College Club Children Repeat Play

"Anychild Prepares for Christmas" Has Second Performance.

Children of Omaha club members score a double success in the playlet, "Anychild Prepares for Christmas," which is to be repeated this afternoon at the Christmas party of the junior division of the First Central Congregational Bible school at 3 o'clock in the church. It was first played Saturday afternoon at Swift & Co.'s auditorium.

The upper picture shows all the little actors with the exception of the two tiny stars. From left to right, they are Lenevieve Boyd as "Conscience," Ursula Fagan as "Dame Ego," Millard Langfeld as the delivery man, Evelyn Pierpoint as "Dame Altru," Jean Wallace as "Millie Meek," and Maxine Sleeper as "Mrs. Meek."

Below is shown Ruth Sandberg as "The Christmas Spirit," bringing greetings to "Anychild," played by Jane Fisher. The playlet shows how "Anychild" constantly tempted to selfishness by promptings of "Conscience" and obeys "Dame Altru's" instructions in thinking about others, and so receives the blessing of the Christmas spirit. It held an audience of 300 lively South Omaha youngsters in delighted silence when performed Saturday afternoon in the Swift company's auditorium under the auspices of the College club. The playlet was followed by a tree for the children and the distribution of candy and fruit, which had been prepared for the audience by College club members under the direction of Mrs. Henry Bergquist.

About 100 children of the Sunday school, together with many of their parents, are expected to see the playlet this afternoon at the party, which is directed by Mrs. George M. Edgley.

Pepper Potters Give Elaborate Dance

The Pepper Pot club of subdebutantes entertained 250 couples last night in a Burgess-Nash auditorium gay with mistletoe, holly, Christmas trees and festoons of holiday greens. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. E. Folda, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns, Mrs. F. A. Nash, and Charles T. Kountze, all of whom are parents of members of the club, acted as chaperons.

A number of dinner parties preceded the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Burgess entertained several members of the club and their escorts in honor of their daughter, Miss Margaret Burgess. Among the guests were Misses Emma Nash, Marjorie Burns, Dorothy Higgins, Margaret Wyman, Marcella Folda, Jane Stewart, Elinor Kountze, and Messrs. Bernard Hanighen, Edward Burke, Jr., George Daugherty, Harold Gifford, John Clarke, James Davidson, and Cornelius Clarke.

Miss Mary Morsman entertained a dozen guests at the Fontenelle hotel, previous to attending the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Caldwell gave an informal buffet supper in honor of their daughter, Miss Julia Caldwell, and twenty guests.

Old "Y" Leader Revisits City for N. E. R.

Miss Margaret Scott and Hunter Scott were the honor guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Scott, at a dinner to 12 given at the Omaha club. All guests to the dance were asked to present their invitations at the Burgess-Nash auditorium for admission.

Frank W. Ober, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Omaha some 26 years ago, arrived in the city Wednesday evening in the interests of the near east relief and will remain here until this evening. He is staying at the Hill hotel.

Mr. Ober will be entertained at the University club for luncheon tomorrow noon by a group of old friends, including David Cole, J. W. Carpenter, C. A. Musselman and Charles W. Noble.

After leaving Omaha Mr. Ober was for many years editor of the Association Man, the official Y. M. C. A. magazine.

Reads Paper to Language Meet

Dr. Elizabeth Atkins of the University of Minnesota left her parents' home at University Place, Neb., on Christmas night in order to attend the national meeting of the Modern Languages association at Ann Arbor, Mich., Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Atkins presents a paper on "The Socratic Content of Byron's 'Thought'" before this national body as a part of its program. Miss Atkins is a graduate of Wesleyan university and took her doctor's degree in philosophy at the University of Nebraska in 1922. She is the author of a volume of literary studies, "The Poet's Poet."

Dr. Louise Pound of the English department of the University of Nebraska, and Miss Conklin, head of the French department, also left Lincoln on Christmas to attend this convention.

Pi Omega Pi Dance at Blackstone.

Pi Omega Pi sorority of the University of Omaha entertained at a dance last night in the ball room of the Blackstone hotel for 60 couples. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. W. G. James of the university and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Magaret. Alumnae of the sorority present at the dance were Miss Eloise Magaret and Miss Fernie Thomson. Silver ribbons with hand-painted flowers were given as favors.

Entertains for Daughter.

Mrs. F. G. Othmer will entertain members of Alpha Delta Pi sorority at tea Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 at her home, 4739 North Thirty-ninth street. The tea is in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Howard R. Peterson of Harlan, Ia., formerly Miss Mildred D. Othmer of this city, who is visiting her parents during the holidays.

Mahogany furniture can be washed with vinegar and water or cold tea.

An Apology

At the writing of this notice (11:30 Wednesday) we have been unable to serve but a small percentage of the many hundreds of women who responded to our Half Price Sale. Both our fourth and sixth floors have been packed to capacity. Salespeople from other departments were pressed into service to assist our already augmented sales force.

To these women we apologize for our inability to serve them on their first visit and invite them to return tomorrow.
