

Pioneer Is Dead; Came Here in 1877

Orin P. Thompson Was an Active Church Worker.

Orin P. Thompson, 54, resident of Omaha since 1877, died at his home, 2211 North Twenty-fifth street, Monday, following a short illness.

Mr. Thompson was an active member of the First Christian church and took a leading part in church affairs. He also was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Modern Woodmen of America.

During the latter part of his life, Mr. Thompson was employed by the board of education as janitor of Miller Park school.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Laura Warren, Union City, Ind.; Mrs. J. B. McKenzie, Winchester, Ind.; Mrs. Ida Allen Jones, Denver, Colo., and one brother, Charles Thompson, Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 from the Hulse and Rippen funeral chapel.

No Tobacco, But Little Nip in Morning, Recipe of War Vet, 90

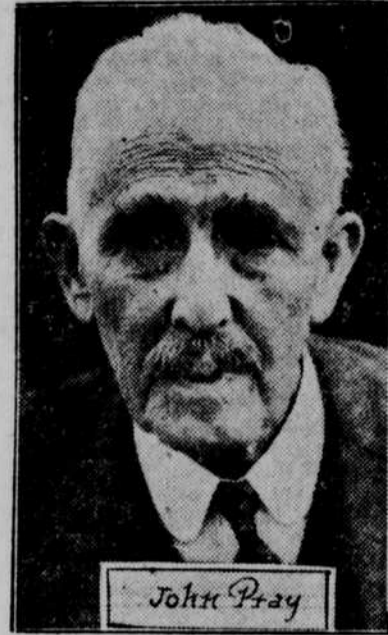

And John Pray's a Whiz at Poker, His Daughter Says.

"No smoking, no chewing of tobacco, but a little nip in the morning is the way I grow younger every day," said John Pray, father of George Pray, 5010 Davenport street, who celebrated his 90th birthday Tuesday.

Mr. Pray, who is a civil war veteran, walks with a cane on account of wounds received in the left leg when a soldier in '61. He is in good health. He takes a long walk every day. His eyesight is perfect.

A card party was held in Mr. Pray's honor Tuesday evening following a birthday dinner. Three tables of whist were played. Mr. Pray, who says he is an inveterate card player, has learned every game but bridge. He is winner at all the poker sittings, according to Mrs. George Pray.

A daughter, Mrs. Harry Warren of Los Angeles, was the only member of the Pray family who was not present to help celebrate their father's birthday. Mrs. T. W. Kendall of South Pasadena, Cal., another daughter, is a guest at the Pray home. Mr. Pray will return to California with Mrs. Kendall in ten days.

Capital Silent on French Stand

No One Will Talk After Jusserand Informs Hughes Paris' Views on Debt.

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 6.—Premier Poincare today received Ambassador Jusserand's cabled report on his conversation with Secretary of State Hughes in Washington yesterday. The conversation is described as most friendly, but no further indications of the American government's attitude are given in official quarters.

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 6.—The Washington government presumably was informed in detail today of the position of France with respect to the proposed new inquiry into the reparations question. Whether Ambassador Jusserand in the lengthy conversation in which he presented the views of his government to Secretary Hughes yesterday had indicated any possibility of a recession in its stand for restricting the scope of the study of economic experts had not been disclosed.

A veil of official silence had been thrown over this latest development in the situation. Neither the French ambassador nor Secretary Hughes, who later conferred with President Coolidge on their conversation, would discuss it. The White House also was silent on the matter.

It thus appeared that neither side regarded the issue as closed and that the negotiations would continue on the French position, which in its insistence that the inquiry be limited to the "present" capacity of Germany to pay, was understood here to be the only obstacle to a final agreement.

Hughes Disavows Herrick By Universal Service.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The State department yesterday joined the White House in disavowing the hand-to-hand speech delivered at Navarin Farm, France, Sunday by Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France.

Secretary Hughes holds that Mr. Herrick was divested of an official status when he pledged the United States to "plow the European furrow through to the end."

Honeymoon Spending Orgy of Bride Bared in Court; Judge Awards Her Only $75 Alimony

A bride's spending orgy was aired in District Judge Day's court Tuesday morning where Mrs. Helen Furness sought temporary alimony from her husband, Gail Furness, Omaha insurance man, who sued her for divorce last week.

He alleged she told him on their wedding trip that she didn't love him and only married him to get alimony. She ran up bills totaling $1,099.75 in Omaha stores in the month of October, according to exhibits by Furness' attorney.

Mostly Foolishness. "This is mostly just for foolishness. It's just junk," declared Judge Day as he looked over the bills.

The bride, dressed in a sealskin coat trimmed with gray squirrel, a fashionable hat and black veil half concealing her face, wiped tears from her eyes during the hearing.

She says her husband has an income of $800 a month, which his counsel declared absurd.

List of Purchases. A bill bought at one large department store on October 29 and 30 included these items: One razor, $5.00; Six pairs socks, $4.50; Two dozen pairs socks, $18.00; Three pairs socks, $5.25; Two hats, $37.00; Two pairs hose, $5.00; One pair hose, $3.35; Two rattles, 50 cents; Three yards metal cloth, $29.94.

Four yards canton, $15.80; Three yards crepe, $8.94; Sixteen flowers, $4.00; Twenty-three roses, $8.97; Three teddies, $10.47; Four teddies, $11.80; Two razors, $10.00; Bills of $264.75 at another store from October 11 to 27 included: One bag, $12.50; Twelve napkins, $12.95; One hat, $7.50; One slip, $10.50.

Awarded $75 a Month. At another store from October 27 to 29 she ran a bill including one coat at $200.

At a men's clothing store between October 27 and 30 she bought many shirts, hose, ties, gloves and handkerchiefs.

Judge Day made an order for $75 a month temporary alimony for Mrs. Furness.

"You'll have to move out of the St. Clara apartments," her attorney remarked to her. The rent of the apartment is more than $75 a month.

Walton Alarmed Over Toy Pistol

Mystery of "Death Threat" Given Governor in Impeachment Trial Bared.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6.—The "death threat" which Governor J. C. Walton said he received, causing him to leave the courtroom suddenly last Friday during the second day's session of his impeachment trial, was a toy pistol sent to him apparently by some practical joker.

This has been established by the senate committee which instituted an investigation of the affair while awaiting the resumption of the trial next Thursday.

Through the testimony of H. C. Schilling, an attache of the governor's office, the senate learned it became known today that "the note" which newspaper men said the governor received while sitting at the council table with his attorneys before the senate court of impeachment, in reality was a neatly wrapped package containing the toy.

Schilling, it was said, told the committee the parcel was received through the mail several days prior to the opening of the trial. It was addressed to the governor, he was quoted as saying, but in the rush of events at the time the executive apparently overlooked it.

Immediately on receipt of it Governor Walton, appearing very much disturbed, indignantly left the courtroom and did not return for the remainder of the afternoon session. He declined to divulge the contents of the package, telling newspaper men he had been insulted and that his life had been threatened.

Move of Cockburn Bared. By Associated Press. St. Louis, Nov. 6.—Extradition of Russell K. Cockburn, a patient at the United States Veterans' hospital at Jefferson Barracks here, to Des Moines, Ia., was blocked yesterday when Circuit Judge McElhinney of Clayton, Mo., issued a writ of habeas corpus in Cockburn's favor.

Cockburn is wanted in Des Moines on an embezzlement charge in connection with an alleged $80,000 payroll fraud.
