Drys Defeated Three Years Ago-Wets Aggressors in Next Test.

Glasgow, Oct. 17 .- Scotland will witness a bitter liquor fight between now and the end of the year. Wets and drys have already put their forces in battle array, and are sparing neither money nor effort in an en deavor to win

In a similar fight three years ago the prohibitionists were defeated. On this occasion they are hopeful of success, and this is making their adversaries work all the harder.

The struggle takes place under the auspices of the Scottish temperance This provides that if the sanction of 10 per cent of the electorate is secured the town clerk of the district is bound to institute a poll which will decide whether the locality favors:

Complete prohibition. Modified sale of drink.

3. Unrestricted powers to saloons to sell liquor. In 1920 polling took place in 1,214 districts. Of these 868 were country districts, in 301 of which there were already no licenses to sell liquor, under restrictions imposed by estate proprietors and for other reasons. There were left 561 districts in which polling was possible, and in 261 districts polling took place. In the town area 311 out of a total of 346 had polls. Thus there was voting in 572 areas throughout Scotland. In the towns 28 districts voted "no saloons." 26 were for limitation, and the remainder for "no change." In the country districts 14 were for "no saloons," 9 for limitation and 238 for "no change."

The result was that about 450 saloons were liable to extinction. By appeals to the courts, however, these figures were subsequently considerably reduced.

For the coming fight both sides have built up strong organizations and there is no lack of campaign funds. Already the streets are filled with election banners and posters, soap box orators occupy every street corner, and newspapers are deriving revenue from election advertising.

Register Financial Gain

When you look back over the past few years can you be really honest with yourself in saying that you are gaining? Or do you find that you have had a good job, a good wife, a good time, but not even a respectable bank account? Just the receipts for a young fortune passed on to your landlord?

Check over your last year's rent receipts, add them, then just for the sport of it, compare the total with the cash needed to buy some of the homes advertised in the real estate columns today.
