

Democracy in Germany Forces Full Collapse

People Lose Confidence in Reichstag, but Do Not Lean Toward Monarchy.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—With stormy applause from a large part of the house, Chancellor Stresemann started a strong drive at the vast and complex trusts which have been exploiting the German people, in his speech this afternoon in the reichstag presenting the new cabinet.

Stresemann declared the time had come for government intervention against the monopolies created by trusts, that competition in trade was as vital to the German economic life as the creation of syndicates and combines for the purpose of steadily raising prices.

Chancellor Stresemann outlined his plans for saving the German nation. He said special legislation would be introduced in the reichstag, if necessary, to tide over difficulties where labor was at loggerheads with capital.

Few Cabinet Changes.

His new cabinet is virtually the same as the old, save for minor changes. He received a hostile reception from the communists, but declared that he was willing to assume full responsibility in the future. In the face of a threat of nationalistic dictatorship, which would have been their death knell as the strongest party in Germany, numerically, the social democrats bought re-entrance into the cabinet at the price of surrendering the eight-hour work day. In principle this great fruit of the socialist revolution is safeguarded from compromise, but in substance it has been surrendered, for it has been made an "elastic measure." It is declared by competent observers that to make the eight-hour day in Germany "elastic" in principle is to make it null and void in practice.

Urges Harder Work.

In his reichstag speech Stresemann said, in part:

"But we must work more. We hope to increase production through peaceable agreements between labor and capital. But where peaceable arrangements are impossible special legislation is necessary."

"There has been no danger, even from England. But Germany is suffering from shameful treatment, which is continuing despite our offers, which far exceeded the Versailles treaty. We were willing to mobilize even private capital to pay the allies. In the name of the fatherland, I thank the reichswehr for its loyalty, especially in the Kuestrin affair." (German nationalists last Sunday night seized the fortress at Kuestrin, but were soon dislodged by reichswehr.)

Little Chance of Monarchy.

Popular indignation is due to the high cost of living, low wages, lack of leadership and time wasting debates of the politicians in the reichstag.

"The people have lost all confidence in the reichstag which is Germany's congress. All constructive measures are either paralyzed there by party bickering or impractical experiments indulged in. The democratic system forced upon Germany by President Wilson is in perilous danger of a complete collapse under the terrific pressure of Poincare on the one hand and deflation and political incapacity on the other.

Reports in the American press of the immediate danger of restoration of the monarchy, whether the Hohenzollern in the north or Rupperecht in Bavaria, are grossly exaggerated.

Omaha Man Is Winner.

Harry T. Hall, local manager of the Baker-Vawter company, manufacturer of ring cabinets and office equipment, is winner of the company's summer contest for the second successive year and in addition to commissions wins $200.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calomel powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—Advertisement

"Baron Renfrew" the Cowboy

Here is an exclusive photograph, snapped by a correspondent of the International News Service, of the prince of Wales, who, under the title of "Baron Renfrew," is at his El ranch at High River, Alberta, Canada. The picture was made as the prince set out for the cattle ranges, with his own cowboys, to ride herd at the annual roundup. "Baron Renfrew" has already been appointed "Chief Morning Star" by the Stony Indians on the Morley reservation.

Wrong Number! $26,000 Order Lost; but Jury Vindicates Phone Girl

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee, Fremont, Neb., Oct. 6.—The telephone operator who connects the wrong number has actually been vindicated by a jury, and the Paul Olson insurance agency of Fremont, which lost a $26,000 insurance order because central made a "mistake," has no cause for action.

This was the ruling in County Judge Wintersteen court when the Olson agency brought suit against the William M. Stone agency, Fremont, which lost a $26,000 insurance order because central made a "mistake," has no cause for action.

The Olson telephone number is 215. The Stone number is 251. When W. E. Miner of Oakland, Neb., cashier of an Oakland bank handling the insurance business of the Corn Alfalfa feed company of that city, called the Fremont concern he gave the former number.

Mr. J. E. McKinley, Oakland telephone operator, admitted in court that she gave the Fremont operator the wrong number by mistake.

The Stone agency received the call and accepted it. Policies amounting to $26,000 for tornado and workmen compensation insurance were ordered. The Olson agency alleged that the premiums on these policies amount to $497.50 while the commission amounts to $82.21. They requested a judgment for the amount of the commission on the part of the Olson agency, and interest up to date.

Unswayed by the testimony that the order was meant for the Olson agency, the jury decided that the Stone firm had accepted the order in good faith due to an inadvertent error on the part of Mrs. McKinley, the operator.

As it was only a mistake, the jury decided the Olson firm had no cause for action.

Bryan Brothers May Divide Convention

Charles Bryan at this time for the democratic nomination. I understand the governor is receiving encouragement and support from some of the southern states and also from the west and northwest."

Mayor Favors Brother Charles.

The mayor said he would support Governor Bryan for the democratic nomination.

"I will not be a candidate for delegate to the democratic national convention, because the primaries will be at the same time as the city primaries in April, and my present plans are to be a candidate again for city commissioner," the mayor added.

I. J. Dunn, an ardent supporter of W. J. Bryan for many years, delivered the nominating speech at the Denver convention in 1908, when the governor's brother was nominated for the third time. Mr. Dunn does not agree with the mayor as to the relative merits of the Bryan brothers.

"W. J. Bryan is head and shoulders above any 'living democrat,'" quoth Mr. Dunn. "I have thought for 25 years that M. J. Bryan was presidential timber and would make the kind of president the people want. If W. J. Bryan will make the race I will be with him and for him."

Offers No Discouragement.

Mr. Dunn does not wish to discourage Governor Bryan in any national political ambition he may have, but he wants it understood that he is still for W. J. for president.

Arthur Mullen, former democratic national committee man for this state, averred that he is a democrat; that there is not, nor has been, anything personal in any disagreement he may have had with the Bryans.

H. S. Daniel asked for more time to ponder over the situation of two Bryans being considered for the presidency at the same time. He indicated that it is a matter which requires considerable thought.

Brookhart for W. J.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, in Omaha yesterday, asserted that, in his judgment, W. J. Bryan is the only democrat in sight who has any chance of being elected president. His reason was that Bryan is a progressive.

The democratic tidings from New York, where W. J. Bryan and Senator Copeland, explain that Mr. Bryan is convinced that prohibition will be the dominant issue and that in case of a deadlock in the convention, the delegates would turn to him on "a big moral issue."

There are some democrats hereabouts who doubt that prohibition will be the dominant issue. And there are some who would prefer to have a "wet" candidate. And as between Governor Bryan and W. J. Bryan, some wish that "either dear charlie" were in a quiescent condition.

Gov. Walton Calls Special Session of Solons, Oct. 11

Says Purpose for Enactment of Law to Protect the People From Lawless Marauders.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 6.—A call for an extraordinary session of the state legislature on October 11 "for the purpose of the enactment of a law to protect the people from masked and lawless marauders and secret organizations," was issued tonight by Gov. J. C. Walton.

Oklahoma City, Okl., Oct. 6.—Chucking the Ku Klux Klan issue of Oklahoma up to the legislature itself, Gov. J. C. (Iron Jack) Walton tonight issued a proclamation, calling an extraordinary session of that body for Thursday, October 11.

This is six days earlier than the date set by the legislature which yesterday formally issued a call to convene itself for the purpose of impeaching the governor and "other state officials."

Omaha Woman Is Injured When Motor Car Turns Over

An automobile driven by Morris Jacobs, 2019 North Nineteenth street, turned over in a ditch near Fremont late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Elias Jacobs, his mother, suffered bruises and was taken to a Fremont hospital. Nathan Green, 3041 North Nineteenth street, was slightly injured.

Morris Jacobs, newspaper man, escaped without injury. The party was en route to Norfolk to spend the week-end at the home of Mrs. John Robinson, a daughter of Mrs. Jacobs.

125-Car Train, Mile Long, Hauls Canadian Wheat

Regina, Sask., Oct. 6.—A world record for grain trains is believed to have been made by the Canadian Pacific railway yesterday. A train of 125 cars of wheat, one mile in length, was operated over the line between Stoughton and Arcola. The contents of the cars weighed 5,566 tons which, with a tare of 2,380 tons, made a total weight hauled by a single engine of 3,186 tons. The great string of cars contained 185,000 bushels of wheat.

Autoist Hits Street Car; Intoxicated, Police Say

George Jenfen, farmer, Chalco, driving west on Leavenworth street at 7 o'clock last night, struck a street car at Twenty-second street. Police say Jenfen was so intoxicated that they had to lift him from his automobile to the patrol. His car was not badly damaged.

Joe Hoffman, 2201 South Twentieth street, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated on complaint of Bert Waldeck.

17th Body Removed From Burlington Wreck Scene

Casper, Wyo., Oct. 6.—The 17th body to be recovered from the wreck of Burlington train No. 30, which plunged into Cole creek on the night of September 27, was taken from the wreckage of the smoking car this afternoon, it was announced at the railroad offices here.

The body is badly mangled and unidentified, it was stated. It is the first to be recovered since early Friday morning.

France and Belgium Seek Protection From Bands

Berlin, Oct. 6.—France and Belgium have sent a note to Germany demanding new measures to control the armed bands of German nationalists, it was learned tonight. The note referred especially to the Kuestrin incident of last Sunday night when nationalists seized the Kuestrin fortress. They were elected by reichswehr a few hours afterwards.

Kenyon Boom as Running Mate of Coolidge Grows

Nomination of Lowan as Vice President Seen as Way to Win Western Votes for G. O. P.

Des Moines, Oct. 6.—Special dispatches received here by the Evening Tribune from Washington say that in spite of the fact that the friends of Federal Judge W. S. Kenyon, former Iowa senator, are opposed to it, the movement to put Kenyon on the ticket as a candidate for vice president with President Coolidge for president, is gaining.

The Washington special reads: "The movement has strong support among some of the administration's advisers. They hold that if President Coolidge is to be elected he will have to win the middle west and that by putting such a man as Kenyon on the ticket as vice president he would be assured to gain the progressive republican vote."

Washington friends of Senator Kenyon who oppose the plan admit the possibility of him being drafted.

Good Health

"My present health is very good," writes Mrs. E. H. Weidel, of Dayton, Texas, whose picture is printed above.

"I have been taking CARDUI for two years, off and on. When I feel tired out, after a day's work, and weak and run-down, I always get CARDUI, and in a few days I feel well as ever again. I have never found anything as good for womanly troubles as Cardui."

"I had an easy time and believe I owe it to Cardui, for I took it before my first baby was born and had an easy time, and took it before this one, also. I will always keep a bottle of Cardui in my medicine chest."

Female ailments cause many women much suffering. When neglected, they often lead to more serious troubles, such as nervousness, general debility, premature old age and similar results of worn-out health.

Never neglect your health, for you will surely regret it. Do not put off necessary treatment because of the slight expense involved in buying a bottle of Cardui. It is wise to be thrifty in many ways, but not in medicine—when you need it. Good health is priceless and cannot be bought, once it is gone.

If your symptoms indicate the need of a female tonic—take Cardui. It has helped thousands. When buying, please look at the label. Don't buy any medicine that may be offered. Get CARDUI, the Women's Tonic. One of its principal ingredients has been recommended by the medical profession, for female troubles, for over 300 years. Its success in relieving these complaints, in many thousands of cases, is proof of its genuine medicinal value.
