-The Omaha Bee: Friday, October 19, 1923-Stage Is Set for Lincoln High's Trip to Omaha for Annual Gridiron Contest

Everything Is Ready for Game

Lincoln and Tech Teams Are Evenly Matched in Weight.

The stage is all set and the customers are all ready for the clash between the Lincoln High school and Technical High school here Saturday. The Technical High gridsters are undefeated so far this season and Lincoin High representatives have been just as fortunate.

Lincoln's coming will be the su preme test for the Tech boys. They have played excellent football so far this season and look in wonderful shape for the coming struggle. Lincoln has three victories marked up on the scoreboard, one over South High, 9 to 0; one 'over Kearney, 27 to 0, and one over Alliance, 84 to 0. Some representatives of the defeat ed schools insist that the contests have not been a fair standard of judgment, that in all games but the one with South High, the Lincolnites have outclassed and outweighed their opponents.

That cannot be held as a reason for defeat on either side in Saturday's contest. The two teams weigh almost equal amounts and neither outclasses the other by more than a hade. Both play an excellent brand of football.

Just who will do the flipping against the Jackrabbits is not known. Wynne is giving all the backfield men a trial, but judging from the workouts, Yechout, Mahoney and Fitzgibbons will be called on to deliver the leather oval through the ozone. Yechout is one of the best forward

New Wrinkle for Horse Racing

HEN Zev, winner of the Kentucky derby, meets Papyrus, champio of the English turf, at Belmont park Saturday, some 50,000 persons are expected to witness this great event of the racing world.

Expenses will be heavy, and should rain make a postponement necessary, the managers would lose a lot of money. To guard against this contingency the Westchester Racing association has secured from the Hartford Fire Insurance company a $50,000 rain policy. Under the terms of the contract the assured will receive this sum if rainfall on the data matching and a secure of the source of the source of the contract the source of the source Saturday exceeds one-tenth of an inch between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. This policy is one of the largest of its kind ever written.

Horse races, especially running races, are held rain or shine. The ev-Papyrus race will be run rain or shine. But if it rains not such a large crowd will be in attendance. It costs a lot of money to bring Papyrus to the shores of this country. Thus the rain policy.

Rain policies are not uncommon for ball games, outdoor fights and such but a rain policy for a hoss race is a new wrinkle.

Schlaifer Will Be Own Boss. MORRIE -SHLAIFER is getting tired of being tied down to a fistic manager. He said so himself yesterday. We were on the receiving end of the conversation of the conversation.

According to Schlaifer, it seems that his contract with his present manager expires after the first of the coming year. From then on, Omaha's Fighting Fool will be his own manager. At least he says so, and inasmuch as he does the fighting he expects to have something to say.

Draw a crowd. Why a pair of bouts like the ones mentioned above would fill the Auditorium hours before the show started, providing, of course, reasonable prices were charged.

We doubt very much if any Omaha promoter or two promoters could offer fighters like Delaney, Stribling, Siki and Taylor enough money to fight in this city, especially the way this matchmaker had things mapped out.

Omaha has gained the reputation among the fistic colony of this cour try as a pretty good coin-collecting burg for slingers of the padded gauntlets and hot air. Therefore, fighters who are in the spotlight will demand Wells, Schoell, Renault and others of lesser importance have hauled down
