Yellow Cab

Helps solve the parking problem

Our beautiful paved streets and boulevards are public property. How much do you enjoy them? Here is a new thought--

The average private automobile occupies 90 square feet and hauls an average of 3 persons a day--30 square feet of boulevard for every passenger.

A YELLOW CAB occupies 60 square feet of space and serves an average of 50 persons a day--or 1.2 square feet of boulevard.

There can never be enough room in our business district to park all of the privately owned automobiles of this city. The best interests of commercial establishments, therefore, are served by YELLOW CAB.

In rendering the greatest good to the greatest number. YELLOW CAB establishes its claim as a modern urban necessity.

Skyscrapers, apartment buildings and YELLOW CABS all serve the same purpose. They economize space and time by helping to create a compact industrial metropolis with room for all to work and earn.
