

Million in Liabilities. London, Jan. 12.—The meteoric rise and fall of a former clerk from a millionaire worth nearly $6,000,000 to the bankruptcy court was unfolded at Cardiff when William J. Sutherland, coal exporter, underwent examination in bankruptcy. Sutherland, in his testimony, said that he began business as a coal exporter and that at the height of the Welsh coal export boom in 1918 he had to go bankrupt in 1919. Since that time, he testified, over 20 petitions and on the ordering of tankers and 35 writs had been issued against him. His assets, he admitted, were $250,000, while his liabilities were more than a million dollars.
