Dusseldorf, Oct. 13 .- Fifty or more stores were sacked of food and clothing in Dusseldorf during the day by unemployed and lawless elements, and the looting continued tonight, almost unhindered, except by a few resolute but quickly vanquished store owners and shopkeepers. Pillaging likewise is eported from many other parts of the Ruhr.

The French troops at the request of the city authorities took over protec-tion of the public buildings, because since the French disbanded the security police, there remain only 200 blue olice, who are able to do little gainst the plunderers. French armord cars and cavalry frequently cleared the streets today but the crowds scattered only to gather again when the

The shopowners were the only ones who resisted; some of them were women, who threw handfuls of flour and pepper in the faces of the advance guard of looters, but this merely delayed matters for a moment. As the success of the plundering movement became certain, the looters were well reinforced and by afternoon the pillaging became more widespread and systematic
