Howard McArdle, piano, pupil of Maud Heynath, will play, "Iris," by Jules Heynath and "Glow Worm," by Paul Lincke. O. C. Kindig of the Bank of Benson will talk on "Benson," the Woman's club will follow this talk with the quartet number, "Winken, Blinken and Nod," by Nevin. A violin number, "Spanish Serenade," will be rendered by Wilbur Feleman. The concluding number on the program will be, "Fairy Lullaby," by the Benson Woman's club quartet.

Opening Program, B. W. C.
The opening program of the Benson Woman's club was given Thursday, October 11, in the Methodist church. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the church parlors. After the business session a playette was staged by the dramatic department. Stanley Letovsky presented three of his piano pupils in recital. The delegates named to attend the state convention at Beatrice, October 25, were Mesdames E. W. Johnson and C. C. Beavers. The $50 scholarship fund was given to Miss Glee Gardner, a student in the state university. Owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. C. N. Wolfe, Mrs. Paul Wilcox, vice president, took charge of the session for the afternoon.

Birthday Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pickard entertained at dinner Tuesday, complimentary to their son, Eugene, who celebrated his 13th birthday. Covers were spread for 12.

Benefit Program at the Benalto.
A benefit musical program by Stanley Jan Letovsky and readings by Ruth Morris Stillman will be given Friday evening, October 13, at the Benalto theater, under the auspices of the Knights of the Round Table, a Sunday school class that has developed into a community club for boys. Part of the proceeds of this program will be used to furnish a clubroom for these boys.

The musical numbers include selections from Paganini, Liszt, Mendelssohn, Rachmaninoff, Debussy, Grainger, Chopin and compositions by Mr. Letovsky, which include English dance, composed when 2 years old, Sunday morning Romances, tribute to Daniel Boone, and Melody Capriccioso. A moving picture, "The Old Homestead," will be put on by Mrs. McArdle at 9 o'clock. Tickets for this entertainment can be secured at Patton's music store, Hospe's, Michels and the Benson banks and stores. Party members of the Benson Woman's club are patronesses of this program.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings Mrs. W. L. Rimer will instruct classes in cooking.

Wednesday evening the girls' clubs will have supper in the Girls' Community Service league rooms, 1712 Dodge street, and Saturday evening a dancing party will be given.

Miss Williams Wed to Mr. Marsh
October has almost pre-empted June, and afternoon wedding hours the place of evening hours in bride plans this year. The third afternoon wedding of the week was solemnized Saturday at 4, uniting in marriage Miss Margaret Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Williams, and Harry Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marsh.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown, remodeled to the modern fashion. It was of ivory faille, the ivory tones enriched by the 34 years which have passed over them since they were first worn. It was made ankle length, with a front drape to a panel of lace secured at each side with strands of ornaments of pearls. A yoke of the lace and tiny cap sleeves completed the bodice, and a back panel fell into a short train.

The rose point lace used on the gown when her mother was wed formed a cap from which floated the long tulle veil. Mrs. Marsh carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and orchids. Her only jewel was the gift of the groom—a sapphire and diamond bar pin.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Ralph Parks, was gowned in apple green chiffon, trimmed in silver lace. She carried Ophelia roses. The groom's uncle, Dr. A. R. Knode, served him as best man.

The bridal party met at an altar of greens and chrysanthemums, through an aisle formed of ribbons suspended from jeweled staffs and carried by Mesdames Benjamin Sylvester, Charles Morton, Jr., Misses Josephine Elliott, each of whom wore orchid shades.

John Cutright of Lincoln and Frederick Williams of Mitchell, S. D., were the ushers.

Severely five guests attended the wedding and the reception which followed.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Marsh left for a northern motor trip and on their return will live with the Williams until spring. Mrs. Marsh wore a black and gray coat dress, with a small toque of velvet and burnt goose feathers.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Williams of Mitchell, S. D.; Richard Williams, Miss Sarah Williams, Rockford, Ill., and Evan Williams, Cambria, Wis.

During Housecleaning.
Before washing the cut glass and fine china for housecleaning place a folded towel in the bottom of the dishpan. It will save chipping and breakage.

Whole Nuts.
If you wish the meats to come out whole from nuts, put the nuts in boiling water for four minutes, cool, and then crack them.

An Open Letter to Mrs. W. B. Cheek

Dear Mrs. Cheek:

When The Pantorium first opened its South Omaha office, twelve years ago, you and Mr. Cheek were among our very first customers, and have remained with us ever since.

I have often wondered what Omaha would be like were it not for South Omaha and her live wire business men like Mr. Cheek, Mr. Buckingham, Mr. Tagg and a dozen others I could name.

It has always been a source of pride to me to know that the majority of Omaha's live business men who do so much for the city have also done much to promote the growth of The Pantorium.

I feel safe in saying that at least one-half of the leading business men of Omaha are regular customers of ours, and in South Omaha the percentage is even larger.

I want you and Mr. Cheek, and all our other friends and patrons in South Omaha, to know that we greatly appreciate your patronage and confidence, and that is why we maintain a branch office at 24th and L for your convenience. We give you just the same service and the same prices as in Omaha proper, and shall always do so.

Sincerely yours,
Guy Liggett
President for 26 years
