Law Enforcement Is Made Aim of Woman's Club on 30th Birthday

Organization Banded for Service, Mrs. Phillip Potter, President, Says—Building Plans Discussed.

The Omaha Woman's club opened its 30th year Monday afternoon in the Business-Nash auditorium with an overflow attendance. Following a prayer by Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks, the club sang the general federation song, "America the Beautiful," led by Mrs. Grace Poole Steinberg with Mrs. John Haarman at the piano.

"We are banded together for service more than culture," said the president, Mrs. Phillip Potter, in her address of greeting. "Education, philanthropy and civics are our three great aims. We must work for law enforcement, which is the greatest question of the day."

Mrs. Potter urged each club woman to bring in at least one new member. "We want a permanent home and need one, and if we are to enlarge our club interests we must enlarge our membership," she stated.

Site Almost Paid For.
The club building site at Seventeenth and Jackson streets, purchased two years ago for $22,500, is practically paid for according to a report made by Mrs. C. L. Hempel. One thousand dollars is due on the property, $300 of which will be paid by November 5, she stated. The club has a membership of more than 500.

The constitution committee, Mrs. Hempel, chairman, recommended that the annual dues be raised from $4 to $6. This will be voted upon by the general club October 15. In order to interest the younger women of the city the club aims to add a junior section during the year.

The following delegates were elected to the annual meeting of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Beatrice October 23-26: Mesdames O. Y. Kring, James Bone, Grace Poole Steinberg, H. J. Holmes, James W. Hamberg, John Handberg, Charles T. Neale, R. H. Landeryou, M. C. Warren, George Fray and Miss Grace Thomas.

Alternate Delegates.
Alternates are Mesdames W. W. Davenport, Miller Prentice, Paul Meyers, Rodman Brown, L. M. Lord, J. M. Shively, H. J. Bailey, William Traver, R. E. McKelvey, C. R. Nugent and Miss Katherine Worley. Mrs. Potter is a delegate by virtue of her office.

In the absence of Mrs. Edgar Penney of Fullerton, president of the Nebraska federation, and Mrs. Ralph Brown of Crete, state chairman of applied education, J. L. McCrory, assistant superintendent of public schools, spoke on "Some Phases of Work in Omaha Schools." Nearly $14,000.00 is invested in local school buildings and grounds, Mr. McCrory told the club women.

"The expenditures last year amounted to $3,885,000 and it is expected it will cost approximately $3,826,000 to run the schools this year," he said. There are 38,000 children enrolled and a teaching force of 13,000.

Warns Against Dope.
"Of the 2,000,000 drug addicts in the United States 85 per cent are respectable men and women," declared Mrs. Wallace Reid, widow of the late motion picture star, who is appearing at the Sun this week in connection with the photoplay, "Human Wreckage."

"Drug addiction is a disease. It cannot be overcome by will power, but should be treated the same as tuberculosis and other diseases by competent medical men."

ments this morning for a relative of mine." "Yes, I know," she interpolated. "He told me. Of course I shouldn't say anything, but if I were in your place, I would take the one on the same side of the house as you are. The woman who has that to rent she is very clean about her rooms, while the other one on the other side—well I mustn't say anything, but I can't help having eyes! And I said to Schwartz, you were too nice and kind a lady to get into a place that you wouldn't like. But of course he has to show all the places to anybody that asks, that's his job, you know," she added a bit wistfully.

"Of course," I agreed heartily, "and I shall look at both of them. But I am sure I shall be very glad to take your advice, and thank you so much for giving me the hint." A flush came into her faded cheeks, and she looked at me with grateful eyes. I guessed that few callers came into her life, and she was making the most of my visit.

"It's no more than I ought to do," she said. "It's hard for a young thing like you, with no experience, to know all about rooms like these." "Woman-like I felt my heart warm to her at the absurd compliment. But I did not take time to contradict her. "It's awfully good of you to help me," I said humbly. "I've been wondering, since I saw your lovely kitchen, if I couldn't make some arrangement with you to help me out in another matter."

She shot a sudden keen look at me, and I realized that she was as shrewd as she was kindly. "What was it you wanted?" she asked cautiously.

"I have four people, relatives and friends, coming to visit me this evening," I explained. "There are reasons why I do not wish to take them to a restaurant, and you know I cannot manage much of a dinner on my gas-plate."

"I could not get dinner for you," she interrupted hastily. "It is all I can do to do my own cooking." "Oh!" I answered as hastily, "I didn't mean that. But I wondered if I couldn't rent your stove—especially your oven—for a few hours this afternoon?"

"For those who wish to lead the hygienic life, coffee and tea are not recommended, except for purely medicinal purposes. . . The only hygienic excuse for such drugs in emergencies cannot for some reason be done and natural aids cannot for some reason be employed, but always considered forming a habit of denying the brain, nervous system or muscles the rest which is their due."
