

Guest Sets New Fashion

In these days when by their originality shall we know them, those who lend an ear to fashion's latest whispers will be glad to hear that Miss Josephine Hamlin of Detroit, Mich., guest of Miss Willow O'Brien, has brought a new mode to Omaha.

It is nothing more nor less than a series of camellias in delicate shades which she affects with every costume. A tall, frock in dark blue with bands of bright lemon and king's blue keogram descending from neck to hem on either side of a row of lemon pearl buttons is worn with a camellia in palest lemon tone, which Miss Hamlin pins to the severe little blue collar. Friday afternoon at the tea given by Miss Margaret Eastman for Mrs. Denman Kountze, with a grey afternoon costume of crepe and charmeuse striped in chenille, Miss Hamlin wore a camellia in oyster white, flowering almost at the shoulder line.

At the tea given by the Misses Erna and Peggy Reed on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Hamlin appeared in a sleeveless cinnamon crepe dress. The dress was made without trimming other than the colored camellia she favors with this costume.

The marriage of Miss Jeanette Cook and Barlow Nye of Kearney, took place Saturday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock at the North Side Presbyterian church, Rev. J. T. Hamilton officiating. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cook, Palms and chrysanthemums decorated the church and pink roses were used at the home.

The bride was gowned in white satin crepe, made on simple lines and finished at the waist line with a large ornament of pearls and rhinestones. Her tulle veil fell from a head band of pearls and rhinestones and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Helen Cook, maid of honor, wore orchid georgette, and the four bridesmaids were gowned in honeydew and orchid taffeta. The Misses Marion Nye of Kearney and dith Cook, sister of the bride, wearing the orchid, and the Misses Velma Warren of University Place and Mary Leele, the honeydew. All the attendants wore silver head bands and carried arm bouquets of pink roses.

Mary Margaret Cook of Omaha and Helen Carey of Kearney, flower girls, and Barbara Alcorn of Lincoln, ring bearer, wore frocks of white organza. Robert Dods served as best man and the ushers were John Cutwright, Fremont; Charles Cox, Lincoln, and Harold Lindley and Robert Osborne of Omaha.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Kearney. Both are graduates of the University of Nebraska, the bride, class 1923, and Mr. Nye, a law graduate of 1922.

Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's father, Fred A. Nye, of Kearney; Mrs. Horace Carey, Kearney; Rev. and Mrs. George B.
