

Public Life as Profession Is Urged by Sweet

Colorado Governor Declares Y. M. C. A. Prepares Youth of Nation for Active Public Life.

The "Y" is the best preparation in the world for politics, according to Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado, who passed through Omaha yesterday on his way to attend a conference of the World Alliance for Peace Through the Churches at Philadelphia. Governor Sweet, who has been for 21 years a very active Y. M. C. A. man, says that the organization led him to take an interest in public affairs outside his own business, especially as they affected the lives of young men.

The governor said he couldn't say much about Judge Lindsey's determination to respect the confidences of the girls, who had told him their troubles, even if it meant going to jail for refusing to give evidence about malpractices to the grand jury meeting to investigate the situation. Governor Sweet was out of town when the famous juvenile court judge discharged the broadside urging birth control which started the grand jury to investigating.

"I can only say that I am an admirer and have always been a warm supporter of Lindsey," pursued the governor. "I think him fearless and sincere, although at times a little erratic."

The English practice of following public life as a profession was praised by the governor. He himself deliberately quit business in 1921 to devote his energies to public affairs, and believes that men who have some powers of leadership ought to retire when they have made a comfortable living, in order to go into politics.

Governor Sweet admits his hat will be in the ring at the next election, although whether as candidate for reelection as governor or as candidate for the United States senate, he does not know.

$150,000 School Building at Pierce Almost Finished

Pierce, Neb., Nov. 9.—The new school building here is nearly completed, every class room and

Sued by Her Sister for $100,000 Damages

Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, wealthy New York widow, has been sued by her sister, Princess De Lippe-Lipski, for $100,000 for alienation of her husband's love. Mrs. Schroeder denies that the prince had been found in her apartment with his clothes strewn about the room, and Mrs. Schroeder in almost complete undress, as is claimed in the princess' affidavit.

grade room being occupied except the first grade room, which will be ready in a short time.

The building, which includes the grades and the high school, is a modern structure in every respect and considered to be one of the best buildings of its kind in this part of the state. It cost approximately $150,000.

Library at Beatrice Growing in Popularity

Falls City, Neb., Nov. 9.—The growing popularity of the Bruun Memorial library was attested to in a report submitted by Miss Mary Hutchings, librarian, showing that October's circulation exceeded that of any other month by 500 volumes.

Dry Law Failure, Indian Declares

Federal Policeman Makes Observations of Amount of Liquor on Reservation.

Elwood Harlan, full-blooded Omaha Indian of Macy, Neb., who is a witness in federal court, says national prohibition is a failure. Harlan, who farms 60 acres of land when not doing federal police duty, says this because of his observation of the way the Volstead law is being enforced on the reservation and other parts of Nebraska.

"When state agents, who are supposed to see that the laws are enforced, go out and drink, then how do they expect the people to obey them," said Harlan.

Although, as a rule, Indians are silent as a sphinx when it comes to being interviewed, Harlan, who commands good English, spoke very freely and emphatic of his opposition to the liquor laws.

"If the government would go ahead and spend a lot of money and get right down to the person who makes the booze, then the liquor nests will be unearthed," said Harlan, "but, the way the officers go about trying to enforce the laws makes them a joke in the eyes of the people."

Harlan admitted that liquor was being shipped into the reservation and stated that he did not believe a single Indian knew how to make the illicit stuff.

Souvenirs of World War Are Displayed at Wymore

Wymore, Neb., Nov. 9.—A display of world war souvenirs and various kinds of war weapons is on exhibit in one of the Wymore postoffice windows. The collection is owned by Postmaster F. E. Crawford, who was a captain, and a local attorney, L. D. Denamore, who was a lieutenant in France. Gas masks, many kinds of revolvers, bayonets, shells and cans, and several pieces of metal and paper money from France, Germany, Belgium and Austria, are in the collection. One of the most curious articles is a German saw, which resembles a steel rope with a row of stout teeth attached to one side, and the whole joined so that it can be rolled or folded. The collection is attracting much attention.

Alleged Wife Beater's Case Reverts to Lower Court

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 9.—The appeal taken to the district court by Stanislaus Kula, a farmer, from a fine and costs levied against him on a charge of wife beating, was thrown out of court by District Judge F. W. Buiton of Fremont.

Motion to dismiss the appeal was made by County Attorney Otto Walter, on the grounds that the oral bond given by Kula and his bondsmen did not comply with the law, a statute having been enacted by the last legislature requiring appeal bonds in such cases to be in writing. This puts the case back in the lower court.

Nebraska Pioneer Dies: on Homestead 52 Years

Indianola, Neb., Nov. 9.—John Longnecker died at his farm a few miles northwest of this city. He was the last of the little colony of settlers who came to Red Willow county in the spring of 1871 and settled at the mouth of Red Willow creek. Mr. Longnecker died on the homestead he settled upon 52 years ago. He was a native of Kentucky, but came to Red Willow county from Nebraska City with the original Republican Valley Land company settlers.

Water Power Plant Opened

Beatrice Gets Light From New $100,000 Hydroelectric Project at Blue Springs.

Wymore, Neb., Nov. 9.—The new hydroelectric plant built by Black Bros. Milling company on the Blue river at Blue Springs, just north of here, at a cost of nearly $100,000, after nine months of construction, was placed in service Thursday. Electric current is transmitted to Beatrice and sold to light the city, in addition to being used by Black Bros. at their mills at Blue Springs and Beatrice. The plant at Blue Springs is located at the east end of the dam and is equipped with the latest mechanical appliances and is practically automatic, requiring the minimum amount of labor.

Pioneers of Gage County Observe Golden Wedding

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dobbs, pioneer residents of Gage county living in this city, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here in the presence of their children and grand children. A big dinner was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Dobbs received numerous presents as tokens of esteem.

Ready Helpers Club Will Give "Prince of Pilsen"

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 9.—"The Prince of Pilsen," a comic opera, will be presented here next month by home talent under the auspices of the Ready Helpers of the city. The production will be under the direction of Prof. Thomas Stubbs, and rehearsals are now being held regularly.

Bumper Yields of Corn and Oats at Ogallala

Tom Hood who lives about 14 miles southeast of Ogallala, brings in a report which has been verified, that he has a field of corn that will make better than 70 bushels to the acre. C. H. Drews who owns a part of the Old L-7 ranch located about 15 miles northeast of Ogallala, has a field that is making 60 bushels to the acre.

Louis Francil, living northwest of Ogallala, had a 10-acre field of oats which threshed out 930 bushels. While the wheat crop in western Nebraska as well as in many other parts of Nebraska was an entire failure, the oat and corn crop is far above the average, and the quality is A-1.

Corn Husker Picks 142 Bushels Daily for Six Days

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 9.—With corn

husking in full blast in Dodge county, stories of record picking are beginning to be told. Frank Middaugh, well-known farmer, east of Fremont, reports that one of his employes husked 852 bushels, or an average of 142 bushels a day, as the high run of the week.

A corn husker on the Ackerlun farm, east of Fremont, totaled over 300 bushels of Nebraska's leading product within two and one-half days.

Dodge county corn is reported to be in good condition. More huskers are needed, according to County Agent Houser. Eight cents per bushel is being paid by most farmers in the county.

Women Do Farm Work When Man Is Injured

Plainview, Neb., Nov. 9.—Tawnee Holmes, a young man living south-east of here, had his left arm fractured quite badly when a throw board on his wagon fell on him as he was getting ready to husk corn. The women now will have to go ahead with the farm work as his father, William Holmes, is in the Plainview general hospital recovering from a fall in which he broke his leg in three places.

 GENERAL THEME
"PERPLEXING RELIGIOUS QUESTIONS"
 Special Theme for Tomorrow Evening
 "A prominent magazine is publishing a series of articles that seem to indicate that the whole Protestant Church is about to be divided by the controversy between the Fundamentalists and the Modernists. Do you believe this is true? What is a Fundamentalist? What is a Modernist? On which side are you?"
 The service begins promptly at 7:30; doors open a little before 7. For a good seat come early. Last Sunday night people sat in chairs in the corridors. The seats are free. Everybody cordially invited. This is the most outstanding question in the religious world of today. Come and hear it discussed.
