama.

Tokio, Sept. 29.—Seven earthquakes occurred shortly before 6 this morning. Telephone messages from Osaka stated that the tremors caused a small panic there, although no mention was made of actual damage being done. The shocks were sharpest at Arima, Kyoto and Kobe. It is believed the disturbances originated in the inland sea.

It is announced that the Japanese clearing house will reopen October 16, when it is feared it will be ascertained that a number of weaker banks have suffered severely as a result of the earthquake and fire.

The Nichi Nichi, editorially, believes that the earthquake dealt a death blow to many of the smaller institutions. Some of the banks have already appealed to the Bank of Japan for assistance on the ground that it is jointly responsible, but it is not anticipated that this will be granted. Many of the small banks, it is said, were in a weak condition before the earthquake.

The Yokohama silk market showed a strong tone yesterday, prices advancing 50 yen per 1,000 kin. The total sales reached only 5,000 kin, owing to the scarcity of supplies.

Railway connection now has been made direct to Yokohama docks. The docks have been repaired temporarily, enabling liners to come alongshore. This permits supplies from America which are being handed over to an association of Japanese business men to be brought to Tokio by rail.
