

Bravery Medal for Cozad Youth

Lawrence Lapp to Get Interstate Commerce Award for Saving Woman's Life.

Cozad, Neb., Nov. 16.—Saturday afternoon at 2:30, 12 officials of the Union Pacific will be at Cozad, and award an interstate commerce commission medal of honor to Lawrence F. Lapp, Union Pacific station helper, at Cozad. The medal is bronze and awarded only after a thorough investigation and upon approval of the president.

Approval of the reward to young Lapp was one of the last official acts of the late President Warren G. Harding, before he left on his Alaskan tour. Young Lapp holds in his possession a letter written by Mr. Harding after leaving Washington, commending his heroic act. Only 24 persons have been so honored in the history of the nation.

Mrs. M. F. Johnson of Cozad was the woman whose life Lapp is credited with saving, on the morning of December 30, 1922, at the Cozad station.

Lapp was pulling a baggage truck to the south side of the platform as Mrs. Johnson crossed the tracks to board passenger No. 16, eastbound. Her hat was blown off and was carried down the track of the oncoming train.

Mrs. Johnson started after her hat, and the train was bearing down upon her. Seeing she was about to be crushed to death, Lapp leaped into the path of the train and carried the woman to a place of safety, just as the train rushed by. Then he collapsed from the excitement. Every one who witnessed the deed, and the engineer in the cab, believed for a short time that both were under the train.

H. A. Adams, assistant to the general manager of the Union Pacific, brought the matter to the attention of the interstate commerce commission at Washington.

In response to an invitation by the citizens of Cozad, and the commercial club of this city, the officials of the Union Pacific will present the medal Saturday in the Rialto theater at Cozad.

At 6:30 in the evening the Cozad commercial club will tender the officials of the Union Pacific system a banquet in the basement of the Methodist church.

Wymore Citizens to Vote on Site for High School

Wymore, Neb., Nov. 16.—At a meeting of the Wymore city council it was decided to call a special election to be held December 18 for the purpose of a vote on the proposition whether or not the city council shall turn over one block of ground, in the west part of Wymore, known as McCandless park, for the site of the new $200,000 high school building to be erected here in the near future.

If the proposition does not carry at the election the new school will be built on the present school block, to one side of the plot of ground, on account of the present obsolete building occupying the center of the block.
