Snelling Troops Win Most Points in Army Field Day

Whisky, Army Horse, Does Tricks and Hurdles Table at Which Women Are Seated.

Like most everything else the army had a day. The day in this instance happened to be a field day and took place yesterday.

Everything started with a mammoth military parade at 10 in the morning. After the soldier boys had marched about the business district they repaired to the Ak-Sar-Ben field where the athletic events were scheduled to take place.

More than 10,000 persons gathered at the field to witness the event. The grandstand was packed and many stood on the ground. All the available space on the south and east sides of the grandstand was taken up with parked automobiles.

Troops from all parts of the Seventh Army Corps area took part in the events of the day. The Third Infantry from Fort Crook, took first place. Of all possible points they took 75 while the Seventeenth Infantry, Fort Crook, took second place with 37 points.

There were no records broken in any of the athletic events but the men showed the stuff they were made of when they ran until they fell exhausted rather than give in. Twice the winner of a foot race was carried from the field.

Monkey Drill Squad Thrills. The greatest thrills of the day, however, were provided by the mounted troops. The heavy artillery showed what going into action necessitated early in the afternoon. They drilled and wheeled and maneuvered about the infield and were rewarded with a good applause at the termination of their "act."

When the Fourteenth Cavalry crack monkey drill squad came on to the track the grandstanders began to sit up and take notice. The eight men, riding with surcingle and blanket, dismounted and mounted while the horses went at alope. They dismounted and then the riders were swiftly moving horses. They dismounted as their mount leaped over a hurdle and all the other things that every cavalryman is taught to do as soon as he is assigned to a mount. The tricks looked impossible to many of the spectators who had never gotten closer to a horse than the betting ring of a race track.

The three trained horses, Marshal Ney, Red Dog and Whisky, performed to perfection. Marshal Ney and Red Dog were content to do a little fancy hurdling but Whisky added a new trick. He swerved himself out as though dead at the command of Lieutenant Hazzler, his rider, leaped over a flaming hurdle, cleverly cleared a table at which five women were sitting, danced and generally performed. Whisky is a member of the army and reports to be the most intelligent horse that Uncle Sam owns. He is to be ridden in the polo games Thursday and Friday.

The day was considered a great success and steps are to be taken to make it an annual affair. The Third Infantry took most of the prizes this time and now the Seventeenth regiment wants a chance to get even.

Huskers in Good Shape for Illini

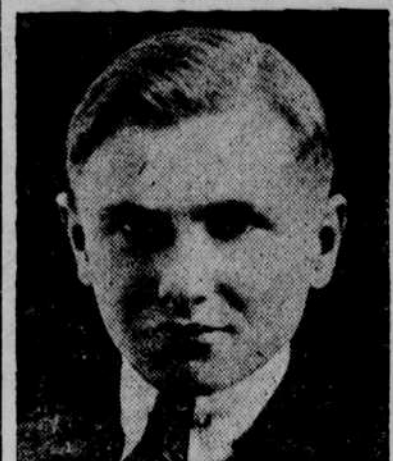

Lincoln, Oct. 2.—Another night of grueling work for the varsity candidates faced the Huskers Tuesday. The first and final of the first line men showed a big improvement over previous workouts. The freshmen, using Illinois formations, were sent against the varsity in scrimmage.

The line which has been doing duty on team A for the past two practices, has consisted of Rhodes and McAllister on the wings, Bassett and Goggin at tackle, Berquist and Ogden at guard, and Hutchinson at center. The backfield has been made up of Captain Lewellen at quarter, Noble and Herb DeWitt on the halves and Eliartman at fullback.

The freshmen were given the ball to start; they continued that way all during the scrimmage, although they were held for downs on several occasions. The Husker coaching staff has the offense fairly well oiled and they are concentrating on the defense.

The freshmen tried to batter their way through the line, resorted at times to passing and once completed a pass for 15 yards. They also tried kicking the ends.

TO RIDE ZEV

The above photo shows Earle Sande, the great American jockey and winner of the last Kentucky Derby, who has been picked to pilot Zev in the big race between Papyrus and Zev.

Say My Own Will Race Zev

Washington, Oct. 2.—Having turned down trainer Sam Hill's proposal to race Zev, Harry F. Sinclair's 3-year-old, against his Own at the mile and an eighth distance to determine the American entry against Papyrus, the English champion, Admiral Grayson offered for a race at the full mile and a half.

The owner of the elimination sweepstakes winner informed August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club, in a telegram last night that he would not enter Zev unless for the same distance as the international championship itself, adding that he stood by his proposal to race My Own against Zev for a mile and a half "at any time or place, with or without a purse."

Meanwhile time draws near to October 6, by which day the Jockey club committee charged with the responsibility must select the American horse to face Papyrus unless an elimination race between Zev and My Own is arranged in the meantime.

Cowboy Padgett Hears Birds Sing

Ray Alvis' chief bread-winner, Cowboy Padgett, tough Colorado welterweight, took the center of ten for the first time in his ring career last night at Chicago when he was knocked out in the third round of a scheduled 10-round fight by Sammie Freedman of Chicago.

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS PREPARING

Nine veterans back in fold this year, two of which are two-letter men. Coach Potsy Clark has wealth of material to whip into football machine by Saturday when Blue and White of Omaha meets first Valley team of season at Lawrence. Jayhawk coach has practically two full teams to put on field.

FORTY-SIX GRIDSTERS FOR CREIGHTON

LAWRENCE, KAN., Oct. 2.—The University of Kansas football team is slowly rounding into shape after two weeks of hard practicing and scrimmage under Head Coach George "Potsy" Clark and Assistant Coach Karl A. Schlademant.

The coaches are working the 46 prospects for this year's Jayhawk eleven overly hard to get them in shape for the first game of the season against the Creighton university eleven of Omaha. There are nine players back on Mount Oread this year, giving the coaches an abundance of material from which to build the 1923 team. Three of these nine are two-letter men. At present there are two combinations including two full teams which may be used by Coach Clark against Creighton in an effort to pick out those candidates which are showing the most promise.

The outstanding star on the K. U. squad this year is possibly Charlie Black, captain of the Jayhawk eleven. Black has played on Kansas teams at end for the past two seasons, but this year Coach Clark shifted him to quarterback and he gives promise of developing into one of the valley's best signal callers.

Harold Burt, who will be remembered from last year's team, will possibly be the best second-gainer on the Kansas team. Burt is being used at half, having been changed from full to allow Smith, a new man in the Kansas lineup, to occupy that position. Smith is a former Pittsburgh Normal man and he will do practically all the punting and dropkicking for K. U.

Other backfield men include Alex Hodges of Kansas City, Mo.; Walter Shannon and Harold Collier of last year's squad.

In the line Coach Clark has practically two full teams. On end is Max Krueger, a player who was shifted from the backfield to the wing; Melvin Griffin, a 2-year letter man; John McLean from last year's team; and Joe Pleasant, a new, husky lad who gives promise of playing in some of the Creighton game. At tackle is Mosby, Davidson and "Babe" Smith, all men of experience. Coach Clark has a wealth of material at guard with "Chub" Fraker, who tips the scales at 250 pounds; Fred Holderman, who weighs 225 pounds; E. H. Haley, 2-year letter man; C. Freeze, who has had considerable experience. John Lonberg is slated to again hold down the center position with the assistance of Virgil Severe and T. O. Sanborn.

Yes, Wild Bull of Pampas Has No Wife—Slip of Pen

New York, Oct. 2.—Yes, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" has no wife. Yes, Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine giant who almost became heavyweight boxing champion of the world but didn't, has no intention of becoming an American citizen.

As soon as he saw in newspapers today that he was entered on a naturalization blank yesterday when applying for his first American citizenship papers as "married," Luis telephoned the newspapers and explained that was a slip of the pen. His faithful interpreters had marked the blank correctly, but the stenographer was so thrilled in transcribing it that she made the error of a senior.

Also the interpreter explained, Senior Firpo, meant only to pay a courtesy to the American people by taking out citizenship papers and he did not know that he had to give up his Argentine citizenship. So, Senior Firpo will remain an Argentine, the interpreter says.

Buffaloes Back at Home Again

Herd to Split Up for the Usual Winter Avocations.

By RALPH WAGNER. Barney Burch and his fourth-place Omaha Buffaloes arrived in town last night from Tulsa, where the herd closed the Western league season by handing the Tulsa Oilers a double-header defeat, thereby putting the 1922 champs out of the Western league race for good.

With the season history, members of the Omaha team will scatter to all corners of the United States. Several of the Buffaloes will grace Omaha with their presence long enough to take in the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival and other winter interest. They will play at Dunlap later in the week.

With the exception of George Boehler and, perhaps, Johnny Kerr, the entire 1923 lineup will report for spring training at Corsicana, Tex. Burch informed the little "B" world last night that he had released Frank Wetzel, outfielder. Wetzel was made a free agent by Burch. Now Frank can play any place he wants to. Wetzel left last night for Kansas, where he will visit relatives before leaving for the Pacific coast.

Reports circulated about the burg that Ed Konecny, manager, would not be with the Buffaloes next season, were denied by Barney Burch. Konecny will leave tonight for Wisconsin, where he will visit relatives before joining his wife in St. Louis. Ed peddles insurance during the off season.

Some Players Go to Work. George Hale, catcher by profession; Nick Cullop, fly-chaser, pitcher and an all-around good scout, and Don Brown, outfielder, will make their home in Omaha this winter. They expect to engage in some light occupation, probably will work for the electric light company.

Joe Bonowitz, one of the best little outfielders in the league, is going to work in Omaha, while Ed (Cowboy) Reis, club secretary and press agent, is looking for a job. Johnny Kerr, shortstop, is going to San Francisco. Kerr belongs to Detroit and hopes to make good "up there" next spring. Red Wilder, catcher, is going back to Massachusetts where he expects to sell bananas. Red says they have plenty bananas in his home town.

Byron Speece, pitcher, leaves soon with Mrs. Speece and the little Speeces for their home in West Baden, Ind. Buckshot May, another chucker, will go to Maricopa, Cal., to spend the winter. Jimmy Wilcox, third baseman, will go to his home in Oakdale, Pa. Jimmy expects to be back next spring, which is good news.

LaRico Thompson, second baseman, and George Boehler, pitcher, left the team at Tulsa. Thompson went to St. Louis and Boehler to his home at Lawrenceburg, Ind. Oris Lee, outfielder, leaves for Clarkfield, Minn., soon.

Harry Lee, another pitcher, is in Omaha, where his young son is ill. Richard O'Connell, outfielder, will leave soon for Buffalo, N. Y., and other points east. Richard expects to be back here Thursday.

Miss Collet a Rare Woman Golfer. Miss Collet among women golfers has set a mark so far that no male golfer has ever broken it. In the last two years she has played in 10 big tournaments replete with first-class talent.

She has won eight of these. The list embraces the Women's championship, the North and South championships, the Eastern title, the Canadian championship and victories at Belleair. Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago has given her the hardest fight and Miss Cummings will be one of her most formidable rivals on this next occasion.

Miss Collet's rare consistency is a remarkable achievement in a game noted for sudden whirls of inconsistency, even upon the part of great male stars. The wonder is not that she can turn in a 76 or 77, but that she so rarely goes above 90 in a hard match.

Miss Collet will meet hard opposition from Miss Cummings, Miss Stirling and others, but only fine golf will stop her march.

Surpassing the Male. It has been suggested here and there in spirit that the female of the species, while capable of rare genius at odd moments, lacks the consistency of the male. This has been attributed to nerves that were higher strung. This theory may be upset this week. There is no pastime which lacks consistency as consistently as the game of golf. The masculine division hasn't had a champion capable of repeating for 10 years in either the amateur or professional class.

Knox to Play With Pirates

Clifford (Bud) Knox, Des Moines university football, basket ball and baseball star, who played with the Contract to play with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Several major league scouts watched the Corning team playing the past season, and among them was Chick Frazer of the Pirates, who signed Knox.

Knox tried out a year ago last spring with the Des Moines Western league team, but was farmed out for the season to a Dakota league club, only to be recalled last fall. He was recalled when the North Central conference, of which Des Moines university is a member, passed a ruling that athletes playing in organized baseball would not be eligible. Knox decided to drop out of league baseball until his college career was ended.

He is captain of this year's Des Moines university football team which plays Creighton here October 27. Knox played on the same Corning ball club that claimed Harry Mansuh, outlaw Omaha second sacker, as a member.

Helen Wills After Lenglen's Tennis Crown

New York, Oct. 2.—Helen Wills, girl holder of the United States tennis championship, and Glenna Collett, girl holder of the United States golf championship, will both invade Europe next spring. It is stated, and it may come to pass a year hence that Miss Wills and Miss Collett will rule supreme on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Little Pouter Face," as the coast tennis star is affectionately known, has her eyes focused on the crown perched on Suzanne Lenglen's Parisian locks. Suzanne has declared she will not come to America, so Helen will get to France. Dr. Wills has stated that the California lass will have to abandon the idea if the trip conflicts with her studies at the University of California, but this remark should not be taken too seriously. Helen is going.

Bull Montana Matched

Challenges McTigue

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 2.—Georges Carpentier of France tonight cabled a challenge to Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion of the world for a bout to be fought in America if the near future, according to an announcement made here tonight by Joe Jacobs, McTigue's manager.

Acceptance of the challenge was withheld pending the outcome of the McTigue-Stirling fight to be held here on Thursday.

Major John Paul Jones of the American Legion, promoting the Stirling-McTigue bout tonight cabled Carpentier an offer for him to meet in Columbus the winner of the fight here Thursday. Both McTigue and Stirling announced they were ready to meet the Frenchman.

Burch Releases Frank Wetzel

Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha Buffaloes, upon his return to the city last night from Tulsa, announced that he had released outfielder Frank Wetzel, thereby making the former Pacific Coast player a free agent.

Wetzel came to Omaha late in the season from Oakland club of the coast league. He didn't hit very well when he first arrived, but toward the end of the season Wetzel was clouting the apple at a pretty good rate.

Frankie Schoell Kayoes Mantell

Frankie Schoell, Buffalo welterweight and well known to Omaha fight fans, added another ring victory to his list at Scanton, Pa., last night when he knocked out Frankie Mantell, eastern welter, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

The Buffalo batter, according to reports received here, took it easy in the first two rounds and then opened up in the third and kayoed his man in the fourth.

They haven't a chance to get stale

The first man who said his product "sold like hot cakes" was simply hunting a new way to say that it was always fresh. That's the way hot cakes have to be sold. A hot cake has to be hot off the griddle or it isn't worth eating. And the sooner you get it after it leaves the griddle the better it tastes.

The same thing is true of a cigar. If you could always buy cigars that had just been made you would be more certain of getting a cigar that tasted right. So it is only common sense to buy a cigar that you know never stays in the cigar store very long.

I can promise you this is true of La Palina. We are constantly building more factories. Our force of workers grows larger every year. Yet I always have on hand orders for more cigars than we can make. Dealers sell La Palina faster than we can produce them because men buy them as fast as they are received in the store.

A stale cigar, no matter how fine it was when first made, will not taste right. When you buy a La Palina you get a cigar that sells so fast, it hasn't a chance to get stale.
