

Doctors Fight to Save Life of Dying Child

Noted Specialist Ready to Go to Bedside of Helen Hamilton at Camden—Nurse Volunteers Services.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 21.—Helen Hamilton was no better today. It is too much to hope that she ever can be better. But the doctors who are fighting with her for life feel that everything which can be done must be done to save the brave little girl who is staring at death so patiently.

Helen sat up again in bed yesterday afternoon. The same tired wan smile, the same pathetic flash of the jet black eyes that told of her courage and her battle in silent agony were again in evidence. But there was nothing about the sick room which could make the most optimistic observer believe the little girl is going to get better.

And yet there is a chance. Mrs. Hamilton, the widowed mother, has not had money to get specialists. She has not had money to get the best medical treatment available, although Dr. W. W. Kahn of Camden has given her his services for almost nothing, and Dr. Kahn is no mean practitioner.

But the heart specialists, those men who would know, if any human could know, what chance there is for Helen, have been barred to the mother who has led the grim fight. Poverty—and sympathy—do not include the ministrations of famous specialists.

Last night a Philadelphia doctor, noted throughout Pennsylvania for his ability to handle heart cases, was ready to go to Camden. If they determine to call him in, he will go to Helen's home to study the case, in consultation with Dr. Kahn. That is the one shred of hope now held out for the dying girl.

It is amazing how friendly a cold, austere world can be when there is suffering in it. From far off Harrisburg, a nurse experienced through 20 years in a hospital, came to Camden yesterday afternoon and asked to help Mrs. Hamilton not tell her "no." She did not accept her services either. There are so many things she can never repay.

And Philadelphia gave too. A soldier, a veteran who has five times given his blood to save others in a blood transfusion operation, came here and saw Dr. Kahn.

"One day more has gone," Helen whispered last night as the darkness fell.

One day more. That means that if she lives only five more she will celebrate her thirteenth birthday she so much wants to enjoy.

Five Soldiers Are Injured.

Baltimore, Nov. 21.—Premature explosion of a box of 24 obsolete hand grenades seriously injured five soldiers yesterday at the United States ordnance reserve depot at Curtis Bar, near here, while they were destroying the munitions in a fire pit. The injured were taken to Camp Meade army hospital where it is said they probably will recover.

Washington Man Is Witness.

Joseph C. Murphy, assistant to the chief of the United States secret service at Washington, was a witness before the federal grand jury now in session at the federal building. It is understood that he was subpoenaed to produce checks in connection with a forgery case.

He went to Washington Wednesday.

Debs' Condition Critical.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 21.—Although the attending woman physician, Dr. Madge Stephens, refused a comment, it was learned today that the condition of Eugene V. Debs, several times a socialist presidential candidate, still was critical despite a restful night. His condition had not varied in three days, it was said.

Politics in Mexico.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Several pistol and rifle shots were fired into the railway car in which General P. Elias Calles, one of the presidential candidates, was traveling when the train stopped at Apizaco, state of Puebla, according to an announcement made at the press bureau of General Calles. There were no casualties.

Germans, in Financial Frenzy, Near Madness Figuring Prices

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Nov. 21.—Germany is in the midst of a financial frenzy not unlike that of the Klondike in the days when thousands of adventurers risked their lives in White Horse pass, and Dawson was wild over the discovery on Bonanza creek. Prices in Germany have passed all reason. Figuring in trillions and handling hundreds of trillion mark notes has seemingly unbalanced the minds of some of the producers, storekeepers and restaurateurs. The few New Yorkers who have happened for the better class Hamburg and Berlin hotels recently have thrown up their hands in horror at the prices and begun looking up train schedules. An ordinary omelet of two eggs costs five gold marks, or more than $1, and meat dishes twice that sum. The price of a single apple at the cafes is 2 1/2 gold marks, or more than 60 cents. The prices of clothing and leather goods are proportionately high and are still soaring. The cost of the food in the markets is beyond comprehension, as the supply is short and the producers are unwilling to accept paper marks. The crowds are indifferent to thousands of beggars who throng the principal streets of the German cities seeking every million-mark note to buy a slice of bread.

Plainview Makes Rapid Progress

Long List of Civic Improvements Completed During Past Year.

Plainview, Neb., Nov. 21.—The city council has passed an ordinance to open a new street here and will appropriate the private property necessary for that purpose. The opening of this new street is indicative of one of the most progressive and outstanding years that Plainview has had in its history. Besides the erection of a number of new houses, several civic projects and improvements either have been completed or now are under way. The new sewer system, on which the contractors have been working for the past two months, is about completed; the Grant highway has been improved and their roads have been graded; the writing system of the city has been cabled and put underground; the city park has been plotted for walks, drives, community playgrounds and tourists' grounds; over 100 trees have been planted in the park and a bandstand has been erected through the donation of the surplus funds of the home guards.

During the year a number of business enterprises have been launched and have proved successful. A new office building has just been completed, a large wholesale produce house has been erected near the Northwestern depot which is making one of the heaviest shipments in this part of the state, and several new business places have been opened. Along the line of social service and community betterment there has been much improvement. A women's federated club has been organized which co-operates with the men's Community club; welfare work is being done in co-operation with the mayor; a women's hospital board has been organized, the business and professional men have formed a volley ball club and three bands have been organized during the year.

Guard Tomb of "Tut"

Luxor, Egypt, Nov. 21.—A detachment of Egyptian soldiers arrived today to guard Tutankhamen's tomb following the discovery by Howard Carter of a plot by native grave robbers to enter the tomb and steal the relics.

Carter, fearing that the native robbers might break open the sarcophagus and steal the mummy, asked the Egyptian government for a guard of soldiers. Carter said the inner shrine, containing the mummy, would not be reopened until the Egyptian government gives a decision on press news rights.

Brookhart in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, arrived yesterday for the session of congress with his kit full of legislative plans, but, he said, without his overalls.

Farm relief and railroad legislation head Senator Brookhart's legislative program. The farm bloc will support a bill to establish a federal agency to aid export of farm products, he declared, adding that he also hoped to have "the water squeezed out" of railroad securities in a general overhauling of the transportation act to obtain lower railroad rates.

Lawyer Indicted in Plot.

Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—Herman L. Roth, Hollywood and New York, attorney, was indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday afternoon on the charge of extortion as a result of a hearing of the charges that the lawyer, by means of a spurious divorce complaint, attempted to blackmail Barbara LaMarr, prominent screen actress, out of $20,000.

French Yield; Save Entente

British Instructions on German Note Sent to Paris—Ambassadors Meet Today.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 21.—The British government's final instruction to Lord Crewe, the British ambassador at Paris, for handling the delicate situation which during the last week has threatened the existence of the entente, were forwarded to Paris early today. Foreign office officials expressed the hope that definite and earnest beneficial results for the entente itself and for the entente's relations with Germany would be achieved by the meeting of the council of ambassadors in Paris this afternoon.

The French willingness to meet the British half way on the terms of the allied note to be dispatched to Germany is said here to have been the salvation of the situation, Premier Poincare having given way on the three chief points involved during the negotiations between Paris and London which terminated last night.

M. Poincare has assured the British in the first place that the ultimatum feature could be deleted from the German note; secondly that the request for the expulsion of the ex-crown prince from Germany could be dropped; and thirdly, that no definite penalties were to be threatened immediately.

The British believe that the allies' note along these lines will enable the German government to accept the situation without endangering its position.

Whether Germany succeeds, as a British spokesman put it today, in maintaining "her traditional role of playing the fool" remains to be seen when the moment comes for Berlin to reply to the allied communication.

By International News Service.
Paris, Nov. 21.—Marshal Pétain, one of France's foremost military experts, has gone to Dusseldorf to confer with General Dugoutie and to inspect the Franco-Belgian army of occupation in the Ruhr and Rhineland it was learned today. He will examine the preparations made "to meet any German eventuality."

Edgar Howard Gains Freedom for Emigrant

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 21.—Efforts of Congressman Edgar Howard of the Third Nebraska district were instrumental in obtaining for Robert Stahl, 19, release from custody at Philadelphia where he was being held by immigration authorities. Stahl came from Germany four weeks ago. His destination was Columbus, where he expects to go to work for Julius Gerling, farmer living near Platt Center.

Although a German, Stahl is a Russian citizen and the Russian emigrant quota having been filled, the immigration authorities wanted to send Stahl back to wait until January 1, when the new quota will be admitted.

Through Congressman Howard's efforts, a special hearing before the labor board was obtained and the boy was permitted to leave for Columbus after Gerling had given a $500 bond for the youth's appearance in Philadelphia. When the next quota comes in young Stahl will again walk through the gates with the next Russian quota and then be permanently admitted.

$3,000 Chest Pledge Made

Other Large Contributions Reported—Total Figures Not Available.

George Hoagland of the Hoagland Wholesale Building Materials company made the largest contribution yet received by the Community Chest when he turned in his pledge of $3,000 Wednesday morning.

Other large contributions received Wednesday include those of the John Deere Plow company, John Bekins of the Omaha Van and Storage company, Wright & Wilhelmy Hardware company, and Orchard & Whillhelm, each for $1,000.

The committee in charge of the Chest again declared itself unable to state a new total Wednesday, saying that so many small contributions had made it hard to total.

"People simply have not grasped the idea that they are giving for thirty organizations," complained Mrs. M. J. Hynes, director of the women's corps of solicitors. "Even if you give only 25 cents to each organization, it would make $750, and most people average much more than that in the course of a year. If you give $1 to each organization, that would make $300."

The list of firms whose officers and employes have contributed 100 per cent to the chest is as follows: United States Printing company; Gay L. Smith; Riba Printing company; Northrup Jones company, J. B. Robinson, Shotwell and Shotwell, Equitable Life Insurance company, Patrick Brokerage, J. J. Hess, Prairie Life Insurance company, Omaha School Supply, Norris and Norris, Lafayette cafe, Sherman Williams, Northwest Life Insurance company, Merchants National bank, J. W. Malashock, Mrs. J. B. Platner Boyles college.

$800 Fine and 30 Days in Jail on Liquor Charge

Madison, Neb., Nov. 21.—George Hamling, charged with selling, manufacturing and having liquor in his possession and having in his possession and having in his possession and operating a still, pleaded guilty to the four counts and was sentenced by Judge William V. Allen to pay $100 each on the first three counts, $500 for having a still in his possession, and given 30 days in jail.

More Help Asked.

Otto Bauman, city and county treasurer, has asked the board of county commissioners to be permitted to employ six additional clerks in his office.

The board also received a communication from the fire warden, notifying the county that the fire escape regulations have not been complied with at the county hospital and asking the board to remedy the matter at once.

Women's Page

The world, historians and philosophers have always told us, is beautifully dependent on womanhood. Today the assertion is doubly true. Just list all the activities and walks of life today and find there, if you can, a single phase in which women are not represented. You will find pre-eminent women in all of them and predominant women in a great many.

With these obvious facts at hand you readily see why The Omaha Bee has built a women's page that clearly and definitely outclasses the efforts of our contemporaries. We are proud and justly so, of the superior way in which The Omaha Bee fosters the activities and interests of women.

Truly it would take a page, one filled to overflowing, to adequately present the countless reasons why women prefer, literally demand The Omaha Bee.

Local society, clubs, the army set, the school set, everything for our feminine readers from sports and frivolities to civic and art advancement. And in addition there is the latest fashions by Sally Milgrim; gay bits of entertaining gossip by Gabby; Lovelorn by Martha Allen; and Food Service from the New York Tribune, where each recipe is actually tested before being sent out. The Omaha Bee is lavish in matters of timely art with exclusive photographs. Nothing is left undone that will maintain our popularity with women readers.

Needless to say we are fully compensated for our efforts by the enthusiasm with which feminine Omaha accepts the women's page of The Omaha Bee.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Headaches, "dullness" and that lousy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brains and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 50c
