

U. S. Opposes Breakup Move in Germany

Will Not Recognize Rhineland Republic—Britain Takes Same Stand and Warns France.

By International News Service. Washington, Nov. 1.—The United States will not recognize the Rhineland republic, or any other mushroom separatist government set up in German territory, it was learned authoritatively here today.

In this respect, American policy is generally similar to that of the British government. The British have already served formal notice upon the French that London will not recognize different segments of a dismembered Germany.

London, Nov. 1.—By notes delivered to the French and Belgian governments yesterday the British government puts into formal form the announcement made recently by Premier Baldwin that the government cannot view with equanimity the creation of separate states in Germany or the dismemberment of that country. The notes declared that Great Britain cannot recognize an independent Rhineland republic, de facto or de jure, because such a republic is contrary to the treaty of Versailles.

British action in this respect is inspired in the first place by the realization that the disintegration of Germany would leave no central government which could be held responsible under the Versailles treaty, and, in the second place, by the fact that recognition of the Rhineland republic would cause endless embarrassment to the British government in the Cologne zone, where the British troops might become involved in the

Germany Will Not Break Ambassador Declares

Dr. Otto Wiedefeld.

Dr. Otto Wiedefeld, German ambassador to the United States, pictured on his return from Germany, declared the separatist government is sure to fail, and that Germany will not be broken up.

delicate task of keeping order among the contending German factions.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The British government, through its ambassador, the marquis of Creve, has sent two communications to the French foreign office which were received there as in happy accord with the conciliatory spirit shown by France in recent intercourse between the two countries.

The first note drew the French foreign office's attention to the juridical consequences which might be entailed by the separation of Germany from certain provinces, in that such provinces were not signatories of the treaty of Versailles, and so would not directly have assumed obligations laid upon the Reich by this treaty.

It has been reported that the note contained various statements, including criticism of certain measures taken by the French and Belgians in the zones of occupation, but it can be said that the note is limited to the above declaration, based on the treaty of Versailles. An academic communication was made to the Belgian government.

Premier Polcare did not have time yesterday to draft replies, but as apparently not the slightest difference exists between the governments on the two questions treated therein, there is no doubt as to the nature of the reply.

Judge Resents Lawyer's Boast

L. B. Day Refunds "Lunch Money" to Attorney After Rumors Spread.

District Judge L. B. Day was invited to luncheon recently by a certain elderly lawyer of Omaha. He accepted, went and enjoyed the meal and the entertainment.

A short time thereafter reports came to him that the lawyer was telling his friends, "If you want anything from Judge Day just tell me. I can get anything I want there."

The judge summoned the lawyer to his office and spoke to him thus: "Here is $1.50—to pay for that lunch to which you invited me. I don't know how much it cost you, but that will more than cover it," said the judge in stern tones.

"Why, what does this mean?" stammered the lawyer.

"The report has come to me that you are going about saying you can get anything you want from District Judge Day. This is to give you notice that you can't. I don't want your luncheons at that price."

The lawyer protested volubly that he hadn't made the statements. He refused to take the money and left it lying on the table when he finally departed.

Stock Receipts Show Increase

Hog receipts at the South Omaha market during October were 42,000 greater than during the same month a year ago.

And while cattle receipts for the month just ended were nearly 28,000 short of the same month a year ago, sheep receipts for the month were 65,000 heavier than during October of 1922.

A comparative table of cattle, hog and sheep receipts this October and last, follows:

Year	Cattle	Hogs	Sheep
1923	216,155	195,000	421,518
1922	243,446	153,588	356,147

Son Is Born to Bluffs Couple on Mother's Own Birthday; Father Elated

Yesterday was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Robert W. Daniels, formerly Miss Adele Davis of Omaha.

And October 31 also has become the anniversary of her youngest son. He arrived shortly before midnight last night. Both mother and son were reported doing nicely.

The father bought a larger hat this morning.

"That's two boys and two girls, new," said he. "I'll make a mixed quartet out of them."

Jury Puzzled by Deaths.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—A coroner's jury today failed to penetrate the mystery surrounding the double fatality by gas asphyxiation of Arthur Thorn, formerly of Joplin, Mo., and Bernice Halverson, 17, Palmer, Mich. They were to have been married last Thursday but on Sunday, October 21, were found dead in the home of the girl's aunt. Acquaintances of Thorn said he had told them he was married with a wife and children somewhere in Iowa. The jury merely returned a finding that both died of gas.

Organized responsibility

One of the most frequently repeated expressions used in discussing the YELLOW CAB & BAGGAGE Co. of this city is "organized responsibility." We believe it is one that should be better understood.

"Organized responsibility" is an unseen force which throws a mantle of protection around you the instant you get into a YELLOW CAB.

"Organized responsibility" means the ability, as well as the will, to meet all moral and financial obligations. We never shirk legal claims against us, but "organized responsibility" forestalls them by preventing accidents.

"Organized responsibility" has its underlying foundation in the minds and hearts of the men who planned and built this business.

To be sure, we are not philanthropists. We are in business to make money, but there is a distinction between earning a fair return on our investment and "getting rich quick."

We have found that by putting service above dollars, profits take care of themselves.

Hail them anywhere
