Dancer Stubs Toe; Asks Heavy Damages

In suit for $100,000 against F. Ray Comstock, New York producer, Flo Lewis (above), dancer, told court how she broke leg and kneecap when her toe caught in crack in stage during her dance in a show.

For the coming year as follows: President, A. F. Hahn; vice president, Elmer D. Staley; secretary-treasurer, Alfred Riensch; legislative committee, George Gottula. Each union of the board of directors. Mr. Staley was named a delegate to the state meeting which will be held in Omaha.

COLUMBUS—The Women's Benevolent association of Macombes will establish its state camp for girls at Shady Lake, three miles north of here, according to a decision of state officers announced at a meeting here. Permanent buildings will be erected and the camp will be in shape for work by the opening of the summer season.

PLAINVIEW—Modern woodmen of America elected the following officers at the annual election here: George Lasher, V. P.; F. L. Stamper, W. A.; C. E. Morrison, banker; F. Stone, clerk; Elmer Alexander, escort; John Kuhl, manager; L. E. Cunningham, sentry, and Leonard Hurt, watchman.

PLAINVIEW—Will Tawney, a farmer living seven miles east of here, who has been sick and unable to do his farm work this fall, was surprised when members of the Masonic lodge and American Legion of Osmond came in a body and husked the remainder of his corn, consisting of 30 acres. Twenty-two teams of horses and 48 men completed the work in a few hours. The women of the Osmond auxiliaries served dinner to the workmen.

TECUMSEH—The rural mail carriers of Johnson county have organized, and officers for the coming year named as follows: W. H. Wilson of Sterling, president; Owen Griffin of Crab Orchard, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Elk Creek on January 26.

Weary Mother's Heart Made Glad

Free Shoe Fund to Rescue of Poverty-Stricken Home.

A bright little girl of 8 came to an Omaha school last Friday morning. Her teacher noticed that her old shoes were literally falling from her feet. Her toes were blue with cold. "Mama is sick and so are my little brothers," she told the teacher.

That afternoon her teacher accompanied her home. What a mockery of the word was the galvanized iron shack, banked with dirt on a bluff down near the river. The mother, her weary face ravaged by sickness, lay on a bed. She told her story; husband dead, her own struggles against unequal odds.

"Mary does everything she can, but we have no money and I don't know what will become of the children. I don't care about myself," she sobbed. Mary got her shoes from the Free Shoe fund. And the two tiny brothers did, too.

There are other cases of the same kind coming in daily. Would you like to have a hand in helping them? Just send or bring what you can to "Free Shoe fund, The Omaha Bee, Omaha."

Delta Gamma House at University Quarantined
Lincoln, Dec. 17.—Thirty-six coeds of the Delta Gamma sorority chapter at the University of Nebraska were languishing indoors this afternoon under a three-weeks' quarantine for diphtheria. Two cases of the malady were discovered at the sorority house and the quarantine was immediately placed in effect.

The girls are amusing themselves studying, playing checkers or talking to their beaux through megaphones. Although the girls have no classes, they are not permitted to have "dates"—so they find it about an even break after all.

WYMORE—At a meeting of Royal Neighbors of America at Wymore, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Oracle, Mrs. Nellie Peters; vice oracle, Mrs. Minnie Shaw; chancellor, Mrs. Gertrude Anttrim; marshal, Mrs. Alma Henderson; recorder, Mrs. Cora Wilson; receiver, Mrs. Mary Hollett; inner sentinel, Mrs. Ida Leach; outer sentinel, Mrs. Anna Brannon; musician, Mrs. Hazel Campbell; physician, Dr. R. E. Peters. Manager for two years, Mrs. Hattie Sundstrand; manager for one year, Ivan Lasher.
