elected state president, will be in Omaha this week and it is hoped that she will arrive in time for the meeting Monday.

The board of directors will entertain at luncheon preceding the meeting, in the tea room of the store, complimentary to Mrs. Barber. Reservations, which are open to club women and their friends, may be made with Mrs. C. B. Coon, Harney 1855

At the request of Mrs. Thomas Winter, president of the General Federation a straw vote will be taken for the next president of the United States at the meeting Monday. The names of the following candidates will be voted upon: Calvin Coolidge. W. E. Borah, Henry Ford, Herbert Hoover, C. G. Hughes, Hiram Johnson, R. M. LaFollette, William Mc-Adoo, O. W. Underwood and Woodrow Wilson. This is being done in all the clubs in the federation and the results will be published in Goodhousekeeping magazine.

The following is taken from a let ter from Mrs. Winter:

'The general federation is trying to awaken women to a keener sense of their duty as citizens. The chief danger in this country lies in the activity of the small dangerous element and the lethargy and indifference of he great mass of us. The federa-

An Open Letter to Fathers and Sons of Omaha

"Like father—like son;" how many times have you heard this quotation? Did you ever stop to think how true it is?

My father is 79, I am 48, and my son is 11. As we grow older and are given to retrospection we can look back and see wherein our habits, traits and dispositions are similar.

I never gave much thought to these things when I was younger, but today I can see where many of my father's traits are mine. There was little talk of such things when I was a boy, at least I never heard much, but I know that if there had been any Father and Son weeks my father would have been interested in them.

It's not what we preach, but what we ARE that makes the impressions on our sons. What I PREACH to my boy is, that he must ABSORB my good traits and ABHOR my bad, but I am not so foolish as to think he will absorb only the good ones.

One proof of the truth of "Like father-like son" is in their habits of dress. If dad is a good dresser and keeps his clothes clean and nicely pressed, so will the boy.

We have the names of many men on The Pantorium books whose fathers are, or were, patrons of ours a quarter of a century ago, and not a few of the third generation.

Come on, fellows, let's take the boys to the meetings this week and see if we can't make them an improvment on their dads.

for Itself!

"I keep your weight a secret. I'm the famous Stylish Stout Corset. Women who wear me appear 20 pounds lighter. They look from three to five inches smaller. I change short, bulging lines into long, straight, graceful silhouettes. I make it easy for you to wear styles you may have despaired of before wearing!"

Personal to Business Women: If you plan to spend your spare time at noon making Christmas gifts, we should be delighted to provide you with a cozy place to sew in our Art Needlework Section.
