

Politicians Will Hold Big Meets

Democrats and Anti-Saloon League Call Important Conferences for This Week and Next.

McAdoo Is Storm Center

By MARK SULLIVAN. Washington, Jan. 7.—This week and the week following, there will be a series of important political meetings.

The first, tomorrow night, will be a number of January day meetings held simultaneously throughout the country.

One week later, there will be held in Washington the biennial meeting of the democratic national committee.

As to the candidates who the opposition wants to substitute for McAdoo, there is not yet complete agreement.

Drys for Pinchot. The other event almost certain to have definite political results is the meeting of the Anti-Saloon league in Washington next week.

Progressives Want Thrill. As between Johnson and Coolidge, they will be for Coolidge, but as soon as they put it in urging that Pinchot come out, "Coolidge is all right, but we don't get a thrill out of him, and we want a chance to sing 'Onward Christian Soldiers' once more like we did in 1912."

Consideration of the elements in Governor Pinchot's situation, it seems probable that he will be moved to give at least some kind of passive assent to those who are demanding a chance to get behind him.

Federal Man to Attend Round World Flight Plans Completed

Full Details of 39,000 Mile Trip of United States Army Aviators Made Public.

Hop Off at Seattle April 2

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 7.—Details of the round-the-world flight of United States aviators, starting from Seattle April 2, were made public today by Maj. Henry H. Arnold.

The information was contained in a long letter sent to Rockwell field authorities by Capt. Lowell H. Smith, the San Diego flier, who has been selected as one of the four pilots to carry the Stars and Stripes around the world.

The completed plans call for Maj. F. L. Martin, squadron commander; Lieut. Eric Nelson, squadron engineer officer; Capt. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. Leigh Wade to leave Langley field, Va., for the Davis Hughes plant at Santa Monica, March 1.

The first leg of the flight from Seattle to Attu Island, at the western tip of the Aleutians, will be under the supervision of Lieut. Clayton La Russell, who will be responsible for all gasoline, fuel oil and supplies needed by airmen along this section.

The second division of the flight from Attu Island across the Bering sea to the Kamchatka peninsula on the Siberian coast and southward across the islands of Japan will be controlled by Lieut. Clifford C. Nutt.

The third division from Nagasaki, Japan, to Calcutta, India, will be in charge of Lieut. M. S. Lawton.

The fourth division, from Calcutta over the Persian gulf and the Red Sea to Constantinople, will be in charge of Lieut. H. A. Halvorsen, former North Island wingman of Capt. Lowell Smith.

Lieutenant Halvorsen is now in the Philippines. He will leave Manila for the Philippine capital to confer with British air mail officials on the Calcutta-Constantinople airway.

The fifth leg, from Constantinople to London, will be in charge of Maj. Carlisle Walsh. This route already is well mapped by the British.

The sixth leg, from London up the shores of Iceland and Greenland and southward to the Canadian border will be in charge of Lieut. Clarence Crumrine. For the last four months Lieutenant Crumrine, operating out of Copenhagen, and afforded every assistance by the Danish government, has been engaged in selecting suitable landing places in Greenland and Iceland.
