Crippled Nebraska Eleven Minus Leadership of Coach Dawson in Workout for Game Turkey Day

H. DeWitz May Have Played Last Game With Huskers—Agie Team to Display Famous Rockne Shift—Seven Men on Kansas Team to Play Final Collegiate Game Thursday.

INCOLIN, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—What is left of Nebraska's regulars resembled the Light Brigade, after its famous charge. But the few remaining were out Monday evening for a light workout as the first step in preparation for the annual game with the Aggies. Coach Bachman's aerial wizards from Manhattan, who came here for the game which closes the Nebraska season, Thanksgiving day.

Another name was added to the list of incapacitated Monday, when Coach Dawson was forced to go home with a heavy cold, which was threatening to develop pneumonia. It is very doubtful if he will be able to direct the preparation for the Kansas Aggie game. The second Husker team was sent against the freshmen in dummy scrimmages, the yearlings using the Kansas Aggie formations.

Grand Island Wins Harrier Meet

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—Grand Island high school swept the team and individual honors in the second home-course cross country run, held annually under the direction of Coach Henry Schulte of the state university. Both individual and team records were lowered by the third city runner, W. Chapman, who first with a mark of 10:45.4-5, which clipped 13.5 seconds off the mark of L. Evans, who won last year's run. Chapman will receive the gold medal as cross-country champion of the state, while Evans medals will go to Koch of Columbus, Walker of Hastings and Boyd of Grand Island. Walker and Boyd tied for fourth place. Sheldon of Columbus and Clabaugh of Ruskin will get the bronze medals, as they finished sixth and seventh.

There were many schools who had runners, but failed to send in their records, figuring they were not good enough. Next year Schulte is going to make it a point to show the necessity of having every high school report its results, regardless of the time made.

Stockville Team Has Good Season on Grid

Stockville, Neb., Nov. 26.—Stockville High defeated Warsaw, Wauzeka Friday by a score of 13 to 0. It is eight games in this season. Stockville has played McCook, Maxwell, Farnam, Callaway, Beaver City, and Wauzeka, rolling up a total of 184 points, as compared with 36 scored by opponents.

Booth of Johns Hopkins Winner of Six-Mile Run

New York, Nov. 26.—Verne Booth, of Johns Hopkins, intercollegiate two-mile champion, today raced to a brilliant victory in the varsity intercollegiate cross country championship race at Van Cortlandt park. Booth led a field of more than 300 runners representing 27 eastern colleges nearly all the way. He finished 100 yards ahead of his nearest rival, Bright, of Carnegie Tech, and set a new record for the six-mile course, which he covered in 32 minutes, 16 seconds.

Another name was added to the list of incapacitated Monday, when Coach Dawson was forced to go home with a heavy cold, which was threatening to develop pneumonia.

brought back by Nebraska scouts. The Aggies put on one of the most spectacular games played last season on Nebraska field, and practically every member of that team will be in action again this season.

Herb Dewitz is no better, his hip if anything being worse. It appeared Monday as though Herb had played his last game for Nebraska. He may surprise the fans again Thursday by getting into the game, but his presence is even more doubtful than it was before the Syracuse game.

Coach Bachman has been following the Huskers all around this season, and he is familiar with all their plays. He knows who to watch and when to watch him. Most of the Aggie team were on the sidelines Saturday, making a few notes on their own cuffs. Seven of Aggies in Last Game. This will be the Aggies' last chance. With an eleven in 1922 which won the sobriquet of "wonder-team," the Kansas anticipated a great year in 1923. They have been disappointed to some extent, but a victory over Nebraska would more than make up for any setback they have suffered. But above all, seven of the Aggies regulars are playing their last intercollegiate game on the field. It's their last chance, and that is going to mean considerable in matter of being keyed properly to win.

Just a Word or Two

By FRED S. HUNTER.

When Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha baseball club, gave Whitey Gilsolan the air expressions of incredulity were heard to emit from some of the little second baseman's admirers. With Little Rock in the Southern association where Gilsolan played 42 games last season the official batting averages showed that he managed to make 26 hits for an average of .189. An error for Mr. Burch? Not today.

Another former Omaha player, Lefty Fuhr, who used to toll for Pa. Burch and went up to the Chicago Cubs, but couldn't quite stand the pace, finished second among the Southern association pitchers with an earned run average of 2.36. Fuhr won 23 games and lost 14. He hurried for Mobile and was surpassed only by McGrew of Memphis.

Granddaddy Earl Youth will be served.

Sometimes. Entered in the Thanksgiving day automobile race in California are 18 famous speed merchants. Automobile racing may be said to be a young man's game and most of the 18 are young men. But in the time trials the pilot who fooled his steel mount at the greatest speed—122 miles an hour—was not other than that gay and carefree youngster, Mr. Earl Cooper.

The Professor is Thwarted

Among those not rejoicing over Yale's stupendous victories may be numbered Prof. George Frederick Gundelfinger. For your information Prof. Gundelfinger is one of the loyal sons of Old Eli who grieved so poignantly over the ascendancy of Yale football that he took to writing pamphlets. In this effort he finally became so enthusiastic that he began to advocate the abolishment of football in the colleges of the country as a rough and ungentlemanly pastime. If the professor is disappointed because his inspiration for his pamphlets has been destroyed by the rambunctious pupils of Tad Jones he need not feel that all is lost. He might start in on a new series decrying the brutal methods of the glee club.

Advertising in the Sport Realm

By Ed Hughes

The sport domain has become a fertile field for advertising. No champion fighter can go into training for a big match without a regiment of feminine press stars descending on him. Their press-agents scent the opportunity for priceless publicity. Straightaway the arch publicity seeker packs his grip and enters into the cheap scramble for attention. He does the supreme effort—what greeted the eye? Yes—sharing his hard-earned glory with a grinning movie actress radiating evident joy in the twirler's good fortune—or hers.

The advertising bee is always a buzzing in the brain of the fighter or his manager, particularly the latter. The modern fight manager is really an advertising man. That is if he is a good manager. In the old days it was different. Today, Dempsey, Leonard and other champions take to the movies or the stage and make big money while keeping alive the sound of their names. Today the fighters send out their press notices in huge envelopes, embellished with their names in bright letters. They pose as medical students, college boys, millionaires' sons, etc., and the sucker public believes it all, as it believes all advertising claims.

South Prepares for Bluffs Game

A week of the hardest kind of scrimmage and signal practice faces the South High Packers, after their 2 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Norfolk gradsters last Friday. Coach Patton is not quite pleased with the way the team played Friday, and may make some changes in the packer lineup before their Thanksgiving day clash with Thomas Jefferson High of Council Bluffs. The ax is expected to fall on the backfield, principally, but the line may be chopped up, too.

Crawford to Play Morrill

Crawford, Neb., Nov. 26.—The Crawford-Morrill elimination in the championship race will take place at Scottsbluff on Tuesday, Nov. 27. While this is practically at home to Morrill, they refuse to consider a Thanksgiving game on other grounds, making it necessary for Crawford to invade the enemy's territory.

Bee Want Ads Produce Results

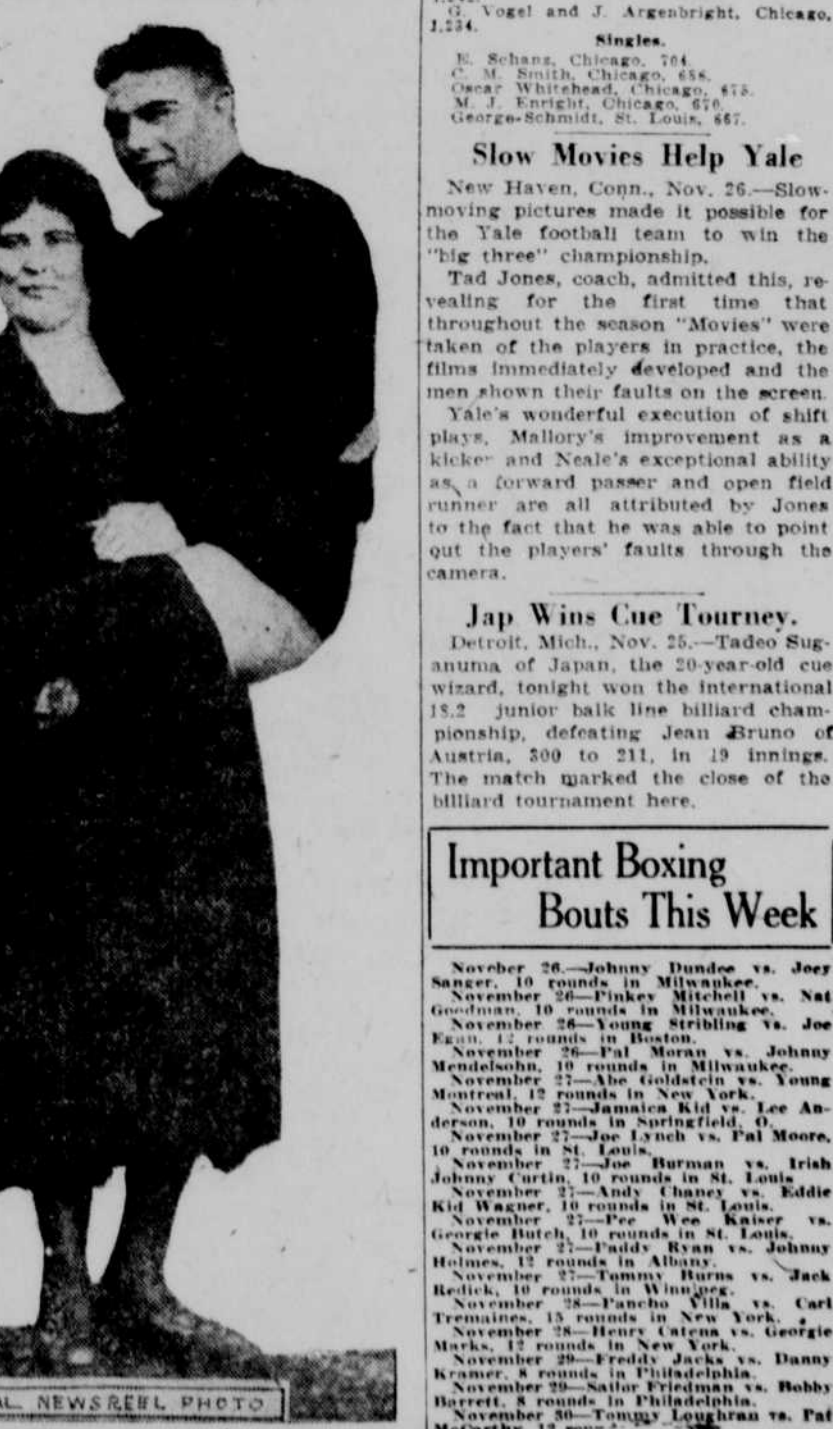

There's something wrong somewhere. But where? Coach Patton has changed and changed his lineup, but to no avail. The team braces for one game, wins it, then slumps, and loses again. 'S too bad.

Slow Movies Help Yale

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 26.—Slow-moving pictures made it possible for the Yale football team to win the "big three" championship. Tad Jones, coach, admitted this, revealing for the first time that throughout the season "movies" were taken of the players in practice, the films immediately developed and the men shown their faults on the screen. Yale's wonderful execution of shift plays, Mallory's improvement as a kicker and Neale's exceptional ability as a forward passer and open field runner are all attributed by Jones to the fact that he was able to point out the players' faults through the camera.

Damon Runyon's Column

New York, Nov. 26.—It would appear that the negro boxer is coming back. A new generation of black ring men is developing. Perhaps it is due to the fact that the violent prejudice against negro fighters born of Jack Johnson's victory over Jim Jeffries has been deflected by time.

Perhaps it is due to the fact that the negroes are finding more encouragement in different parts of the country, who draw the "color line" as strongly as some of the white champions. The prominence achieved by Harry Wills, "The Brown Panther" of New Orleans, undoubtedly has something to do with the new development of the negro boxer.

Wills has done much to re-establish the negro in the esteem of the boxing fans, has done much to remove the prejudice against his race. Wills stands at the head of the negro fighters of the country—of the world. He is generally conceded to be the negro heavyweight champion of the world and foremost contender for the title held by Jack Dempsey.

Next to Wills among the black heavyweights is George Godfrey, "The Black Shadow of Leipsville," a 23-year-old giant, who is one of the cleverest boxers in the ring.

Bill Tate of Chicago, a Jess Willard in appearance, stood second to Wills until recently, when he was knocked out by Godfrey. Tate even claimed the negro heavyweight championship, alleging a decision over Wills.

There are quite a number of other negro heavyweights in the country, but they scarcely class with Wills, Godfrey and Tate. The best of the black light heavyweights in the world, is Kid Norfolk of Baltimore, who recently beat the Senegalese, Battling Siki.

Jack Dougherty, veteran handler of fighters, has recently developed a negro middleweight who seems to have great promise.

He is Larry Estridge, former amateur middleweight champion of New York, a terrific puncher. Saturday night Estridge stopped Willie Walker, a negro, who had been making quite a reputation in the middleweight division.

Girl students at the University of Cincinnati are taught boxing.
