Woman's Club Matinee Gala Event

One hundred and seventy five members and their friends attended the matinee luncheon given Wednesday at the Burgess-Nash tea room by the speech education department of the Omaha Women's club for the benefit of the club building fund. The board of directors of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, in session here this week, were guests of the club. They included Mrs. Paul Perryman of Ord, Mrs. W. E. Miller, Oakland; Miss Hattie Summers, Beatrice; Mrs. A. J. Jennison, Harvard; Mrs. S. C. Stoner, Steward; Mrs. C. P. Cressap, Nebraska City; Mrs. E. T. Font, Brock; Mrs. E. S. Nickerson, Papillion; Miss Fanny DeBow, Coleridge; Mrs. Stewart L. Mains, Crete; Mrs. Earl Lyonberger, Superior, and Mrs. J. G. Ackerman, Alnshorst. The honor guests were presented with corsage bouquets through the courtesy of Hess and Swoboda.

Greetings were given by the state officers and Mrs. Phillip Potter, president of the local club, and a vocal solo, by Miss Marjorie Current. Mrs. H. J. Holmes, leader of the speech education department, presided.

Following the luncheon a program was given in the auditorium of the store, "Joint Owners in Spain," a comedy drama, was given by Mesdames C. H. Townsend, O. Y. Kring, E. H. Westerfield and Herbert Sickler, under direction of Mrs. Westerfield. Mesdames W. H. Sleeper, Everett Stoll and J. O. Scott, presented a one-act sketch, "For Distinguished Service," directed by Miss Melba Bradshaw. Mrs. Lillian Guld Faber, accompanied by Mrs. John Haarmann, present a violin solo, a quartet number was given by Mrs. Haarmann, piano; Miss Anna Coughlan, violin; Mrs. F. Anderson, flute; and Mrs. Mabel Burnette, cello, and an extemporaneous speech, "What Does Americanization Mean?" Mrs. Anderson. Dr. Jennie Callie led community singing during the luncheon and at the matinee.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, and emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowley's Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and La Grippe

W. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter-century. What Hill has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All druggists, 30 cents.

Heads Washington Girls' Club

Miss Marcella O'Connor

Miss Marcella O'Connor, the new president of the Washington Girls' club, was elected at the annual Armistice day bridge banquet Saturday evening at the Brandeis tea room, was in charge of the unclaimed mail of the bureau of war risk insurance during the war.

Pearl Freeman, of the compensatory claim division of the war risk insurance, was chosen vice president; Elizabeth Gunnison, of the medical division of the treasury department, secretary; Jessie Rhoades, in the government life war risk insurance, treasurer.

The idea of a Washington girls' club was brought about through the old Nebraska club in Washington during war times. It was organized on Armistice day, 1919, at which time 10 girls in Nebraska were enrolled as members. Girls who served in any department of government service in Washington during the period of the war are eligible to membership.

This year the girls plan to meet at the homes of the various members the first Wednesday of each month to review experiences and to play bridge and Mah Jong.

Mrs. H. E. Schenkel, formerly Lucille Cooper of Hooper, Neb., was an out-of-town guest at the banquet.

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup"
Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love its pleasant taste.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.

Mrs. Geisler and Mr. Goodhand of Ord Are Wed

The marriage of Charles E. Goodhand and Mrs. Laura Geisler, both of Ord, took place Tuesday at the First Congregational church of Council Bluffs. Rev. J. R. Perkins officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Goodhand are stopping at the Conant hotel for a few days. Both are well known in the state. Mr. Goodhand is a contractor and Mrs. Goodhand has been a teacher in the state for many years. She was formerly associated with Doane college as supervisor of women, and resigned as superintendent of Valley county just prior to her marriage. She is a member of the Ord Women's club, of which Mrs. Paul Perryman, president of the Nebraska State Federation of Women's clubs, is a member.

Mr. Goodhand has a daughter, Mrs. C. C. Sturgeon of Council Bluffs. Mrs. A. O. Johnson of La Jara, Colo., is a daughter of Mrs. Goodhand.

The newly wedded couple expect to travel for a year before returning to Ord to reside. They will go from here to Kansas City and Chicago, and will visit later in Scottsbluff and Colorado, spending the winter in California. They plan to go to Europe in the spring.

Adele Garrison "My Husband's Love"

Mrs. Durkee Would Have No "Snooping Around."

"What do you think that fool doctor had the nerve to propose to me just now?" Mrs. Durkee demanded.

"It must be something pretty absurd, judging from your attitude toward it," I returned, smiling, while across her head Katherine signaled me to humor the little woman in anything she chose to say. I saw my kinswoman lay a reassuring hand upon Adele's arm as she did so, and knew that the overwrought girl was receiving just the right sort of assistance in her struggle to keep all knowledge of her nervousness from her mother-in-law.

"You know a lot of words, Madge," my little friend retorted irritably, "but they aren't strong enough. I wish Lillian were here. She'd say a few things that would blister the atmosphere and make me feel better."

"Suppose you tell me first how the doctor has offended you," I suggested meekly.

"He hasn't offended me," she said. "He probably can't help it because he hasn't the sense he was born with. He's had it all coddled out of him by that efficient wife of his. But he needn't think she's going to efficiency me, for she isn't."

"If you'll only tell me," I pleaded, affecting a bewilderment I did not feel, for by this time I had a pretty shrewd idea of the proposition against which my little friend was declaiming so vociferously.

"I am telling you," she said with a petulant glance at me. "Without crowding me, which he won't permit, although I know it wouldn't hurt me, there's room in the limousine but for five people. There are seven in the house now, so two will have to stay here and see to the house and take a train later. And Dr. Braithwaite has picked you and his wife to stay here."

If she had announced that Dr. Braithwaite had planned to tie her up and thrash her, she could not have been more tragic over it. But I saw that she was enjoying the excitement of her indignation, so I judiciously added fuel to the fire.

"Well, what's the matter with that?" I asked slyly. "We are both good housekeepers, and we won't run away with—"

"Madge Graham, I'll slap you in another minute," she declared with a charming pout, followed by an infectious little giggle. "You're all right, but if you think I'm going to have any strange efficiency expert like that Braithwaite woman snooping around my house, you're very, very much mistaken. Oh—I forgot—she's your sister-in-law, isn't she?"

Oh, well. I never heard of a woman getting mad when an in-law was slammed, have you?

She was delicious in her rattling nonsense, and even nervous Lella joined in the hearty laugh with which Katherine and I greeted her last gally.

"But really," I protested loyally, "Harriet isn't—"

"Let Madge Do It."

"I know she's perfectly lovely, and I like what I've seen of her," Mrs. Durkee interposed, "but she's a stranger, and I won't leave any strange woman in my house. A man would be different. He'd never notice anything, but trust a woman to see whether or not the salt shakers had been filled properly. No—sirree, Lella's got to stay with you, Madge, until you can get a train in. It's too bad. I want you both with me, of course, but then you'll be able to get into the city and to the hospital in another couple of hours, and that will be time enough, won't it, Katherine?"

"Plenty!" the nurse agreed promptly. "And now who is going to break the news to Dr. Braithwaite that he must not leave his wife behind when he goes?"

"Let Madge do it," Mrs. Durkee parodied with a joyous little giggle. "She's a relative. But be sure you make it strong, Madge. I simply won't have her, that's all."

"I'll read the riot act to him at once," I said, starting for the door. "Wait a minute," Katherine hurried toward me. "I want to show

Jack Reid and Wife Played in Omaha Beer Garden; Pals for Years

An unusual record of 28 years on the stage with no separate engagements is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reid of the "Record Breakers" company now playing at the Gaiety theater. They have pulled together through success and failure and have never been off the stage all these years.

One of the greatest failures experienced by Mr. Reid was in the Shubert Unit vaudeville productions that were shown in Omaha last year. Mr. Reid, as head of his show, "The Carnival of Fun," lost everything he possessed in the venture. The Reid's home in St. Louis, family jewels and other properties were turned over to cover the loss. It was the biggest failure they had ever experienced, said Mr. Reid.

"As Reid and Gilbert, my wife and

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficulty breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with a cough and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

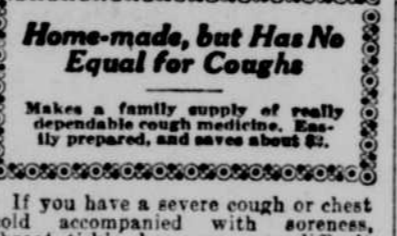

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
