

I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge Names New Officers

York, Neb., Oct. 18—The grand lodge of Nebraska Independent Order of Odd Fellows, today elected the following grand officers: Charles P. Johnson, Fremont, grand master; W. H. Van Cleve, Tekamah, deputy grand master; L. S. Davis, North Platte, secretary; F. B. Bryant, Omaha, treasurer; John Harper, David City, grand representative for two years; W. V. Hoagland, North Platte, grand representative for one year; J. C. Harnish, O'Neill, and C. C. Fullmer, David City, members of home board. The new officers of the Rebekah assembly are:

President, Myrtle Musser, Rushville; vice president, May Frush, Washburn; warden, Rosalie Crabtree, Lincoln; secretary, Emma Talbot, Omaha; treasurer, May E. Stult, Omaha. Clara E. Davis of North Platte, was elected a member of the home board and representative to the association of Rebekah assemblies.

State Rejects Plea to Save Cattle Here

A petition asking state aid for prevention of tuberculosis among Douglas county cattle was returned yesterday by the state department of agriculture at Lincoln because there were no affidavits of the circulators of the appeal attached.

The petition was signed by 54 per cent of the owners of breeding cattle in Douglas county. There were over 3,000 signatures.

The Paris police are under orders to report the presence and activities of all foreigners. The law requiring identification cards will also be enforced and persons remaining over the allotted two months will be expelled at once.

Co-Op Advocate Will Talk to Teachers Here

One of the principal speakers at the annual convention of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, District No. 2, will be Aaron Sapro, advocate of the co-operative marketing movement among farmers. A. M. Hyde, governor of Missouri, will also be a speaker at the convention, which will be held from October 31 to November 3. Similar meetings will be held in Lincoln, Kearney, Holdrege and Scottsbluff while District No. 2 is meeting in Omaha.
