

Husker-Sooner Game Opens Field

First Conference Game of Season Will Be First in New Stadium.

Lincoln, Oct. 10.—Still stinging under the decisive defeat sustained Saturday at the hands of Bob Zupke's Illini, the Nebraska football team lost no time after its return here in beginning to prepare for the invasion of Bennie Owen and his Oklahoma Sooners.

Word from the Sooner camp shows that Bennie Owen is the same Bennie Owen of former years. He has been concentrating on an aerial attack, just as he always has done before, only this year he has something like 13 veterans—men who have come up under his tutelage and therefore handle a football with the ease an average layman does a baseball.

Oklahoma ad Nebraska have played four games, the Huskers winning all but one. That was in 1919 when a 7-7 tie developed. In 1921 the Nebraska sloughed through mud and water to a 44 to 0 victory here and last year they perspired through a 38 to 7 win at Norman in the face of a hot, dusty wind.

Better weather conditions would be a welcome change for both teams when they line up Saturday here for the first game to be played in the new memorial stadium.

The first time Nebraska and Oklahoma played was in 1912 when the Huskers withdrew with a 13 to 9 victory.

Owen was on hand at Urbana and watched the Huskers perform against Illinois. Oklahoma has not yet played this season and consequently no definite line can be gotten on its strength.

Oklahoma correspondents have been flinging considerable "bear" from the Sooner camp to the effect that the freshman team looks better than the varsity but the Nebraska are not easing off in face of these reports.

The Saturday game opens the conference season for both the Huskers and Oklahoma.

Speaker Denies Engagement.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—Reports that Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is engaged to marry Miss Frances Cudahy of Cleveland were denied tonight by the Speaker and Miss Cudahy.

Speaker admitted giving Miss Cudahy a large diamond ring, but both he and Miss Cudahy denied that it signified their engagement. The ring was merely a present, they said.

Speaker left tonight for a two weeks' fishing trip at Rattys Lakes, Ontario. On his return he will go to his home at Hubbard, Tex.

World Series Squibs

Long before the sun began doing its stuff today, several hundred baseball fans were lined up at the general admission gates of the Yankee stadium.

One wife sent a wire of thanks to John McGraw. She said it was the first time she's been able to get her husband out of bed in the morning since last October.

A Brooklyn man claimed he had been waiting in line so long that he forgot what he was waiting for.

He went home to find out and when he came back his place was gone.

Another guy went up to the box office and said he planned on seeing all the games but he didn't have any money. He wanted to know if he could open a charge account.

He said he walked all the way from St. Louis to bet on the Yankees. The chances are he'll have to walk back there too.

Of course, the Yankees have a glad chance of copping, the only thing that could possibly keep them from winning it, is the Giants.

But the games will be on the square. Judge Landis has given us cleaner baseball and fresher peanuts.

There's bound to be a lot of excitement this afternoon. Each team has promised to put the ball over the fence even if he has to send it by express.

So far, the hero of the world's series hasn't been picked, but judging from the number of cops they've got around the gates, it'll probably be the fellow who gets in for nothing.

One of the umpires bought a couple of tickets to give away. With 65,000 people in the stadium, he wants to have at least two friends among them.

Nobody seems to want to guess on the outcome of today's game except Miller Huggins and yesterday he won the whole series in the Yankee locker room.

He called all the players together and told them that they were going to win the pennant. When McGraw heard about it he got so sore he tried to have Huggins arrested for perjury.

But the manager of the Yankees has hired a first class orchestra and every time Babe Ruth steps up to the bat he's going to have them start playing "There's No Place Like Home."

Thousands of women are expected at the stadium today, but most of them will sit in a different section of the bleachers so that the men can enjoy the game too.

The betting around New York is very heavy. A lot of guys are such reckless gamblers that they're willing to bet the shirt off their back but they've taken the precaution to put on an extra pair of underwear.

So much money has been placed on the Giants that if the Yankees win half the men in the bleachers will look like they've been playing strip poker.

The weather here is so chilly that the fans who haven't been able to get their overcoats out of pawn are taking hot water bags along with them.

Whether the Giants or Yankees win this afternoon's game, the balance of the world will be just as excited, because the man who invented baseball did such a good job of it that he made it impossible for both teams to lose the world's series.

Olympic Backs Work Out Inside

Two more former Nebraska grid-iron performers were last night added to the roster of the Omaha Olympics club in preparation for the opening game of the season next, Sunday against the Tecumseh Wonder team at league park.

They are Bob Russell, Omaha youth, former Central high gridster and quarterback on the Cornhusker team last year. It was Russell who piloted the Cornhuskers to victory over Notre Dame which crowned the achievement of the Huskers' 1922 schedule.

The other former Husker is Carl Peterson, "The fightin'est center Nebraska ever had." Both Russell and Hartley joined the Olympic backfield last night in a private signal drill, indoors. Chic Hartley and Edson Shaw, both former captains of Cornhusker eleven; Gepe Leahy, former Creighton star, and half a dozen other candidates for backfield berths took part in the signal drill, under direction of Coach Shaw.

Three former Nebraska captains are to be in the Olympics' lineup. They are Edson Shaw, captain in 1917 who was named all-western tackle; Clarence Swanson, captain of the Husker team two years ago who was named all-American end, and Chic Hartley, captain of the victorious Huskers of 1922.

Tecumseh is to be represented by a former Denver university backfield star, three Hastings college stars, one West Point cadet who held a line position on the cadets' team in 1919 and 1920, one former Colorado college end, and other lights of football world several years ago.

Tecumseh has not been able to invade any other team in either Nebraska or Iowa to play them this season, according to Manager R. C. Martin. "We have offered every inducement for games both at home and abroad," said Martin last night over long distance. "But the Olympics is the only club that has taken our challenge."

Last year the Tecumseh team played the Olympics to a 0-0 tie. On the last game of the season the same teams met again and the Olympics emerged victorious, 13 to 0.

World Series Stars

JIMMY O'CONNELL, Outfielder, New York Giants.

Another expensive experiment of McGraw's, although not exactly a successful one to date. James is said to have cost the Giants $75,000 the full season before he was allowed to come east by the San Francisco club. He hit well above .300 in the Coast league for two seasons, but was unable to repeat in the National this year and, after being given every chance to make good, was benched by McGraw in favor of Stengel and Cunningham.

O'Connell is declared to have perfect batting form, however, and experts agree that he will come to his best some time in the more or less immediate future. He is hardy likely to figure prominently in the present series, however.

James was born in California 21 years ago, bats left handed, throws right, is five feet 10 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds.

HARVEY HENDRICK, Substitute Outfielder, New York Yankees.

Harvey came to the Yankees this year in the last of the famous New York-Boston deals; he is a product of the Galveston club of the Texas league, bats left handed, throws right handed; is 25 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. His home is at Covington, Tenn.

CLAUDE JONNARD, Pitcher, New York Giants.

Official embalmer of deceased or dying ball games for the last two seasons. Has a fine, fast ball that gets him by nicely for a limited number of innings, and McGraw has made strategic use of the fast, snappy ranks with the best as a relief pitcher.

He came to the Giants from Little Rock, of the Southern association. He was born in Nashville November 23, 1899, bats and throws right handed, is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 163 pounds.

Seattle, Oct. 10.—Vic Foley of Vancouver, 25 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds, was a six-round bout here last night. Frankie Britt of Tacoma, won a decision over Billy Young of Vancouver, in a 6 round six-round semi-final bout.

Luck Promises to Turn on Attorney General

Washington, Oct. 10.—"If John McGraw knew as much about politics as he does about baseball, he would be able to nominate and elect any man in the field president of the United States."

This is the opinion of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, ardent Giant supporter, who through a trick of fate, was compelled to bet against his favorites at today's meeting of the presidential cabinet.

There was a somewhat heated discussion of the relative merits of the contending teams. A millionaire cabinet member offered to wager on the outcome. After listening to Attorney General Daugherty discuss the baseball leadership of McGraw, this cabinet member hedged to the extent of insisting that a coin be flipped, the winner to have first choice.

Attorney General Daugherty lost and had to back the Yankees, but he says he is quite sure he will lose again.

Coffers Empty: Means No Trip

"Wanted. Five hundred dollars to send rifle team to national convention at Frisco."

That is the plaint of the Russell G. Hughes American Legion Rifle club at present. With the Frisco special leaving Omaha Thursday evening, and one of the best legion rifle teams in the country to send, it appears as though lack of funds will prevent the Cornhusker riflemen from competing in the big shoot this year.

The local rifle squad boasts of such shooters as J. J. Jesse, Nebraska state champion; Ed Perley, expert rifle and pistol shot; Adrian Mayer, expert rifleman, Marine corps; William Dana, who recently scored 4935 at 200 yards off hand, and a dozen more men who have qualified as sharpshooters and expert riflemen while in service.

The squad practiced regularly during the summer at the government range at Plattsmouth and developed a team which stands a good chance of capturing first place at the Frisco shoot, if it can only get to Frisco.

Neither the state department nor the local post were able to finance the sending of the team, owing to shortage of funds, and apparently the only hope the shooters have left is a purse made up by voluntary contributions from legionnaires or other philanthropically inclined individuals.

Clowns Ready for Series.

New York, Oct. 10.—Nick Altrock and Al Schuch, baseball clowns, arrived in town today and began rehearsals of some of the stunts they will do for world series crowds. They carried several trunks full of "props."

Altrock declared they had some dumb assistants, including the Washington goat.

Match Golf Play Starts Today

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Match play started today in the women's invitation golf tournament for the Berthel Cup at the Huntington Valley Country club here.

The 16 survivors of the qualifying round include Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Merion, Pa., former national champion and winner of the medal in yesterday's play, turning in a card of 80, which broke the women's record for the course; Mrs. Alice Hanchett, San Francisco, and Miss Florence Halloran, Salt Lake City.

A cloth with equal parts of sweet oil and lime water applied to a burn will bring great relief.

Omaha Uni Squad Slowly Mending

Omaha university football men are slowly mending after their hard-fought game of last Saturday. The daily practice is light, principally signal drill. Yesterday two of the injured players were on the side lines watching the squad go through the drill. They were Peterson, his hand in splints, and Bozendaugh, moving about with the aid of a cane.

The game that was scheduled with Central college for Thursday has been called off because of the condition of the team. It is now hoped that a light scrimmage will be arranged between the Omaha university and the Technical High school squad for Thursday afternoon.

If everything goes well the team will meet the Tarkio eleven in their next scheduled game. The event is slated for October 20 and promises to be good.

The Omaha team is in a condition that is just the reverse of last year. It was the line that troubled the mentor last year because it was so light, the backfield was exceptionally heavy and looked good, until the line gave way. This year it is the backfield that is causing all the worry and grief. The line will average about 185 pounds to each man but the backs are distressingly light. The four men behind the line are fast, however, and the hopes of the school are pinned in their ability to "get through" any hole that the linemen may create.

The practice scrimmage Thursday will show whether or not the team is ready for another game. At present they look bad. Many of the uninjured players failed to show up at practice and those, added the large hospital list, made the group who were out look pitifully small.

Central Seconds Victors in Game

"Woe unto Tech High," is the Purple clan's motto this year. The second team started off with a bang yesterday when they defeated the Maroon and White reserves by an overwhelming score of 27 to 0.

The Central athletes were well represented with three full teams of gridsters, most of whom got into the game. After the first touchdown, Coach Bexten sent in his second stringers against the Cuming street lads, but the gold-jerseyed eleven scored almost at will against the Drummond reserves.

Central's passing was good, netting one of the touchdowns, when Jean Caldwell, halfback, took the ball out of the air and went 39 yards for a touchdown. Caldwell's line plunging and ability to snag passes were features of the contest. His run for 35 yards and another touchdown through a broken field was the high spot of the game.

Copulos Wins at Billiards.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—Gus Copulos of Cleveland defeated Hugh Heal of Toledo, 50 to 43 and 50 to 38 in games here this afternoon and tonight's 70. Heal had high runs of seven in both contests and Copulos
