

School Hygiene Is Now Success

Miss Charlotte Townsend Discusses Records at Woman's Club Meeting.

The family toothbrush has passed from the ken of Omaha school children, while 100 per cent attendance of handkerchiefs at school rewards the efforts of the successful teacher of hygiene in the city schools, according to the account of "The Health Program of the Public Schools," made by Miss Charlotte Townsend, in charge of that program, before the educational committee of the Omaha Woman's club yesterday afternoon in the Burgess-Nash auditorium.

This year for the first time a great triumph was scored, when each child in the public schools reported a toothbrush of his own. Handkerchiefs have become a matter of such importance that in one school, where a little Rosa chanced to forget her precious square of clean linen, her little Italian mother hurried to the school to take Rosa her property before the morning inspection began.

Instead of sending Johnny home to wash his ears, the modern hygiene teacher aims to make Johnny aware of the process so that he will want to do it for himself, said Miss Townsend. The school year is opened with a demonstration of how a small abolitionist may arrange a basin in a chair so that it will be just the right height, just where and what he should wash, what soaps feel good on his skin. Jolly little scrubbing songs are taught the children and Johnny is urged to wash himself to the tune of

Adele Garrison "My Husband's Love"

Dr. Braithwaite Sent Madge to Sit With Lella.

I took good care to keep a respectful distance from the hospital waiting room where Alfred and Dicky awaited Dr. Braithwaite's pleasure. I had no desire to see Dicky until I was completely prepared for the disagreeable interview which was certain to be the result of his discovery that I had mentioned Bess Dean to Dr. Braithwaite. But I would have given a good deal to know of what the two men were speaking. Was Dicky warning Alfred concerning? Or were my conjectures all moonshine? I answered the latter question with a decided negative—Dicky's frown had been too real for me to deceive myself.

Taking up a station just outside Lella's door, I waited there until Dr. Braithwaite opened the door and came out. His face, showing the lines of fatigue, brightened into a smile as he saw me.

"Just the person I need," he said. "Go to the little lady and stay there a while. I don't want her to see her husband for several hours yet, not until she's had a good sleep. If you can get her to sleep, do it; if not, after about half an hour, come to the door on some pretended errand and signal the nurse, who will be right here. Don't let her know the nurse didn't drop in of her own accord, though."

I nodded comprehending acquiescence, and my brother-in-law, with a glance of approval which sent a pleased flush into my cheeks, went on.

"I'm going up now for a look at the elder Mrs. Durkee, and I think then I'll have a talk with her son. I'll tell Dicky to take him out and keep him until after luncheon. You can lunch here, and this afternoon he can meet you where?"

His eyes held the keen look I had noticed in them when Dicky had frowned at me, and I realized that the big surgeon's insight into my share of the tangle which involved Bess Dean and Lella was greater than I had guessed.

"Tell him I'll be at the apartment," I said.

"Very well," he commented, and was moving away when I detained him.

Farewell Banquet Given Rail Official

Wymore, Neb., Dec. 3.—A banquet of affection, given at the Van Dome hotel Saturday night by railway employees in honor of the retirement of C. P. Philbrick, 72-year-old Burlington train rules examiner and railway worker for the past 55 years, was the largest affair of its kind ever staged in Wymore. Never before, upon any occasion, was there so great a number of high railway officials and veterans together as one time at this railway headquarters. Mr. Philbrick had filled varied railway positions, with jurisdiction over an extensive territory, and was widely known.

About 154 guests, directed by a locomotive headlight stationed above the entrance to the hotel, were led past improvised railway signals by Boy Scouts and seated around five long tables, completely filling the hotel main dining room. Among them were business men of Wymore, and men from every department of the railway service, including one general superintendent, four of the eight division superintendents from Burlington divisions on lines west, two trainmasters, three chief dispatchers, two night chief dispatchers, and dispatchers from Lincoln, Omaha and Wymore. The five-course dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid society of Wymore.

Poetry in America

"Countless Americans have no shame in saying they are not interested in poetry," Mrs. Anthony French Merrill declared Monday morning in her lecture at the Blackstone hotel. "In this country we are likely to over-estimate the business man and under-estimate the man who is absorbed in art."

"Few dominant and unquestionably creative, but many good, poets are writing now," Mrs. Merrill continued. "The lyric, or singing poem, free and unrhymed by exact form, is most used. 'Poetic drama, narrative and blank verse forms are not so common. The short, vivid and condensed poem is favored. The sonnet is little used; it is too confining."

Stabbed by Neuritis

Many people suffer attacks by this archaic, commonly called "nerve inflammation." The first warning is usually a sharp stabbing pain which may "come and go" or hurt constantly. You may find it in the shoulder, neck, forearm, small of the back, or down the thigh and leg to the foot. It is sometimes mistaken for sciatica, rheumatism or neuralgia, which troubles often end in neuritis.

No matter where you have nerve pain or what caused them, you can get quick relief without using narcotics or poisons. Apply Tyamol over the part that hurts, and within a few minutes the pain should be gone.

Tyamol is absorbed through the pores of the skin. It has a soothing, healing effect upon the diseased nerves, gradually helping to restore them to healthy condition.

Don't suffer any longer. Obtain a supply of Tyamol from any good druggist.

IS that dull, throbbing backache making you old and miserable? Are you lame, stiff and achy; tortured with stabbing, rheumatic pains? Weak kidneys, you know, cause many mysterious aches and ills. That's because the kidneys are the blood-filters, and once they fall behind, blood and nerves are upset and the whole system put out of tune. You suffer constant backache, sharp, knife-like twinges, and an annoying kidney irregularities. You are apt to have headaches, dizzy spells and inclined to be nervous, irritable and depressed. Don't wait! Help your weakened kidneys before it is too late. Use Doan's Pills. Read How These Omaha Folks Found Relief:

MRS. ANNA MALCOLM, 1808 Corby street, says: "Kidney complaint distressed me for a long time and I had such pains in my back I couldn't sleep. My back ached all the time and if I took cold the trouble was worse. I often had headaches and dizzy spells and my sight blurred. The action of my kidneys was irregular. I used Doan's Pills, and they put my kidneys in good order and the backaches left me."

J. W. COPPOCK, 4017 N. 26th avenue, says: "My back ached and pained when I stooped and if I took cold the trouble was worse. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Pills and they soon relieved the backaches and put my kidneys in good order."

MRS. JULIANNA TRUMMER, 2216 S. 18th street, says: "My kidneys became disordered by drinking impure water. I became run down and my back ached at times.
