The American Ambassador to England takes to the lawn—Col. George Harvey playing croquet at Warwick Castle following his return to London to resume his duties.

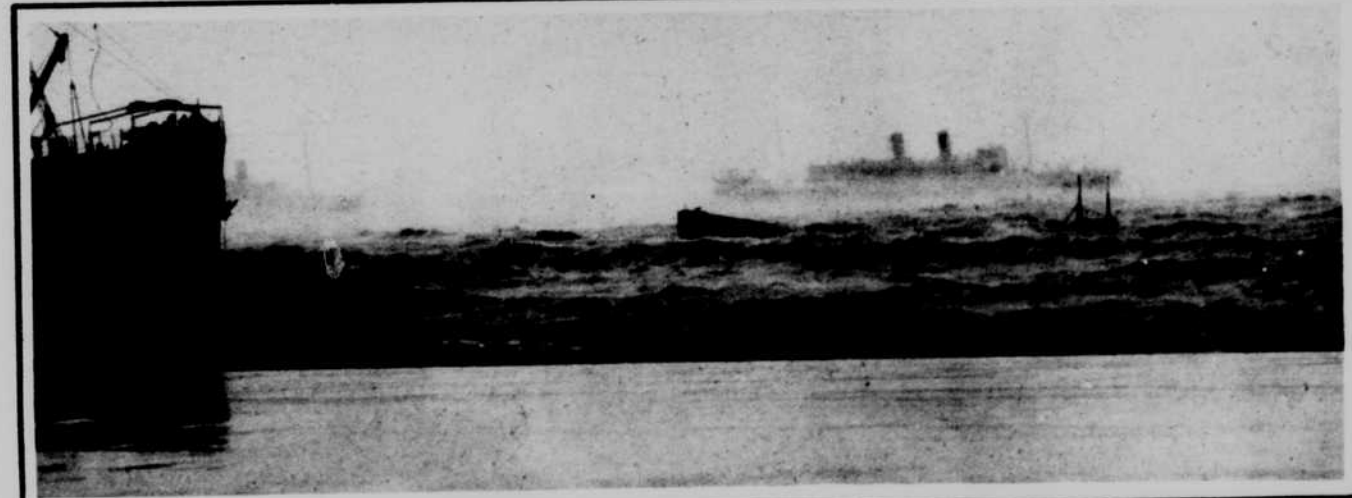

THE FIRST PLANE TO LAND ON NEW YORK'S STREETS; a tiny Sperry messenger piloted by Lieut. Edwin Johnson, of Mitchell Field, sailing around Grant's Tomb, just before he skidded on Riverside Drive and crashed into a lamp-post. Johnson was uninjured but the plane was somewhat hors de combat. Follow-Up Photo-Service.

A $35,000 BOSSIE. Introducing "Darlings Jollie Lassie," the world's champion Jersey cow, as posed at the National Dairy Congress recently convened at Syracuse, N. Y. The mere human with the modern milk factory is Ovid Pickard, of Marion, Washington. Wide World.

Left — "BUFFALO BILL'S" COOK, W. F. Ward is still mixing batter in a lumber camp at Klamath Falls, Ore. Ward, who is a Sioux Indian, tells many an interesting tale of his experiences while traveling with the famous Bill Cody. He took an active part in the celebration staged at Klamath Falls last week in commemoration of the beginning of the construction work by the Southern Pacific Railway on its new line from Klamath Falls to Eugene, Ore. P. A. I.

KNIGHTING AN AMERICAN NURSE. General Gouraud, "The Lion of the Argonne," who recently visited the United States, pictured in the courtyard of the Hotel des Invalides, in Paris, as he bestowed the honor of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor upon Miss Smalley, well-known American war nurse. Underwood.

"COMMODORE GAUNT," owned by Mrs. Walter H. Bowes, of Greenwich, Conn., snapped just after he finished third in the biggest steeplechase cross-country race ever held around New York.

"Kerami"

A lustrous and beautiful fur fabric.

Made in simulation of animal furs and in multi-colored effects.

KERAMI is especially suitable for long coats and evening wraps. The soft draping qualities of the material and the striking color effects are an inspiration to designers of distinctive garments.

KERAMI is also suitable for the hip-length jacquette that is now in vogue.

In fact, the jacquette is never more distinctive than when developed in one of the new and beautiful shades of this soft, lustrous fur simulation.
