AUCTIONS.

Gilbert Jaffy and Jess Sutton, vio- Auction Sales nist and pianist, Omaha artists, also roved to be popular. They are maks a duo. Their selections were both assical and jazz. Davis and McCoy offered a novelty ct. Harry Coleman, the ventrilouist, and Sullivan and Myers in their uto skit, and Diaz and Powers "Frolies on the Wire," are also a part of the bill. Arthur Hays at the organ again demonstrated his popularity. The feature picture is Herbert Rawlinson in "A Million to Burn."

Farce Tops Bill at Empress. There's many a laugh in "Not To night Dearie" as presented by the Graves Brothers Players at the Empress this week. It is the second week of this company's engagement at the Empress and principals and horus seemed to be hitting their The farce comedy is built around a country hotel, some stranded motorists and several marriage complications with a comedy constable, actress and hotel keeper thrown in for laughter reasons.

"Record Breakers" at Gayety. Jack Reid, known in burlesque circles as a producer of really amusing and novel entertainment, sponsors "The Record Breakers", this week's attraction at the Gayety theater, and his reputation is adequately upheld in this production. The audience is given something to laugh at in practically every line handled by the comedians, while all the specialties are welcome bits of diversion, giving the show all that could be desired from an entertainment viewpoint. Ladies matinee at 2:15 daily. Yiddish Players at Brandeis. Omaha and vicinity will have an opportunity to witness two performinces of the Grossman Yiddish Players at the Brandeis theater Tuesday and Wednesday evanings at 8:30 p. m.

Tuesday evening the company will offer a comedy-drama in Yiddish with a number of Yiddish specialty and folk songs. The title of the play is "Next Wednesday evening's attraction will be "The Home of Peace," a play with a great moral.

Coming to the Brandeis. George E. Wintz's "Venus" will be at the Brandeis theater. A huge walk, built entirely of steel and glass, runs out from the stage over the heads of the audience. The double dozen Wintz beauty contingent romps out upon the structure, so if pa thinks he caught cold in his neck just figure it out that he had a seat directly beneath the promenade. "Venus" will play Friday night and Saturday matinee and night at the Brandels' theater.

Earl Collins Released

on Federal Appeal Bond Earl Collins, former proprietor of a chicken dinner resort on South avenue, who was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail following conviction in federal court on liquor charges, was released Saturday after noon on an appeal bond. His case will submitted to the United States circuit court of appeals.
