Originality Is Feature of Toys Sold at Bazar

First Central Congregational Church Function Features Animals of Burgess Bedtime Stories.

Toys, designed to show Peter Rabbit, Mamma and Papa Bear, Mr. Owl, Jennie Wren and other characters of the Burgess Bedtime Stories, were one of a number of original ideas worked out at the Christmas bazaar in the First Central Congregational church yesterday and today.

These toys were drawn on wood, cut out, glued together and painted in gay colors by members of the younger business women's division of the church, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Gray, art teacher in the public schools. Several of the figures were designed by Miss Gray. The girls have met regularly Monday evenings since the first of October, and sometimes twice a week, in order to finish scores of these toys. Now a procession of cheery little figures, familiar to readers of the Burgess stories, running in the Omaha Bee, overflows the booth of the division and promenades across the nearby chimney and bookcase.

Tumbling Tom Popular.
Another popular toy offered at the booth is the Tumbling Tom, which will turn somersaults from one end to the other of his parallel bars, when given a shove.

Aprons without strings, hung on a broken hoop of metal, are another original idea shown at this bazaar which finds favor in the sight of busy housewives. These aprons can be slipped off the hoop and laundered flat or run through a mangle. They can be snatched off without bothering to untie strings or fastenings when their wearers, has to meet guests at the door, while the hoop makes a convenient thing by which to hang them.

Gay rag rugs made by a committee of church women under Mrs. Robert Grant form a feature of the booth occupied by Division 3.

Shipment From China.
Ivory and sandalwood imported from China are to be sold at a booth conducted by Mrs. F. P. Loomis. These novelties did not arrive in time to be sold yesterday, but the booth is expected to be ready today. Finely graded Chinese tea, raised and packed by the boys of the Chinese mission at Fochow, China, and scented with jasmine blossoms, will be another feature of this table.

Lunches are served in the gaily decorated upstairs hallway by women of Division 4 under Mrs. N. R. Reasoner. Tall red Christmas candles on each table and seven-branch candelabra on ledges in the wall add to the holiday aspect of this feature.

A turkey dinner was served last night, and another is being given tonight, by the women of Division 2 under Mrs. George H. Payne.

Dr. Devine Guest at Public Dinner
Dr. Edward T. Devine of New York, who has been giving a course of lectures to social workers this week, will be the honor guest at dinner tonight at the Burgess-Nash auditorium. The public is invited to attend. The dinner charge will be $1. A lecture in the store auditorium at 8 will be free.

"The biggest man social service has produced," is Mrs. George Doane's statement of Mr. Devine. Mrs. Doane is in charge of tonight's program.
