

Today
Rabelais Sheep.
A Real Radiogram.
To Hang for an Idea.
Deer Living, Wolves Dead.
 By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Wall street gentlemen should read again the interesting sea voyage described by Rabelais, and the story of the sheep merchant, on board. One sheep being thrown overboard, all the other sheep jumped after it, and the sheep man was ruined. That's what happens where our brightest financial minds, with deep intelligence economic, weigh causes and effects and then jump overboard. They got a lesson from Judge Gary's little dividend tilt, on Wednesday. And they got another lesson yesterday "It does not pay to sell the United States short." That was well said.

If you are a radio enthusiast, and understand such things, you will be interested in yesterday's announcement. A message, reaching its only impulse on this side of the ocean, made the trip of 9,000 miles to Warsaw and back 20 times, a total distance of 360,000 miles. That is almost twice as far as light and electricity travel in one second. It amazes us now, we see it, and work it, and know nothing about it. Some will send messages to outside suns, ending with "please answer" knowing that at 186,000 miles a second the answer will not be back in time for our grandchildren to read it.

Eugene V. Debs says prison didn't frighten him. Right now he would "hang for an idea." That's noble, once in awhile, although you must first be sure that your idea is sound. For one man hanged for a good idea, 10,000 have been hanged for ideas thoroughly bad.

If you have a sound idea, don't hang for it, publish it, repeat it, persuade others to accept it. Voltaire opposed torture of witnesses, breaking every miserable judge in one famous case, after a fight of many years, he defied Frederick the Great, greater powers, and finally died peacefully in his bed nearly 85 years old, rich in money, adored by the people that drew his carriage through the streets. He showed the right way to deal with an idea. That was better than poor John Brown of Harpers Ferry, never living to see anything accomplished.

It takes one kind of ability to "hang" for an idea, and it takes a high kind to convert or hang those that oppose the idea when it is right.

A five-ton truck, stuck in Long Island mud, loaded with cauliflower, is attacked by deer, while the driver goes for help and the cauliflower eaten. In that same place, 200 or 300 years ago, wolves would have soon appeared to eat the deer within a few miles of the world's biggest city.

Why are there no wolves, but plenty of deer? Because deer help and warn each other. As 50 deer graze or browse, each deer has 100 eyes watching, 100 ears listening to protect him. The wolves betrayed and fought each other, and they vanished. Read Kropotkin's "Mutual Aid, as a Factor in Evolution," and learn that the survival of the loyal and true is as definite as the survival of the fittest.

Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me. Thus Christ spoke through His servant, Matthew. Julius Rosenwald, although he is not a Christian, takes the hint and gives $100,000 to feed Germany's starving children. What 100 per cent Christian will follow that example?

Young J. Warner Bellah of Columbia won the Knapp prize, with a book written in 19 hours. The world admires the ease with which he writes. If Boileau were alive he would tell Mr. Bellah that he wrote to Racine, then about Bellah's age: "You tell me that you write with great ease. I hope to teach you to write with great difficulty."

After he began writing with difficulty, Racine amounted to something. Beware of deadly facility. Nothing worth while was ever done easily. If you find it easy, make it hard by doing it better and doing it over.

Another lady, she is from Illinois, will raise a few spirits, just to prove that she can do it, and get a reward of $2,500 offered in New York for genuine spirit raising. The last lady that tried got the spirits to write for her nicely, just by putting pretty flowers between the blank cards. Only, it turned out, that other cards had been substituted for the blank cards. The Illinois lady, Mrs. Thompson, will "make spirits" clad in snow white garments, come out of a cabinet.

The amusing feature of the performance is the spectacle of those-called scientists make of themselves investigating these alleged phenomena. It simply means encouraging folly and weakness. Also, that the scientists are by no means sure of themselves. They would not investigate any scheme for creating perpetual motion.

Prehistoric Bones Fail to Arrive at Lincoln
 Special Dispatch to the Omaha Bee.
 Lincoln, Nov. 2.—None of the prehistoric bones reported to have been unearthed near Williams, Neb., has been received at the office of Prof. E. H. Barbour, geologist at the University of Nebraska, it was announced at the office today, nor has any information been received to indicate that the bones are being forwarded. It was announced at the time of the discovery that the bones would be sent to Professor Barbour for examination.

Professor Barbour is not in Lincoln at present. Other persons in whose office are inclined to believe that the bones are Indian bones, but declined to express any opinion until the specimens arrive.
