

More Anarchist Bombings Feared

Philadelphia Police Probe Meeting of Reds Held Before Blasts.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 27.—Philadelphia police investigating the recent bombing of the Italian and Spanish consulates in that city were said in a report to the State department today to be working on the theory that the attack was a threat of more serious activities to come.
A meeting in Philadelphia of supposed anarchists, held about a week ago, is being investigated. The police, however, were said to believe that the perpetrators of the Philadelphia bombing came from some other city.
These department reports were contained in a statement from Governor Pinchot in response to the request by Secretary Hughes for information. The governor's report was transmitted by the department to the Italian and Spanish embassies here. Governor Pinchot said the police and Philadelphia have learned from reliable witnesses, that six men, unidentified, arrived in taxicabs at Broad and Locust streets about midnight last Friday. The witnesses have testified that the six men divided themselves into two groups, one proceeding towards one of the consulates and the second towards the other consulate. It was noticed, the report said that one of the men carried a suspicious looking package.

Nephew Awarded $375 Verdict Against Uncle He Says Shot Him Thrice

Municipal Judge W. F. Wappich Wednesday morning entered judgment for $375 in favor of Rosario Costantino, 321 William street, against Antonio Costantino, his uncle, living at the same address. Rosario brought suit for $750, alleging that some time ago while he and his uncle were returning from a pool hall at 1295 South Sixth street, which Rosario operates, and where his uncle is employed, his uncle, after an altercation, fired three shots at him, two of the bullets inflicting scalp wounds and the third lodging in his left shoulder. The case was not contested. The judgment was by default.

Seattle Bandits Seize $20,000

Seven Outlaws Hold Up Two Bank Messengers in Heart of City.

Seattle, Nov. 28.—A daring and apparently well planned holdup of two Bank of California messengers at a street intersection in the heart of Seattle's business district late yesterday afternoon yielded seven bandits $20,000 worth of negotiable bonds. No trace of the robbers, who were heavily armed, had been found early today, although police threw out a dragnet last night, patrolled all highways leading from the city and searched Seattle.
A small automobile blocked the path of the messengers' car at Jackson street and Second avenue, a crowded intersection, and two men leaped from the machine, covered the bank messengers with pistols and snatched two satchels containing the bonds and checks being sent to other banks, from the bank car. Two other men, apparently their confederates, stepped out from the sidewalk and handcuffed the motorcycle policeman to his machine. A fifth man prevented a pedestrian at the curb from giving aid. Two other members of the gang were seen in the bandits' automobile. When the first pair darted back into their automobile with the satchels, the bandits who were on foot escaped in the excitement through the crowd which quickly gathered.

Europe's Turmoil Seen by Omahan

Arthur E. Hall Tells of Hatred Observed on Trip Abroad.

"The countries in Europe are not fond of each other," said Arthur E. Hall, manager of the American Smelting and Refining company, who arrived this week from a two-months' trip across the water.
"It all seems to be one big turmoil. The only country that has returned to business since the war is Austria. That country, perhaps because it is smaller now than before the war, has buckled down to work and is making progress. Of course Switzerland shows industry because there was no let up there.
"It is in France and England that bitter feelings are brewing. There is ill-will in England and there are many poor," said Mr. Hall.
Mr. Hall wrote to his two sons, Virgil and Jack, when in England that they ought to be thankful to have a yard and house to play in for the little English children were suffering in crowded tenements with not enough air and food.

"England feels that France is trying to break up Germany, that Germany will be unable to pay reparations if this is done and France in turn thinks England is seeking to let Germany slip out without paying," said Mr. Hall.

"The army seems to be the only business in France. Both countries feel that America should give moral support."

Coolidge Speech Sent to Printer

Washington, Nov. 28.—President Coolidge put the finishing touches on his message to congress today and the document was sent to the printer. The message is comparatively brief. White House attaches declaring it to be shorter than the average length of those sent to congress by Presidents Wilson and Harding.
The president has told visitors that he framed the message with view to presenting explicit recommendations rather than arguments and disquisitions. His desire, he said, is to impress congress with the soundness of the recommendation with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.
Washington, Nov. 28.—President Coolidge, having completed work on his message to congress, turned his attention today to filling the vacancies in federal offices which have occurred during the recess of congress and which in about 200 cases were taken care of through recess appointments by President Harding.
