

Rock Island Has Strong Team Now Stars From All Colleges Gathered to Contest Olympics.

Many Rock Island football fans are expected in Omaha for the contest between the Rock Island Independents and the Olympics. Frank Cerny received a telegram from one of the Rock Island representatives last night asking him to reserve one block of 50 seats in a bunch. There will undoubtedly be many others here, who will take seats in various parts of the grandstand.

C. E. Elliott, Ottumwa, Ia., a former Northwestern university star, has been named as the official for the contest. A rule of the professional football association is that the field official must be named by the president of the association. Joe F. Carr, Columbus, O., wired the selection of Elliott last night.

The Independents hold an enviable record of 15 defeats out of 89 games played in 11 years. In the last three years they have lost six games, tied three games and won 17 games. They have played but three games this year and have won all of them. One of their victories was over the Chicago Bears.

Two former Notre Dame stars, Earl Walsh and R. R. (Red) Phelan, both backfield men, will oppose one another Sunday afternoon in the contest between the Omaha Olympics and the Rock Island Independents at Leavenworth park.

Both young men learned their football under the famous Knute Rockne, who has recently succeeded in bringing a light team into the east to hand the powerful Army eleven and the great Princeton eleven, each a decisive beating.

Walsh played halfback and has been called by Rockie, the greatest defensive halfback Notre Dame has ever turned out. Phelan, who plays fullback for the Independents, is 25 years old, weighs 185 pounds and is five feet 11 inches tall. He played on the Fort Madison high school team for two years before going to Notre Dame. Last year he played halfback for the Toledo Professionals.

In the stands watching the conflict will be another teammate of the two men, Chet Wynne, now coach at Creighton university.

Johnny Armstrong, quarterback on the Rock Island Independents, was given the position of quarterback on the all-Iowa state high school team two years in succession over the great Aubrey Devine, who later in his days as pilot of the Iowa university eleven, was made unanimous choice on the all-American team.

Other great football players are listed in the Rock Island lineup. Herbert Sies, giant Pittsburgh guard, who was named all-American guard two years ago; Max Kadesky, Slater's running-mate at Iowa; Forrest G. (Fod) Cotton, all-American tackle when he played at Notre Dame, and Bill Glavier, famous Georgia Tech halfback, are among the others.

Slater, virtually single-handed, repelled the powerful onslaughts of the great Notre Dame backfield and evaded the Hawkeyes to emerge victorious over the South Bend eleven. It was Slater, backed up by the excellent offensive play of Gordon Locke, his teammate that enabled that same Hawkeye team to defeat Yale in Yale's own stadium, 8 to 0.

Slater is a hurdler, a sprinter, a distance runner and, most of all a football star.

10,000 CHILDREN STORM RUTH

Seranton, Pa., Oct. 26.—Ten thousand children guests of big-hearted Jim Reap, sheriff of Lackawanna county, at an exhibition baseball game in which the great Babe Ruth participated here yesterday afternoon, became so excited at the end of the seventh inning, when Ruth drove one against the fence, that they made a mad rush from the grandstand, the bleachers and the outfield, in an effort to seize their idol. They rushed at him from all directions knocking policemen and guards aside.

CORNHUSKERS START FOR MISSOURI CONFIDENT OF VICTORY SATURDAY

By JOHN BENTLEY. Lincoln, Oct. 26.—Coach Fred Dawson and 25 Nebraska football players will invade the fair of the Missouri Tiger this week-end for the purpose of renewing the gridiron warfare which was started in 1892. It is doubtful if Captain Lewellen will play. He has a bruised shoulder which seems to be affecting his on right arm. He was given a last-minute "going over" by the team physician and trainer and will be subjected to more treatments in the hope of getting him in shape for Saturday. Otherwise the team is in good shape, physically. Heals Bassett, veteran line man, is suffering from a muscle bruise on one of his legs, but this will probably be rubbed out by game time. In case Lewellen does not start, it is hard to figure just how the Nebraska backfield will look. There are three practice periods on the home field this week and at all three of these Coach Dawson ordered long sieges of scrimmage.

There are claims that fraternity favoritism was responsible which is so ridiculous on the face of it that this rumor was short-lived. The facts are these: The majority of Nebraska's players this year are green. Football is like anything else. The player is not born with a knowledge and knack of it. He must learn it in one of the most exacting schools of all—the school of the gridiron. If there were errors of commission or omission in the Kansas game it can be laid to the door of inexperience. And, above all, Kansas brought a team here this season that was worthy of its steel. George (Potey) Clark believes it is the best team he has ever produced in Kansas. And when he made that statement it was not at a moment when he was carried away by enthusiasm. It was the night before the game. He has a pair of ends, Griffin and McLane, who do their stuff with a nicety and dispatch. But the Valley hasn't seen a better race for the championship in several seasons. This coming Saturday will settle all kinds of arguments going around now. The Huskers making the trip to Columbia: Backs: Captain Lewellen, H. De-

Iowa Squad Leaves Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 26.—Twenty-four University of Iowa football men left yesterday for Columbus, where the Hawkeyes meet Ohio State Saturday. The team was in a "fighting mood," with Coach Howard Jones declaring the western conference title had "not yet been won." Captain Miller, Leland Parkin and John Hancock have been out of practice all week, owing to injuries, but it was believed Miller and Hancock might be able to go in against Ohio. Only a small number of Iowa rooters accompanied the squad. Tournament On. The Professional Men's Singles Volley Ball championship suit opened yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. The opening play was fast. Ten men were out for the games. The results were: Thales defeated L. Palmer, 15-11 and 15-10; Thales defeated Smith, 15-10 and 15-9; Thales defeated Kahn, 15-9 and 15-9; Thales defeated Janata, 15-9 and 15-9; Thales defeated Andrew, 15-9 and 15-9.
