

Grand Island Has Record-Breaking Livestock Sale

Over 6,000 Cattle Offered at Auction—Crowd of 3,000 to 4,000 Attends Big Barbecue.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 5.—Between 3,000 and 4,000 people lunched at the Blaine Horse, Mule and Cattle company's barbecue at noon today, fully 500 of them being active buyers at the ringside for the big sale of feeder cattle, hogs and calves put on by the Blaine company, following the Grand Island Horse and Mule company's sale of blooded stock on Thursday.

The cattle offerings were all the way from the Panhandle country of Texas to white faces from northern Montana.

The auctioneering was "fast and furious" from 10 this morning to late evening. Over 6,000 head of cattle were offered and it was the largest sale so far held in this market.

Representatives of farmers' and drovers' papers present declare the event unique in the history of the cattle and feeder business, the attendance and sale offerings being far beyond expectations.

The Omaha Bee: Saturday, October 6, 1923

Nebraska, Wyoming and Dakota stockmen, who object to danger confronting them in walking one and two miles down the railroad tracks when they arrive in Omaha on stock trains late at night and early in the morning. A police sergeant was detailed to accompany the two officials on their tour.

"There is no doubt that the present method of letting stockmen off way down on those myriads of tracks is dangerous," Attorney General Spillman said. "We have received assurances from railroads that they will either run trains up the track far enough so stockmen accompanying trains can alight at a station or at a safe, well-lighted cross street."

Next week Attorney General Spillman will go to Washington to argue the state's side of the Smith bread
