

British Election to Be Held Soon

Asquith and Lloyd George Facions of Liberal Party Unite for Campaign.

London, Nov. 13.—Dissolution of parliament before the coming week end was forecast by Prime Minister Baldwin at the opening of the new session today. He announced he had advised the crown to dissolve parliament as quickly as possible and he did not see why the date should not be next Friday.

The premier made a brief statement in which he said a general election was always a disturbing element and should be got through with as quickly as possible.

Mr. Baldwin said in substance he was thoroughly convinced protective tariffs were necessary in order to solve the unemployment problem. The Asquith and Lloyd George factions of the liberal party sank their differences this morning and reunited to present a solid front against the conservative protectionists as well as the labor party in the election.

The reconciliation was effected at a meeting of former Premier Asquith and Lloyd George, Sir Alfred Mond and Sir John Simon. Arrangements were made for a united campaign by all the liberals.

There had been a great element of doubt as to whether the two bitter political antagonists, Asquith and Lloyd George could be brought together. Therefore the announcement of the reunion furnished a sensation. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the laborite opposition, told a meeting of the parliamentary labor party and national labor executives today that Prime Minister Baldwin had informed him of his intention of appealing to the country on a policy of unadulterated protection.

The Evening News states that Mr. Asquith will lead the reunited party. It is recalled that Mr. Lloyd George, in answering interviewers when he landed at Southampton from his American visit last week, said he would work with anybody who would serve the country faithfully.

Mellon Tax Cut Plan Faces Snag

Reductions Include Assault on Yank Bonus to Which Many Solons Pledged.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Decreases in costs from building materials to food and clothing will follow lower taxes on incomes, government tax experts predicted today.

Secretary Mellon attributes the present high cost of living in no small measure to big taxes on big incomes, which have driven wealth from the field of productive enterprise into tax-free securities and other nonproductive fields. Lower the taxes, he believes, and this will be drawn from his hiding places.

While approval has been voiced by returning congressmen over plans for reducing income taxes, it nevertheless became apparent today that congress is going to view the Mellon plan with some suspicion. The Mellon program is recognized as his first assault on the soldiers' bonus, to which a great majority of both house and senate are pledged.

Secretary Mellon's whole scheme of tax reduction is based on congress not passing the bonus. It will not be possible, he contends, to both reduce the taxes and pay the bonus. Thus many congressmen are going to be caught in an embarrassing position—they are pledged to both reduce taxes, if possible, and they are also pledged to the bonus.

Mellon, however, is going ahead with his tax-reducing plan, stressing the contention that lowering surtaxes on big incomes will prove the largest boon to business at this time.

Federal Court Ignores 5 o'Clock Quitting Time, Plaintiff of Tired Jurors

It was past 5 Monday afternoon in federal court but Judge J. W. Woodrough was still listening to arguments in the litigation over the Empress theater. "Gee," said one old juror who had nothing to do but hang around the court room, "it's funny how federal court is so different from the state district courts. When the hour hand almost reaches 5 the state courts are ready to quit, but in federal court one may see the judge and jury working way past 5."
