

Two Omaha Polo Teams Is Plan of Army Officers

Omaha will have two polo teams ready to meet opponents at the next AK-Sar-Ben meet, according to Col. David L. Stone, who with Col. Frank Halstead is training a civilian and an army team.

Sunday at Ak-Sar-Ben field and through their pieces. "There is no reason in the world why Omaha can't have as good if not better teams than Shelling or any other city or post," said Colonel Stone. "We have some very good timber and the boys work well. By next fall we should have a whirlwind brace of teams."

Blood Hounds Track Man Held for Murder

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 31.—Maximo Perea, a young married man of Corrales, about 29 miles north of here, was arrested and lodged in jail there late today in connection with the murder of Miss Edwina Silva, 19, whose mutilated body was found in an irrigation ditch near Corrales yesterday. Miss Silva had been missing about 10 days. Blood hounds from the state penitentiary were taken to Corrales today. They are said to have been given the scent of the girl's shoe and have gone directly to the Perea home, where some of the dead girl's apparel covered with blood, was found.

Anti-Klan Bill Is Introduced in Oklahoma

By International News Service. State Capitol, Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 31.—A bill prohibiting the wearing of hoods and other masquerade except in lodges or private homes, declaring an emergency and forbidding assembly of one or more persons for the purpose of violating its provisions, was introduced in the Oklahoma senate this afternoon by Senator C. H. Leedy. This is the first vital legislation in Oklahoma aimed directly at the Ku Klux Klan. One section provides penitentiary sentences of one to 29 years for persons convicted of assembling in bodies of 19 or more for the purpose of "whipping, criticizing, threatening or intimidating persons," or for committing these acts. Such an offense is termed riot. Nazimova's Vaudeville Sketch Is Withdrawn By Associated Press. New York, Oct. 31.—"The Unknown Lad," a vaudeville sketch dealing satirically with the divorce laws of New York state, in which Mme. Nazimova played a woman of the streets, was withdrawn yesterday from the program at the Palace theater as objectionable. The action was taken at the request of F. F. Albee and other officials of the D. F. Keith organization. The sketch started on the Pacific coast about nine weeks ago and in traveling eastward drew sharp criticism in smaller cities.
