

Boosters Stage Jolly Meeting

Fun and Business Successfully Mixed; Dance Closes Program.

"And if ye be looking for a swateheart in the spring and anther in the fall—" Miss Claire McDermott Friday night kept 300 West Side Boosters in a continuous uproar with her rendition of national ditties. Morton park pavilion, Forty-first and W streets, was filled past ordinary capacity by a crowd of youthful merry-makers. Many watched the proceedings from vantage points outside the windows, while a group composed largely of local talent ran off a snappy and entertaining program. Most of those present were young folk, hiding their time while they waited expectantly, though not impatiently for the dance which they knew was to wind up the evening in a "blaze of glory." Generous applause followed the piano solo of Allen Davis, who opened the program. Bobbie Davis played a violin solo. Numerous encores were in store for an appreciative audience. Miss Claire McDermott gave a reading, and Miss Mildred Mansun played a steel guitar solo. Miss Blanche Freeman entertained with selections on a violin. She was followed in turn by Miss McDermott, who was called out for a special number. Charles Blankenship wrote fairs to the program with a piano solo.

Board of Control Named.

Before the program proper, Ed Rosse's Troubadours tuned in to the delight of the Boosters, and showed why they have announced "The Jolly Six" to be open for dance engagements in the vicinity of South Omaha. Then followed a short business meeting. It was decided that the original West Side Boosters should give way to a South Omaha community center, which will follow out the activities of the Boosters. The question of civic improvements came in for short discussion. It was announced that Commissioners Koutsky and Hopkins will address the center at a special mass meeting to be held at Morton park pavilion Thursday, November 22, to consider civic problems. Six members of a "board of control" for the new community center were elected. It was decided that Dr. W. J. Leary, Benjamin Mundi, W. J. Reese, Miss Earl Graham, Mrs. Robert Girthoffer, and Mrs. Edward Petersen should constitute the realm of "higher-ups." The old officers of the West Side Boosters were retained. W. J. Curran, president, was in charge of discussions and other activities of the chairman, including the duties of official announcer. Other officers are vice president, W. E. Fitzgerald; secretary, William O'Connell, and treasurer, Emil Bucher.

Team to Glenwood.

At a business meeting Thursday night it was decided to petition Commissioner Hummel for a new skating rink in South Omaha before the "real cold weather" sets in. It also was voted to call the attention of Commissioner Koutsky to places in the sidewalks at Thirty-ninth and U streets and Forty-first and V streets, where pedestrians are often injured, especially by a coating of slippery mud which makes walking a hazardous occupation when Jupiter Fluvius spills his rain-bucket over South Omaha. Commissioners Koutsky and Hopkins will be present when zoning ordinances and building restrictions are discussed at the special meeting next Thursday evening. The expected dance wound up the evening's recreation. Ed Rosse's newly christened "Jolly Six" furnished the syncope and chimed in with vocal selections.

Walton Quits "Unfair Trial"

Impeachment Proceedings Break Up in Tumult—Governor Stalks Out.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 17.—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton broke up in a tumult today after the executive, declaring that he was not receiving a fair trial, stalked from the courtroom with his counsel and precipitated a clash between J. T. Sprague, a member of his legal staff and Tom Anglin, president of the senate. The governor and Mrs. Walton and each member of his legal staff walked silently from the senate chamber and left the astounded senate court members and house prosecutors staring at an empty row of chairs, all that remained of the defense in the impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton. House managers summoned another witness and proceeded with the trial. The governor's action came after the senate court by a roll call of 23 to 13 had declared that Article 17, charging issuance of a large number of special police commissions was a matter of law and that all previous testimony on that subject be expunged from the records. Claud Nowlin, defense attorney, took exception to the vote and declared the governor was being denied "equal protection of the law," guaranteed by the state and national constitution.

Governor Walton then took the floor and made a brief statement to the court. The official record of Governor Walton's statement follows: "Mr. Chief Justice and Members of this Court: I have been sitting here fighting for my honor, for my rights and for my home for 10 days. I don't wish here to criticize any of these honorable members, some of them no doubt want to have a fair trial, but I have reached the conclusion that I can not have a fair trial in this court. Knowing that, I am withdrawing from this room. I don't care to stand this humiliation any longer for myself, my family or my honorable attorney. You may proceed as you see best."

With her father's car, Miss Gunthorpe was not driving fast and this fact probably saved her from serious injury.

Paris Ready to Trim Demands

Strong Efforts Being Made to Preserve Franco-British Alliance.

By Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 17.—The final effort to save the entente from dislocation will probably be put over until Monday, as the British cabinet, seemingly is not ready to give the final word to Lord Crewe the British ambassador here as to its position on the application of further penalties upon Germany. Efforts made to prevent a break are regarded in political circles here as futile, the French and British governments being too far apart it is thought to make an agreement possible. London, Nov. 17.—Strong efforts are being made over the week end on both sides of the channel to preserve the integrity of the Franco-British alliance. There were indications at the foreign office today that France was changing its attitude as to some of its threatened penalties against Germany in the event of failure to give up the ex-crown prince and permit the interallied military control to resume its interrupted investigation of German armaments. It appeared this noon that the meeting of the allied council of ambassadors set for today would probably go over until Monday, although the French had been insisting on the earliest possible settlement of the question of obtaining resumption of allied military control in Germany. All the allied ambassadors excepting the British, and Ambassador Herrick, who attends the meeting for his government, were holding themselves in readiness for a call, but it was understood the British ambassador had not received final instructions and that Lord Crewe probably would absent himself if a meeting were called. It was regarded as improbable that Premier Poincare would call a meeting today, should the British ambassador be unable to participate, although the premier is extremely anxious to have the situation cleared up at the earliest possible moment. Premier Poincare is ready to make any concession to the London demands respecting the ex-crown prince, it was declared in official circles, and the hope was expressed in quarters near the premier that a compromise might be reached. The prospects of saving the entente were regarded as slight in political circles, however, where M. Poincare's optimism was not shared because it was felt he would remain firm in demanding action to obtain protection for the allied military control mission in Germany. The break, if it occurs, is expected to be on this point.
