Club Women Approve New Ordinance

Are Omaha club women going to take an interest in the new ordinance for the control of speeding, proposed at a mass meeting Monday night?

"Women should have even more interest than men in the suppression of speeding," said Anan Raymond, who proposed the ordinance, in an interview. "They have the same need of security, and the fact that so many children play in the street gives them a special interest. While women are usually poorer drivers than men, for the reason that they do not drive so often, they do respect life and limb more."

Mr. Raymond suggested that the women's clubs study the proposed ordinance, which makes its chief provision that no one may drive a car without possessing a driver's license issued only to capable and careful drivers. Expression of club women's opinion on it to the city council would be greatly appreciated by those interested in the measure.

Interviews with Omaha club women show them concerned about the extent of speeding, and willing to aid in steps for its prevention, but not very thoroughly informed about the suggested statute, and not certain anything can be done about it until after the holiday season.

"The matter will come up at the next open meeting of the Omaha Woman's club on January 7," said Mrs. W. V. Knight, chairman of the civics committee of that organization.

"There are a tremendous lot of accidents at present, and the women will support whatever is the best way to put an end to them," said Mrs. Knight. "It is really more important that the driver of the car be required to have a license than that the owner should, as is the only requirement now."

"A deplorable condition exists in our traffic at present," mourned Mrs. J. M. Welshans, head of the current topics department of the Omaha Woman's club. "People have no regard for life and safety. I am in favor of the new measure."

"We should eliminate the driver who won't consider the danger to others," maintained Mrs. John Gill. "I am of the opinion that this could be done by keeping a closer record of those who drive cars."

"I am in favor of anything to stop speeders," Mrs. Horace J. Holmes, district chairman of applied education for the federation, went on to record. "Most of the trouble comes from young people of the university age."

"You take your life in your hands when you go on the street nowadays," complained Mrs. R. E. McKelvey, president of the Women's League of Voters. "Our speeding, however, is more due to carelessness than to the incompetence of the drivers. On the understanding that by the new ordinance, licenses of drivers who persist in carelessness and recklessness could be suspended or revoked, I am in favor of the measure."

Mrs. H. J. Bailey believed that all the women were in favor of the ordinance, but objected that too much blame is placed on the drivers. Pedestrians have just as much a duty to be careful and to avoid running risks. She does not drive herself, she added.

Mrs. William Locke, president of the Omaha College club, felt that the individual license scheme is "just splendid." She believes that the college club women are interested in the subject on account of the children, and because so many of them drive. The club might take the matter up at its January meeting through its home education department, she suggested.

Lectures to Nurses

Dr. Hattie Plumb Williams, professor of sociology at the University of Nebraska, delivered the principal lecture Wednesday at the State League of Nursing Education convention. She spoke on "Social Service and the Nurse."

Dr. Williams has done a number of scholarly studies in sociological research, covering such topics as immigration and child labor in Nebraska. She was a member of the state Children's Code commission at the time of the drafting of the new legal code. Besides her work at the state university in Lincoln, she teaches a weekly class in sociology at the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha.

Stuart Walker Players Spend Christmas Here

The Stuart Walker players, who arrived in Omaha at 3:50 p. m. yesterday for engagements today and tomorrow, will "lay off" in Omaha for Christmas, their next engagement being in Boulder on January 6.

Most of the players intend to spend the holidays in Omaha. Many scattered on their arrival in town to hunt apartments which they might rent for the term of their stay, in order to get a taste of "home life" on the most home-keeping of holidays.

Santa Claus has established a special depot for the Stuart Walker players in a corner of the Brandeis theater, where a hill of packages and a big box of letters has been rapidly accumulating, but was far more rapidly depleted last night, when the company began to claim its own.

These bundles revealed many from "little old New York," but far more from middle western cities and small towns in many parts of the country.

Players in the company besides those whose names have already been announced are George Somnes, Aldrich Broker, Boyd Aigis, Wayne Huff, Judith Lowry, Elizabeth Black, Rowell Lowry, Ainsworth Arnold, Francis Murray and Charles Capehart.

White Christmas Is Indications Point to Snow Fall Soon Question in Omaha

"Say, are we gonna have snow for Christmas?" Omaha is joining in the latest fad—with spirit. With three shopping days before the Yuletide, Omahans are keeping hot the telephone wires leading to the weather bureau to find out if it will be cold and white December 25.

"It is too early yet to know the Christmas prediction," said M. V. Robins as he glanced over the weather map and gave the forecast of "cloudy Friday—with rain or snow." "I don't think it's quite cold enough for snow yet, at least not Friday," he added.

Many points to the west and south are fairly well satisfied with the color of the landscape. Old man Winter was busy with his brush in western Colorado, eastern Idaho, northern Utah, central and southern Nevada, northern Arizona and northern New Mexico. Clear weather prevailed in southern and eastern Wyoming, and the Dakotas. It was generally clear throughout Nebraska.

Except for a drop of two degrees at 11, the mercury steadfastly held its ground, and clung to the 43 degree mark like a leech from 7 a. m. to 2 in the afternoon. From that time it began to rise. The temperature at 3:30 was 47. By 5 o'clock, a light drizzle commenced to settle the dust on Omaha streets.

Rain fell quite generally yesterday throughout the lower Ohio and Mississippi river valleys.

Dry bran is excellent for cleaning velvet flowers. Simply rub on the soiled parts and brush off.

Christmas Party at Brownell Hall

Three hundred students, alumnae, and guests of Brownell hall met last night in a brilliantly decorated ball room of the school and opened their annual Christmas dancing party with the singing of carols.

A large Christmas tree stood in the center of the hall, waited upon by four tiny trees in the corners of the room. Christmas wreaths and festoons of red and green were looped along the walls, adding to the beauty of the setting.

Dancing started at 9:30, following the caroling and the bringing of gifts for sick people in Omaha hospitals and the children at an Indian school.

Mrs. Luther Drake, president of the board; Mrs. Miles Standish, president of the alumnae; Miss Dora Lee Newman, principal, stood in the receiving line.

Mrs. Mason Heads Press Club

Mrs. Myrtle Mason was elected president of the Omaha Woman's Press club yesterday afternoon at its annual meeting in the Fontenelle hotel. Other officers chosen are: Miss Bess Firman, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Gould, secretary, and Miss Rose Rosicky, treasurer. Mrs. Keene Abbott and Mrs. Henry Dooley are directors.

Dean Von Schulte of Creighton university and probably Mrs. Bess Street-er Aldrich of Elmwood will be guests of honor at the annual banquet of the club January 8 in the Fontenelle hotel, it was announced.

Yellow Cab

Affords Car Owners Cheaper Winter Mileage

Cost per mile of driving a car is practically doubled in the winter months. Anyone who has driven a car the year around knows that his expenses go up as the mercury goes down.

Winter driving means added wear on tires, expensive radiator covers and anti-freeze solutions. It makes winter tops, heating devices and robes necessary.

Usual costs for gas, oil, tires, insurance, garage rent, interest on money and other incidentals are as high if not higher in winter. Depreciation on a car if it is in use is greatest from December to April.

YELLOW CAB service offers you a way to avoid the prohibitive expense of winter motoring. You can ride mile for mile in a YELLOW CAB as cheaply as in your own car and with much greater convenience and comfort.

Expense is, however, only part of the story of cold weather motoring. In spite of the additional outlay on your automobile, driving in winter is inconvenient and full of discomfort.

Motors balk, radiators freeze if not closely guarded, chains must be kept on continuously, and snow clogs up the garage driveway. Tools and wrenches stick to your hands when touched and the steering wheel numbs your fingers.

Contrast with this the comfort and convenience of YELLOW CAB service. All the cares and trials of driving are shifted from your shoulders to ours and there remains for you only comfort and service.

Store your car for the winter and enjoy the comfort, convenience and economy of YELLOW CABS. It will actually cost you less and you will enjoy a much greater measure of satisfaction.
