For women there are the lovely all-linen kerchiefs that we feature for half an hour during different intervals of the day...

For men, the all-linen handkerchief that a man invariably chooses for himself, plain and initialed. Also the French corded ones that women are teaching him to appreciate.

For little girls there are cunning checked gingham with cross-stitched edges and hand-embroidered nursery designs.

Since one desires beads for each costume, the gift of a strand could not be amiss. At a moderate range of prices we present a varied assortment that we recommend for Christmas giving.

A fan of ostrich is a graceful compliment to her evening gown. If she is a subbing attending her first Christmas parties, she'll feel very grownup carrying a tiny feathered fan of pastel shade.

Expensive looking but not high priced are pouch bags that we are showing at $5. Silk, velvet and satin, plain or brocaded, topped with metal filagree frame.

Because she never had too many pairs, the gift of long kid gloves is a welcome one. "Trefousse," finest quality French kid, is the only glove we know of that is made in 2-finger lengths, which assures its excellent fit.

There can be no mistake about the size, for we will fit the gloves or correct the size after Christmas. "Trefousse" gloves are sold in Omaha only at Thompson-Belden's.

And Then "Merry Christmas"
