

Omaha Woman Wins Prize for Original Recipe

She is blond and curled and decorative in appearance, but her arts are not confined to those which please the eye, nor her cleverness to the social arts—and darts—of repartee. Neither does she park her wits in the parlor, but carries a full share of cleverness and originality into the kitchen.

Mrs. Fred D. Thompson.

She is Mrs. Fred D. Thompson, 1615 Henry street, who has just won a prize of $50 for the recipe she invented in the Postum Cereal company's prize recipe contest, in which $7,550 was distributed for original recipes using Grape Nuts.

Her name, together with those of 100 other prize winners, appears in the January issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine, and these names, together with the recipes, have been printed in booklet form. The booklet of 10 recipes can be obtained on sending a request by post card to the recipe department, Postum Cereal company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Thompson's recipe, however, we reproduce below. Try this on your egg beater:

- Grape Nuts Torton.
- 1 1/2 pints whipping cream.
- 3/4 cup powdered sugar.
- 3/4 cup Grape Nuts.
- 4 egg yolks.
- 1-8 teaspoon powdered mace.

Mix together the sugar, mace, and half of the Grape Nuts, whip the cream until stiff, and add the egg yolks, well beaten. Stir lightly and fold in the rest of the mixture thoroughly but slowly. Then put into individual paper case containers. Sprinkle the top with the remainder of the Grape Nuts, and top off with a red maraschino cherry.

Have ready an empty can packed with cracked ice and rock salt, using five parts ice to one of salt. Place the paper containers with the mixture in them in the can, and cover

Four Artists in Church Concert

Women of the North Presbyterian church will present four artists in concert at their church Saturday night, January 19. Agnes Pringle, violinist; Jeannette Christine, soprano; Cleo Messer, pianist, and David Owen Jones, tenor, will appear. Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Jenkins, who heard them in the east, are enthusiastic in praise of these Welsh musicians.

Miss Pringle was born of American parents and at an early age started her musical education under such eminent teachers as Bernhard Litemann, Emile Sauret and Hugo Heermann.

She spent three years abroad studying with Issay, Barman of Berlin, Goby Eberhardt of Nice, France, and in London, England, with Leopold Auer, the famous teacher of Elman and Heifetz.

Miss Pringle has made concert appearances in Berlin and Nice, as well as at Queens Hall, London, England, and at many other important musical centers.

In America she has appeared with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and has given concerts in all the principal cities of the United States and Canada.

A small telephone table is painted one hour or until frozen firmly. Care should be taken not to let the ice and salt get inside the containers. The mixture serves about 10 to 12 persons.
