

Coach Dawson Back From East After Seeing Notre Dame Play Game Saturday

Huskies Prepare for Next Contest

Work in Secret Behind Locked Gates in First Practice.

Lincoln, Nov. 5.—Nebraska began its last week of preparation for Notre Dame behind locked gates, Monday evening.

When Head Coach Dawson rules everybody out, there were no exceptions—sportswriters, fans with written permission to attend secret practice and all the rest were excluded.

Coach Dawson got back Monday from South Bend, where he saw Notre Dame measure Purdue, 34 to 7, Saturday.

"Rockne hasn't a football team. He has an army. He sent in six teams, and they all looked sweet. But I still believe we can beat them," Coach Dawson said.

So say that Coach Dawson was merely impressed by the showing of Notre Dame, judging by his demeanor when he began telling about them, would be like describing Niagara Falls as cute, and the Grand Canyon as neat.

And a special dispatch from South Bend intimates that Coach Rockne was not at all pleased with the showing of the Irish against Purdue. He thinks he erred in permitting them to take things easy the week before the Purdue game.

Reading between the lines, it might be assumed that this week will be a fairly busy one for the Irish. And, realizing the gigantic task before the Cornhuskers, Coach Dawson will undoubtedly redouble his efforts to whip them into shape for the big test Saturday.

There is considerable talk about a wet field working to the advantage of the Huskers in that it might slow down those impeccable Irish. Be that as it may, if Captain Lewellen can win the toss and the Huskers are able to stay off the vision until they get to the point where they see for themselves that the Notre Dame players, like all others, are only human in spite of the paean of praise which has been sung for them, the length and breadth of the land, then will come the day when the Irish will be no more left for sale Saturday.

Walter Eckersall of Chicago will referee the game with H. G. Hedger, Dartmouth, umpire; B. L. McCreary, Oklahoma, field judge and Jay Wyatt, Missouri, head linesman.

Stadium Seats Are All Sold Out

The new stadium at the University of Nebraska will be filled to capacity Saturday when Knute Rockne's team of stars trots onto the gridiron to contest with the Cornhuskers. Every available seat is expected to be sold before the middle of the week.

There will be 300 more tickets placed on sale at the Beaton drug store here, and Lincoln agencies report that all of their tickets have been sold. Any Omaha wishing to see the game had better take time to the fore and invest before the trip to Lincoln is started. There will be no tickets there for the tardy.

Aside from the 300 tickets that are to be put on sale at Beaton's every one of the 22,000 seats in mammoth stadium are gone.

When the time came to release the tickets for the game Omaha was allotted 2,500 and these all have been sold in less than two weeks.

Short Hots Sports

Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha ball club, is expected to arrive in the city soon from his winter home in San Antonio.

The Denver Sinclair Refining bowling team beat the Omaha team in a special telegraphic match yesterday.

The Harlan, Ia., town football team won from the Ak-Sar-Ben Knights of Omaha at Harlan, Sunday, 23 to 0.

Jack Renault Proves Fighter—Jack Renault, by knocking out Floyd Johnson, a bulldog in gameness and aggressiveness, had the two-fold satisfaction of proving he is not faint-hearted. Many wondered if he were. Perhaps Renault's poor fight against Billy Miske and Gene Tunney are attributable to his not being "right." His knockouts of George Geffrey, Fred Fulton and "Toby" Hearn and now Johnson, would seemingly argue so.

Race Ends in Dead Heat—Buenos Aires, Nov. 5.—The running of the Carlos Pellegrini stakes, valued at 50,000 pesos, resulted in a dead heat here yesterday between Don Padilla and Moviedzo. Gallego was third. The time for the 3,000 meters was 3 minutes 8 3/5 seconds.

Classified ad news is good news. Read it now.

FIRPO DISAPPOINTED

Lima, Peru, Nov. 5.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine heavy-weight, gave an exhibition here last evening, boxing four rounds each with his sparring partners, Hera and Respress. The box of five receipts proved a disappointment to the Argentine fighter, as only 9,000 persons could be induced to pay the high admission fee to witness an exhibition. The spectators, however, gave Firpo an ovation after he had done his evening's work.

SWINGING GLOVES JUST A SIDE LINE WITH MISKE

St. Paul heavyweight fighter who meets Bill Brennan here Wednesday night in main event of Legion fistic show finds his greatest happiness in playing with his young son, Douglas. The photo shows the fighter busy repairing a toy for his son.

COMING GRID CONTEST CLIMAX OF 1923 SEASON

HE roads, paths and byways lead to Lincoln to witness the annual Notre Dame-Nebraska football game which will be played Saturday afternoon before what is expected to be the largest crowd that has ever attended a contest at Lincoln.

Coach Knute Rockne's Notre Dame gridsters have beat cream of the eastern and southern football world. The South Bend team is noted as a wonder. Last year Nebraska beat Notre-Dame before thousands of fans. Saturday Notre Dame will take the field favorite to trim the Huskers.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Notre Dame Goes on Forever

As the Saturdays slip on in lapses in time, Notre Dame is grandly approaching the perfect thing in football, an all-conquering record. Three more games—Nebraska, Butler, Carnegie Tech—are yet to be bent on to make the perfect whole. But Notre Dame should be an odds-on favorite to do it.

Year after year now Notre Dame has amazed by the regularity with which splendid teams have been turned out. Other colleges rise and fall on the football firmament, but Notre Dame goes on and on. Many wonder why it is.

In short, the word loyalty might answer. Throughout the mid-west and elsewhere Catholic priests and others are on the lookout for talent. And who wouldn't like to play football for Notre Dame? Then, the paramount important there, of course, is the expert coaching of Knute Rockne, who has something of an all-year-round system for the inculcating of his fine knowledge.

And Rockne works without a contract, and the athletic board works with him as though he had one. That's loyalty of the ninth degree.

Year after year now Notre Dame has amazed by the regularity with which splendid teams have been turned out. Other colleges rise and fall on the football firmament, but Notre Dame goes on and on. Many wonder why it is.

In short, the word loyalty might answer. Throughout the mid-west and elsewhere Catholic priests and others are on the lookout for talent. And who wouldn't like to play football for Notre Dame? Then, the paramount important there, of course, is the expert coaching of Knute Rockne, who has something of an all-year-round system for the inculcating of his fine knowledge.

And Rockne works without a contract, and the athletic board works with him as though he had one. That's loyalty of the ninth degree.

Year after year now Notre Dame has amazed by the regularity with which splendid teams have been turned out. Other colleges rise and fall on the football firmament, but Notre Dame goes on and on. Many wonder why it is.

In short, the word loyalty might answer. Throughout the mid-west and elsewhere Catholic priests and others are on the lookout for talent. And who wouldn't like to play football for Notre Dame? Then, the paramount important there, of course, is the expert coaching of Knute Rockne, who has something of an all-year-round system for the inculcating of his fine knowledge.

And Rockne works without a contract, and the athletic board works with him as though he had one. That's loyalty of the ninth degree.

Year after year now Notre Dame has amazed by the regularity with which splendid teams have been turned out. Other colleges rise and fall on the football firmament, but Notre Dame goes on and on. Many wonder why it is.

In short, the word loyalty might answer. Throughout the mid-west and elsewhere Catholic priests and others are on the lookout for talent. And who wouldn't like to play football for Notre Dame? Then, the paramount important there, of course, is the expert coaching of Knute Rockne, who has something of an all-year-round system for the inculcating of his fine knowledge.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

Tickets are selling fast. The new Nebraska stadium will be crowded by game time, judging from the interest already shown in the coming clash.

While the Huskers are battling Notre Dame, Creighton will be playing the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich. Creighton came out of the Haskell Indian contest Saturday in pretty fair condition. Coach Chet Dwyne has a busy week.

JOHNNY CORRIDEN SIGNS CONTRACT WITH BOOSTERS

Fred Luderus and Jack Lelivelt May Return to Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Respectively, but Nothing Definite Has Been Announced—Burch May Manage Omaha Buffaloes Next Summer—Not After Denver Club.

HAT will be the lineup of Western league managers next season?

Judging from the trend of gossip from the various league members, the only pilot who is sure of his job with the same club next season, or at least of whom definite announcement has been made of his re-engagement, is Johnny Corriden at Des Moines.

Corriden enjoyed his first season as a manager this year and earned plenty of credit for being a peppy little general. The Des Moines fans like Corriden and that is enough.

Another 1923 manager is pretty sure of his job next season. He is Fred Luderus; husky Fred, who piloted the Oklahoma City Red Skins to a championship. While no definite announcement has been made regarding the 1924 manager of the Indians it is almost certain that Luderus will steer the Red Skins around the circuit next summer.

The situation right here in Omaha is kind of on the fence. Barney Burch, owner of the team, may manage the club himself, thereby releasing Ed Konetchy, who piloted the Buffaloes this year. However, Burch may decide to keep Konetchy at the head of his team, but we doubt it.

Eddie Tracy, the new owner of the Saints, is still casting about for a team boss. The situation was livened by the fact that Paddy Bauman, former Tulsa second-sacker, has applied for the job.

Bauman was selected as an all-star Western league infielder as well as a slugger. Besides that, he is a veteran and has plenty of diamond knowledge. Whether he can handle ball players—a very ticklish job—is another question.

Dick Breen, former Des Moines, Oklahoma City and Sioux City manager, who has applied for the St. Joseph job of manager.

There is no question but what Jack Lelivelt can return to Tulsa as manager. A report was circulated not long ago that Jack had signed a 1924 contract. We read in a Tulsa paper where Lelivelt had been until next spring. Lelivelt has spent two seasons in Tulsa, winning the pennant his first turn and finishing second this season.

There isn't any truth in the report that Barney Burch may buy Milton Anderson's baseball holdings in St. Joseph and move Lelivelt to the St. Joseph manager. Ask Burch if he expects to do that and he will let you a yell that will echo across the Missouri.

"I lost enough money with the Buffaloes this season and couldn't buy a knot hole in the Denver park," says Barney.

The Denver job will be open to any ambitious manager. It's a cinch Billy Gilbert, the graduate of John McGraw's school, will not be back. Denver fans want and deserve a team that is up to the running from the start. The city is large enough to support a good team and will support it, providing the club plays good ball.

Frank Isbell hasn't decided as to whether Pop Gregory will return as manager of the Wichita Whites. Gregory didn't do a bad job this season and the Whites fans seem to be back of Pop, which means a lot these days.

The situation is pretty much muddled at Sioux City. Frank Metz had difficulty in getting the Packers to playing in top form and in mid-season he was traded to St. Joseph for Arthur Olson. Eddie Pamler, second baseman, then was made manager of the Sioux City club. However, it would not be a bad guess that neither Palmer nor Metz will be at the helm in Sootown next season.

A lot of this talk about the Sioux City franchise being moved to Kansas City has dropped off. The chances are there will be a change in the local ball holdings in St. Joseph and move Lelivelt to the St. Joseph manager. Ask Burch if he expects to do that and he will let you a yell that will echo across the Missouri.

EASTERN HORSES PROVE METTLE ON SOUTHERN RACE TRACKS

By Universal Service. EW York, Nov. 5.—A horsemaster may have fame in old Kentucky, the richest land of thoroughbred competition and here, some star may arise in the ranks of the poorest kind of money hunters in Havana, New Orleans or far Tia Juana.

But when that horse comes east, ordinarily, he gets little notice, among the sprightly sons and daughters of the foreign-bred, the eastern studs of New York state, Maryland, Canada and Virginia. Kentuckians and others, nettled at such action find solace often in a victory and a long price.

Many times climatic and track conditions mitigate sadly against these stars of other parts.

Invading jockeys, too, know the snubs. Kings and princes among their fellows, elsewhere, even apprentices try to give them the laugh, particularly the honors of betting.

The stars of the pinks have a way of "keeping them in their places." These places, famous riders heretofore would say, are back in the rear.

The east has been crowing a long time now. Eastern horses, owned by eastern stables, have won all the big fixtures. They have been going to Kentucky to win the classic Derby, to the continued chagrin of Bluegrass folk. It mattered not that some of these horses were bred and reared in Kentucky; their silks were those of invaders, and the east exulted in victories, claimed as their very own.

And now in Memoriam, a strictly Kentucky product, ridden by Mack Garner, apprentice rider of Kentucky tracks, decisively has beaten the far-sung Zev, piloted by Earl Sande, king of American riders, who achieved his fame mainly in the east.

Kentuckians are hospitable and polite but they are now laughing in their sleeve. They are roaring out loud.

MICHIGAN AND NOTRE DAME KEEP PACE BY WINNING

New York, Nov. 5.—Post-mortem evidence, furnished by the football returns of the past week-end, show that Michigan, Notre Dame, Yale, Cornell, Syracuse and Illinois remain the front runners in the field of national activity. Chicago, Pennsylvania State, Dartmouth and California were adjudged guilty of misrepresentation but in the case of Wisconsin, W. and J. and Minnesota, the jury is still out.

Chicago was virtually eliminated from further consideration as a potential midwestern champion when it finished second to the Illini, a wonderfully fast outfit featuring one Grange, top-scorer of the Big Ten. Michigan and Notre Dame stuck with the pace by disposing of Iowa and Purdue respectively, but Penn State fished out before the running attack of Syracuse and California lost caste, nationally, by getting no better than a score stand-off with Nevada.

This result can mean only one of two things, to wit: Either Nevada has quite a football team or Cal. Hornum lacks the punch of other years. In any case, the Bears must now give additional proof that they belong.

The most impressive teams in the east, at this writing, are Cornell, Yale and Syracuse, named in the order of their present worthiness. Handicapped schedule or otherwise, Cornell silenced all adverse comment in running up 32 points on a Dartmouth eleven, fresh from a victory over Harvard and until that moment undefeated. It looks like another Cornell year, with only Pennsylvania in the offing. The Pennsylvania team is coming on rapidly, but probably will be several jumps removed from adequacy for such a test as Cornell can and will offer.

Yale was a second half team against the army, and the impetus of that rally should carry right on through to the end of the schedule. If Yale does not beat Harvard and Princeton this year, it might just as well turn its attention to canoeing and the finer arts; something big and clean, for example, like washing an elephant. Yale is surely due.

Syracuse added to a fine record by beating Penn State and kept its goal line inviolate, a record equaled only by Wisconsin. Michigan and California, the Orange seems to have been one of the best defensive outfits in the country, and in the light of after events, may have even more.

Minnesota kept in the running out west by out-scoring Northwestern but the Gophers seem to be a trifle short of the ability of such teams as Illinois, Michigan and Notre Dame. Carnegie Tech finally passed beyond championship ranking by losing to Lehigh.

3 Teams Tied for Grid Lead—Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota are unbeaten in the "Big Ten" title chase. Minnesota and Wisconsin have each won one, and played a tie game against each other. Illinois has won all three of its conference games and Michigan has won its two. That gives Illinois an edge, but Michigan looks the strongest.

Sportographs

By ELCEE. There are only two topics of conversation now. The fight between Miske and Brennan Wednesday night at the Auditorium and the coming conflict between Nebraska and Notre Dame.

Of the two it seems hard to tell which will develop the greater interest.

The Billy Miske-Bill Brennan fracas looks mighty good to the inhabitants of fistiana. Both men have fought good boys in days gone by and have given creditable accounts of themselves. Both pack a terrible wallop and both are well versed in the science of boxing.

To say the least the bout should have a lot of interest for the fans.

Coach Dawson of Nebraska has just returned from looking over the fast Notre Dame aggregation and reports his impressions of the team.

His chief utterance was that he believes that Knute Rockne has no team. Just an army.

Rockne has six first teams among his string of players and substitutes, Dawson declares.

Yet Dawson adds that he thinks Nebraska can win the football game.

He should know it. He is pretty familiar with his material and has now seen what South Bend has to offer.

Coach Schmidt of Central High school is planning on giving his charges an opportunity of seeing some fast football played. He is to take his entire team to Lincoln for the game Saturday.

Harry Sinclair still has unbounded faith in the ability of his prime 3-year-old to win races. He has announced that Zev will make at least one more start this season.

Another weighty remark that Sinclair made was that Zev never looked better to him than just before last Saturday's race. He wasn't alone there. Several others thought Zev would win, and placed the contents of the family sock on their judgment.

Tanforan reports that the race meeting at that track is going over big, despite the absence of betting. They fail to state, however, whether or not there is betting away from the track.

Jack Dempsey now tells why he moved from his spacious home in Los Angeles and took a small apartment.

It was the same old story of the cook ruling the home. Jack's cook objected to having him entertain so many guests. Just to prove who was boss the cook left—and Jack moved.

The French racing enthusiasts seem to be having a lot of trouble in settling the entries in their international race.

They want to invite some American to send his horse to France for the event but they are undecided as to who to ask.

Zev was the most popular name on the list and the committee was ready to open negotiations with Harry Sinclair. Then Zev lost a race and now the committee wonders if it might not be better to entertain in Memoriam.

In Memoriam might be the horse to enter, at that. The races in that country are over long distances and in Memoriam has shown that he likes a distance.

Coach Howard Jones of Iowa has turned author. After producing some teams that opened the eyes of the football world he has written a book on how to play football.

The book should be good, its by an authority.

The Western league seems to be a little bit upset now over who will direct the teams this coming season. There is nothing to get excited about.

Good Seats Still Available for Wednesday's Boxing Program

Auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

A Great Heavyweight Match: BILLY MISKE vs. BILL BRENNAN 10 Rounds

Good Preliminaries. Prices $3, $2, $1. Tax Free (A few choice seats at $5)

Hard Work Ahead of Rockne's Men

Fighting Irish Failed to Come Up to Coaches Expectations.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 5.—Coach Rockne today began his drive for the last four games of the season. Because of the comparative apathy of the team during the last two games, contests which were foregone conclusions as victories, it is thought that the coach will now pick up the reins and begin to whip his men into shape for their remaining contests with Nebraska, Butler, Carnegie Tech and St. Louis.

The Nebraska contest next Saturday at Lincoln is expected to be the toughest of the four, because of the preponderance of weight, which the Cornhuskers will throw into the game, and the victory of Dawson's team last year.

This afternoon's workout was light only limbering up exercises, and signal drills being used. Tomorrow the third string will scrimmage the freshmen who will be using Nebraska players. The regulars will scrimmage Wednesday afternoon.

French Unable to Pick Race Horse

Paris, Nov. 5.—In the absence of Pierre Wertheimer, owner of the French champion 3-year-old colt Epinard, who is away for the week-end hunting, no decision has been taken concerning a match race between Epinard and the horse chosen as America's best 3-year-old.

The committee which is trying to organize a race is at sea as to which American horse to invite to come to France should M. Wertheimer accept the proposal for a race. The American Jockey club may be requested to nominate the 3-year-old most worthy to represent the United States.

Five months remain yet in which managers may be found.

Now that the cooler weather has arrived bowling seems to be taking the lead among indoor sports.

Sunday night the Farnam bowlers won a special match game. In the mixed doubles at the Omaha alley Mrs. Prendergast and A. Cushing won with a total number of pins of 1,124.

Games This Week

FRIDAY—Central against University at Creighton field, 1:30 p. m. Tech against Creighton Prep at Creighton field, 2:30 p. m. South High against Fremont at Fremont.

SATURDAY—Creighton against Michigan Aggies at East Lansing. Missouri Valley against Kansas against Nebraska at Lincoln. Kansas against Washington at Lawrence. Oklahoma against Missouri at Columbia. Case college against Drake at Des Moines. Grinnell against Kansas Aggies at Grinnell.

BIG TEN—Illinois against Wisconsin at Urbana. Purdue against Ohio State at Lafayette. Michigan against Ohio at Ann Arbor. Indiana against Chicago at Chicago. Northwestern against Lake Forest at Evanston.

BIG THREE—Princeton against Harvard at Princeton. Yale against Maryland at New Haven.

Light a Harvester

Record Breaker 10-5 feet 50c

Good Seats Still Available for Wednesday's Boxing Program Auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

A Great Heavyweight Match: BILLY MISKE vs. BILL BRENNAN 10 Rounds

Good Preliminaries. Prices $3, $2, $1. Tax Free (A few choice seats at $5)

Your Guarantee It's a Legion Show

ROTHENBERG & SCHLOSS Omaha, Neb.