

Mills' Use of Wheat Bonded in Canada Hit

Head of Nebraska Consolidated Raps at Plea of Convention of State Millers in Omaha.

Nebraska millers met in full convention yesterday in Logan inn of Hotel Fontenelle. The 40 millers who attended the session, which began with a luncheon, discussed the present wheat situation as it relates to mills and production. Bemis Brothers Bag company was host at the luncheon.

A. R. Kinney, president of the Nebraska Consolidated Mills company, condemned the system which permits Canadian wheat to be milled in this country under bond. This wheat, he charged, seldom reaches its intended destination.

"Mills which produce flour from bonded Canadian wheat are permitted by the tariff laws to mix in 30 per cent of American wheat to the northern product before exporting it. Bonded wheat is not supposed to be sold in the United States.

"What these mills do," continued Mr. Kinney, "is to substitute American 'clears' and 'low grade' for the hard spring wheat. The former is exported and the latter sold in this country under the mills' labels."

Mr. Kinney also advised against a practice of paying too high a price above the world market price of wheat, simply to outbid a competitor, and then selling low, even below cost, for the same reason.

R. S. Dickinson, Glade Mills, Grand Island, president of the association, was chairman. C. V. Popping, Kansas City, secretary of the Southwestern Millers' league, stated that the over-production period in which the mills found themselves after the war and which continued for some time, is gradually fading away and mills are now settling down into normal output activities.

Mr. Popping is representing the league before Interstate Commerce commission to secure better freight rates for the miller. Northern mills shipping to eastern concerns with even a greater distance between points, have 10 cents a barrel advantage over the southern group of which Nebraska is a member.

H. M. Baines, Kansas City, director of the Southwestern Wheat Improvement association, gave a comprehensive technical talk on the proper care of soil to retain nitrogen necessary in the raising of high protein wheat. He declared that from $15,000 to $20,000 is spent annually to spread information on how to raise more and better wheat on less ground.

Electrification of Farms Is Considered

By Associated Press. Chicago, Oct. 26.—Electricity is some day to transform the farm from a place of drudgery to an efficient, satisfied business unit with attractions equal to those of cities, if the vision of a committee on agricultural electrification working here proves of practical effect.

Already the farmers of one community, Red Wing, Minn., have been attracted by the idea of making electric power work for them, the American farm bureau federation, co-operating in the electrification project, announced today.

It is the vision of the committee, composed of representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture, the farm bureau, the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, and the National Electric Light Association, to so standardize the use of electrical power on farms that costs of production will be lessened, farm work made more agreeable and the home life of agricultural workers made as attractive as it is for city residents.

Wages of Metal Miners Are Reported 50 Per Cent

By Associated Press. Butte, Mont., Oct. 26.—Notices of a fifty per cent reduction in day's pay were posted at all mining properties in Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls today. The wage cut affects all working on day's pay and contract work. It is estimated that 14,000 men are affected.

The wage cut is operative November 1. High cost of production and low price of metals are given as reasons for the reduction in wages.

Salt Lake, Oct. 26.—Up to 10 o'clock this morning no notice of wage reductions had been reported in any Utah metal mines.

Joint Marketing of Poultry, Claim

Nebraska Raisers Invited to Lincoln to Hear Addresses of Experts.

Lincoln, Oct. 26.—Invitations have been issued to poultry raisers of Nebraska by the state farm bureau federation to meet with Walton Petzet, director of co-operative marketing of the national bureau, and Aaron Sapiro, counsel for the organization, here October 31. It is hoped that plans can be perfected at the meeting for the co-operative marketing of Nebraska poultry products.

Although there have been in the past, according to Professor F. E. Muesel of the poultry department of the state college of agriculture, small co-operative marketing associations, there has never yet been an organization large enough to take advantage of carload shipments.

Petzet, an organizer of cotton growers of the south into a co-operative marketing association, has gained considerable reputation throughout the country. He and Sapiro will come direct to Lincoln from a meeting with sugar beet growers of the intermountain states, where co-operative marketing of sugar beets was the topic for discussion.

Ibanez Says Dry Law Is Good for "Us Americans"

New York, Oct. 26.—Styling himself "both a Spaniard and an American," Vincente Ibanez, author and playwright, declared he considered prohibition a good thing for "us Americans," when he arrived today on the Metropolitan.

"Prohibition is undoubtedly a good thing," he said, "for after we visit foreign countries where we drink too heavily it is good to come home where we may find rest from our drinking bouts." Senator Ibanez said he would spend several weeks in New York, finishing a series of articles on the history of California.

Tutenkhamen's Body Will Remain in Tomb

Chicago, Oct. 26.—King Tutenkhamen will lie undisturbed in his resting place among the plundered graves of the Pharaohs at the royal cemetery at Luxor, Egypt, where his remains have lain for 3250 years unviewed by man.

Prof. James Henry Breasted, professor of Egyptology and oriental history at the University of Chicago so declared last night in a lecture on recent discoveries in the ancient orient and personal experiences in the royal cemetery at Luxor.

When the last of a series of catafalques in the tomb of King Tutenkhamen is opened this winter and the remains of the ancient Egyptian ruler disclosed, they will be left untouched, the professor declared. X-ray pictures are to be taken of the body and a study made of the ornaments and inscriptions expected to be found about it.

Professor Breasted is to return to Egypt in December and is planning to be present when the coffin of King Tut finally is reached.
