

Central Wins From Kearney

Outplay the Out Staters and Take Game by 20-13 Score.

Central High remained in the running for the state high school football championship when it defeated the fast Kearney eleven at League park yesterday afternoon by a score of 20 to 13.

It appeared after the first quarter that Central would be returned victor. Kearney could not hold up under the terrific plunging of Central's back field.

Kearney scored its points in the first quarter and all but a brief period in that quarter had the ball continuously in Central's territory.

Easterling was the outstanding star for the visitors. Minus part of one of his fingers, which he lost in an accident a week or so ago, he played a brilliant game. Time and again he would crash through the locals' line for substantial gains.

Campbell, Kimple and Wunderlich also are worthy of mention. Bill Howell played his usual stellar game for the Purple and was responsible for all of Central's touchdowns.

Any time during the game that Central needed yardage Howell was called on to carry the ball. Robertson, Morrow and Thomas also shared in the heavy work for Coach Schmidt's men.

One of the bright spots of the game was a 70-yard run by Morrow, who received a kickoff on the local's 10-yard line and raced through a broken field to Kearney's 20-yard line before he was stopped.

The fore part of the game was marked somewhat by a succession of fumbles by Central. A Purple misplay being directly responsible for Kearney's touchdown. A few minutes later another misplay placed the ball in a position from where Easterling scored the second touchdown.

It was apparent in the second quarter that Kearney was beginning to show signs of wearing from the Purple attack.

During the balance of the quarter Kearney's goal was in danger two or three times. A forward pass of 33 yards, from Howell to Robertson, ended the half.

On two plays after the kickoff the ball was brought to the five yard line where Howell went over for his second touchdown. Morrow booted the ball between the goal posts for the extra point. Central had possession of the ball during the greater part of the quarter, with the exception of a forced punt due to offense.

and rough work by some of the Purple men. Campbell immediately returned the punt and the referee's whistle ended the quarter after Morrow had made a 15-yard run around left end.

Howell made a 10-yard gain and the ball was brought to Kearney's 12-yard line. Another play through center and the ball was on the visitors' four-yard line. On the next play Robertson fumbled and Shields recovered the ball. Campbell pointed and Thomas and Howell, Central gained first down. Easterling, who had been playing a stellar game for the visitors, was forced out of the game by injuries. Three more plays netted for the Purple lands another first down. On the next play Howell scored his third touchdown of the game. Morrow kicked off.

Central kicked off and Campbell returned the ball 30 yards. On the next play Central was penalized five yards for offense and 15 yards for fouling.

Unable to gain any ground after two unsuccessful attempts at forward passing, Campbell punted to Egan, who fumbled the ball. The referee's whistle ended the game.

Believe It Or Not
HAROLD ROTH, a hunter of repute, has come to the conclusion that some people judge distance with far-sighted eyes. Harold was told by a farmer out in the state that there was a fine Mallard pond about a mile from the farmhouse. A small boy guided him to the pond and the way led through corn fields, plowed fields, cocklebur patches and drifted sand. It took one hour to reach it.

"If it was a mile and a half," says Harold, "it was a full four and a quarter. I wore the soles off my shoes getting there and when I looked at the pond it was so small that I could have covered it with my hat. Any duck that would have landed on it would have been easy to kill. A fellow could have lain in the reeds at the side of it and hit the duck a crack with a club. It was so small and narrow—that is, the hunter had any strength left after walking that long distance."

Mark Stone is a Platte river hunter. Friends who see him come in from a boat with the same number of shells he went out with, inquired as to what he did with his time while up river.

"Build blinds," sez Mark. Mark states that where he hunts, the river comes up and down like high and low tides and when the waves run out within a few hours and that if he isn't cutting willows to make a blind he's hunting a sand bar to build one on.

"To make it harder," he remarks, "the river current is so swift were I hunt that it takes two men two hours to row the 20 yards, so hunting consists of looking, building and rowing."

Oren Fisher has for several years been an enthusiastic duck hunter, but a friend remembers the day when Oren handed his first shotgun. Not so many years ago they went up to a pond near the Missouri river and put out decoys. Suddenly right over the tops of the cattails flashed a flock of teal, coming straight over the blind.

Oren took one look and in a very excited voice called out to his companion: "Hey! Whatinheck are these birds?"

Hurry Up! Just announced that Nash and Kuyow will hold down the tackle positions in the coming week's game against the "Devil Dogs" tomorrow.

Big Ten Ready for Contests Today

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Championship contenders for the 1923 Big Ten gridiron title, round into the last lap of the race tomorrow with Wisconsin and Illinois, bitter rivals, meeting in the Illinois pavilion at the Illinois stadium in the most important combat of the day's schedule.

Other Big Ten entries also will be occupied, but in games having no bearing on the championship. Chicago is a top heavy favorite to defeat Indiana at Stagg field, while Purdue appears to have the edge on Ohio State at Lafayette. The powerful Michigan eleven will engage the Quantico Marines at Ann Arbor, while Northwestern will face Lake Forest at Evanston. Minnesota and Iowa having no games scheduled, will tune up on their home fields tomorrow in preparing for their game at Minneapolis a week later.

Outside the conference Notre Dame and Nebraska promise to provide a battle on the Cornhuskers' home gridiron. Notre Dame, boasting victories over Princeton, Army and Georgia Tech, is determined to square accounts with the 1922 champions of the Missouri Valley conference for the 14 to 0 defeat of a year ago. The battle will be fought before capacity crowds in Nebraska's new uncompleted stadium.

The Illinois-Wisconsin game is expected to draw 35,000 to 40,000 spectators. If Illinois goes down to defeat, they will be out of the running for the championship and Wisconsin will be in line to stage the biggest game of the season in Big Ten circles when they line up against the undefeated Michigan team a week later.

The Badgers, in spite of the loss of the star lineman, Gerber, are confident they can put a blot on the otherwise clean Illinois record. The game promises to be a battle royal from start to finish between two fast backfields. The Badgers facing the difficult task of stopping the fleet Red Grange, the west's leading scorer, which fast opponents of Illinois have failed to do.

Coach Zupke of the Illinois eleven realized the danger of defeat as a result of the frame of mind of the Badgers. The loss of Gerber, who was declared ineligible 48 hours before the game has made the Badgers fighting mad and they hope to spring an upset. Not since 1917 has Illinois humbled Wisconsin on the Illinois field.

Coach Ryan's Badgers have had two weeks of careful preparation for the Illinois engagement and every member of the team is in condition for a gruelling contest.

Kentucky Wants to See Zev Humbled by In Memoriam Once Again

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—Prospects for a match race between In Memoriam, winner of the Latonia championship race last Saturday, and the Rancocas stables Zev, runner-up in that race, to be run at Churchill Downs Friday or Saturday of next week, became promising this afternoon, following an exchange of telegrams between S. C. Hildreth and Colonel M. J. Winn.

In a telegram to Colonel Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, Mr. Hildreth, trainer for the Rancocas stables, expressed a willingness to race the conqueror of Papyrus and winner of the Kentucky derby against In Memoriam over a route of one mile or more for a side bet of $25,000 or "as high as Mr. Weidemann (owner of In Memoriam) wishes."

Carl Weidemann, Newport sportsman and owner of In Memoriam, is quoted as having said in a telephone message to Louisville newspapers that he was unwilling to make a definite statement relative to the proposed race until after he came to Louisville Saturday and ascertained the condition of In Memoriam and the track. Mr. Weidemann is quoted as having said, however, that if conditions could be agreed upon he would be glad to send his horse against the Rancocas stables' crack. He said that he would prefer to have the race over a route of one and one-half miles or more, but would not commit himself to any distance.

R. J. Gilmore, trainer of In Memoriam, said that he was willing to run In Memoriam against Zev over the one and one-eighth mile course.

Sooner—Missouri Contest Greatest

Conference Leaders Play Nonconference Teams Today.

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 9.—Oklahoma and Missouri will clash at Columbia tomorrow in the feature game of the week's Missouri Valley conference card. Nebraska goes outside the conference for a game at Lincoln with the strong Notre Dame eleven, and other games in which Missouri Valley teams participate will have little bearing on conference standings.

Columbia was ablaze with color tonight in Missouri's annual homecoming celebration tomorrow. The old Gold and Black of Missouri mingled with the red and white of Oklahoma. The Sooner squad arrived today and the rival teams were reported in good condition with the exception of Don Faurot, Missouri halfback, who may not be able to play because of an injury in practice Wednesday night.

The result of the Tiger-Sooner clash will be awaited with much interest because of the bearing on Thanksgiving fray between Kansas and Missouri. The Jayhawkers defeated Oklahoma last Saturday, 7 to 3.

The Tigers are hoping for victory by a wider margin. Notre Dame is conceded the edge over Nebraska. Coach Rockne's eleven has defeated all opponents so far this season, most of them by wide margins. The Cornhuskers have been somewhat disappointing. Although retaining a conference standing of 1,000, their record is marred by two tie games, with Kansas and Missouri.

The University of Kansas is expected to have an easy time defeating Washington University, which has lost its first three conference contests. Despite a record of two games tied and one lost the Kansas Aggies are acknowledged to be unusually strong this season and are expected to do down Grinnell handsily in a game at Grinnell.

Drake, which leads the conference by virtue of whitewashing Ames and Grinnell, meets Coe, a nonconference school in a contest at Des Moines. Ames tests this week.

Columbus Loses to Broken Bow in Game That Nearly Results in Fight

Referee Calls Touchdown a Touchdown and Columbus Loses Game by 6 to 3 Score.

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 9.—Through an erroneous decision by the referee, who ruled a touchdown a touchback, the Discoverers were defeated for the first time this season by Broken Bow here this afternoon, 6 to 3.

It was the first time Broken Bow had been scored against this year. Fully 1,500 people witnessed the game, all business houses closing for it.

Though their line was outweighed 15 pounds to the man, the Discoverers carried the ball to Broken Bow territory all through the first quarter, threatening the goal three times. Each time Captain Oehlrich tried a drop kick, his third effort sending the ball over the bars from the 35-yard line.

The questionable decision was on the first drop kick for goal. A Broken Bow man in the field of play touched the ball, after which it rolled across the goal line, where a Columbus man fell on it. The referee ruled it a touchback and held up his ruling despite Captain Oehlrich's protest.

After the game the referee virtually admitted his interpretation of the rules had been wrong and that it should have gone as a touchdown. Broken Bow was helpless until the last quarter when it turned the tide of battle by uncooking an excellent play that put the Discoverers instantly on the defensive. Two forward passes each for about 20 yards, Young to Skinner and Young to Gardner, gave them three touchdowns in the last five minutes of play. Columbus blocked their dropkick for the extra point.

Poesch intercepted two Broken Bow passes under the shadows of the goal posts in the last quarter. Captain Oehlrich, easily the individual star of the game, tearing off several 25 and 30-yard runs and registering strong on the defensive. Broken Bow declared him to be by all odds the best man they have played against this year.
