Aid to Labor Is Pledged by Asquith

Former Premier Says Liberals' Duty to Join in Voting No Confidence in Baldwin.

Soviet Recognition Seen

London, Jan. 17.—With the prince of Wales and the duke of York in the house of commons this evening, former Premier H. H. Asquith pronounced the doom of the Baldwin administration. From his place in the opposition benches, the former liberal leader declared:

"It is impossible for any member of the liberal party to withhold his support from the labor party's amendment to the king's address."

The Asquith pronouncement was greeted with tremendous cheering from the liberal and labor benches, removing the last vestige of doubt that the Baldwin government will be overthrown in Monday's vote on the debate. Asquith continued:

"I decline to believe that the sun will set on the power and prosperity of Britain the day that Ramsay MacDonald takes office. Labor, like other parties, will be limited by parliamentary conditions which the election created."

He reiterated the determination of the liberals not to enter into any combination with the conservatives to obstruct the labor government.

J. R. Clynes, labor, opened the debate today, moving for an amendment expressing a lack of confidence in the Baldwin government. He was vague regarding the plans of the labor ministry, but he intimated that a part of the program would be to recognize the soviet government of Russia and apply new methods for working out real peace for Europe.

U. S. Help Essential

"We can no longer merely watch and wait for American aid in making international settlements. We not only require such aid, but we find it essential," Clynes said, branding Great Britain's foreign policy as "weak."

Winston Churchill tonight made a sensational statement dissociating himself from the position taken in commons by former Premier Asquith. Mr. Churchill declared:

"The enthronement in office of a socialist government will be the acutest national misfortune, such as has usually befallen great states only on the morrow of defeat in war."

Churchill advocates a joint address by the liberals and conservatives to Kigg George pointing out the evils of a socialist government.

Appointment of Corey Attacked

Senator Howell Opposes Confirmation—Charges Use of $25,000 Position Made.

By F. C. POWELL,
Washington Correspondent of the Omaha Bee.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Objection by Senator R. E. Howell halted the senate committee on banking and currency from sending the names of Merion L. Corey of Omaha, Elmer L. Landes, Ohio, and John E. Hull, California, to the senate for confirmation of their appointments on the farm loan board.

Howell asserted that the committee should be setting a dangerous, unconstitutional precedent, if it sanctioned the work done by these three men, who, after their appointment, created a new position of fiscal agent at a salary of $25,000 a year for Charles E. Lobdell, retiring chairman of the board.

Howell further asserted that prior to Lobdell's appointment as fiscal agent, he attended to the same duties as a member of the board at a salary of $10,000 a year. The committee members declined to state what their final action would be.

Widespread Interest Shown in Nebraska Dairy Movement

Prominent Bankers and Business Men from State to Meet in Omaha Saturday—Plan to Help Farmers Buy Milk.

Telegrams and letters from prominent Nebraskans expressing interest in the dairy development conference at Omaha Chamber of Commerce at 10 Saturday morning have been pouring in on J. M. Gillan, secretary of the agricultural committee of the Omaha Chamber.

The purpose of the meeting will be to further interest among Nebraska farmers in keeping dairy cows and bringing Nebraska to the fore as a dairy state. A revolving fund out of which to finance the purchase of cows by farmers who would pay off the loan in monthly installments is considered.

"One million dairy cows by 1930 will be the slogan of the conference. At present there are half a million in Nebraska."

More Profit for Farmers.

According to officials of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, the great object in view in calling leading men from over the state to discuss and organize a dairy development association of Nebraska has been the unique financial advantage of keeping dairy cows. It has been found that those who keep dairy cows with other farming pursuits find that grain and other forage they market in the shape of butter and cream brings at least 25 per cent more than when they market grain and foliage direct.

According to authorities, constant rising prices paid for fresh milk, butter and cheese in the face of the ever increasing dairy production indicates that there is no danger of overdoing dairy production in this state for many years to come.

Pure Breeds Not Urged.

Special dairy committee has studied the problem for several months and has made surveys of the condition of dairying in other states. It is thoroughly convinced that it is unnecessary for farmers of Nebraska to buy high priced or pure bred dairy cows unless abundantly able to do so.

It is said that with a good grade of cows for a foundation and pure bred bulls, Nebraska's dairy herd can rapidly be built up to a very profitable basis, and such cows, it is believed, can be purchased around $100 each.

Each local dairy association can purchase one or more pure bred cows and keep and raise to maturity the female calves. Under this plan it is thought that the herds will increase rapidly to be good producers.

This plan has been tried out in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa and many other states and results have proved entirely satisfactory.

Gaining in Many Districts.

In Nebraska it has proved successful in sections about Norfolk, Fremont, Aurora, Sidney and other towns.

Martin W. Dimery of the American Bank of Sidney and W. S. Rodman of the American Bank of Kimball have reported remarkable success in their respective counties. They shipped in dairy cows to sell to farmers.

Mr. Dimery gives numerous illustrations of how Cheyenne county farmers have been tided over hard times by keeping five or six good dairy cows.

Banker Brings in Cows.

Three years ago Mr. Rodman through his bank, bought 100 dairy cows and sold them to farmers on monthly payments.

Incidentally, the fellow who acts the man will not get tangled up in the Mann act. Failure to realize this means that Claude Bossie's Atlantic round trip is going to be made in record time.

An Omaha man who shall be nameless recently went to his family physician for treatment, and explained his nervous condition by saying:

"I tried to get some good natured alcohol, but couldn't. Then I tried to get some sympathetic gin, that failed. Next I tried to get some sanctified spirits, and when that failed I just had to take hooch, and this is the result."

Cities to Oppose Measure Against Tax Exemption

Unanimous Stand Taken Against Passage Through Congress of Green Resolution.

Grand Island, Neb., Jan. 17.—In its afternoon session today the league of Nebraska municipalities took a decidedly positive stand against the adoption by congress of the Green resolution, aiming to remove the exemption of municipal and state securities from taxation.

The committee on resolutions, through Chairman Wilke of Lincoln, submitted a report in which this subject was reported as one to be recommended to Nebraska's municipalities, meriting their serious consideration but otherwise representing the league itself as being in a non-committal attitude.

Forsythe of Colleville first called attention to the absence of any declaration, and vigorous demands were made by Judge Barnes of Fairbury and others for an unequivocal expression of opposition to the so-called Green amendment. An addendum "that the league is unconditionally opposed to any control by the state railway commission over such municipal institutions by way of rate fixing or otherwise; urges action by city attorneys for the drafting of uniform traffic ordinances and empowering the league's president to appoint a committee of city attorneys for such purpose; urges all cities to adopt home rule charters; request chamber of commerce to study railroad advertising of rates and to correct false representations thus disseminated; pleads for the reduction of rates on agricultural products and sponsors all possible aid for the restoration of agriculture to a profitable basis; urges upon all municipal and other officers a more strict enforcement of all laws and especially those concerning automobile traffic, game protection and that of bird life, pollution of water, bovine tuberculosis, prohibition and pure food; urges good roads and the gasoline tax; endorses the preservation of local historical sites and all forestry efforts; exhorts all communities to give careful study to the recreation and playground problem and extends thanks to various Grand Island institutions for the hospitality tendered."

The action on the Green amendment was ordered conveyed by the secretary to all congressmen and senators at Omaha by telegraph.

Richard E. Vernor, manager of the fire prevention department of the Western Actuarial Bureau, Chicago, explained and exhorted the cause of fire prevention, not only as a property, but as a life saving problem.

He said the United States burns 15,000 people annually on fire prevention. "I think it is a great movement, and if successfully carried out will greatly benefit Nebraska."

Others to express their approval of the movement are Prof. H. P. Davis of the Nebraska College of Agriculture at Lincoln and W. H. Brokaw of the Agricultural College at Lincoln, and leader of the county farm agents organizations.

E. M. Little of Fremont, dairy expert of Fremont, where the plan has been successfully carried out, will also attend the conference.

"I will be pleased to attend if possible. Will co-operate with you in every way," writes A. J. Weaver of Falls City, vice president of the First National bank there and large farm owner.

"Will be there and glad to co-operate in every way" from C. A. Smith of Tilden, chairman of the executive committee of the Nebraska Bankers association.

Dan Morris, president of the City National Bank of Greeley, writes: "We are all in it. I think it is a great movement, and if successfully carried out will greatly benefit Nebraska."

"My paper is at your service. I will be glad to co-operate with you in every way." That is the message of Gene Hughes, publisher of the Norfolk Daily News.

C. A. McCloud of the First National bank of York expresses his approval, and will try to make arrangements to attend.

"I will be pleased to attend if possible. Will co-operate with you in every way," writes A. J. Weaver of Falls City, vice president of the First National bank there and large farm owner.

The Day in Washington

Secretary Work laid plans for an experts' investigation of the Colorado river project.

The actual detailed offer of Southern Power companies for Muscle Shoals was formally submitted to the War department.

Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania, declined to introduce Governor Pinchot's anthracite bill.

The house ways and means committee considering a tax revision heard arguments against tax on future trading on produce market.

House democrats and republican insurgents failed in an effort to insert the rules program of the republican organization on the discharge of committees.

A resolution for an investigation of the administration of Governor General Wood of the Philippines was introduced by Senator Ladd, republican, North Dakota.

Investigation of the Bok peace plan was decided upon by a special senate committee appointed under the surface in the senate.

Naval officials said the performance of the Shenandoah strengthened the belief that it would be equal to a polar flight, while opposition to the program came to the surface in the senate.

The state department announced it favored granting permission for a detachment of Obregon troops to pass from Naco, Ariz., to a point in Texas where it can enter Mexico for service against the revolutionists.

Iowa Solons May Clash Over 10-Day Marriage Clause

Senate Committee Recommends Feature Be Eliminated From Bill—Penal Institutions Law Discussed.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 17.—Possibility of a clash between the senate and house over the 10-day clause inserted in the marriage license law by the lower body, developed today when the bill appeared in the senate with a committee recommendation that the 10-day amendment be stricken out. This feature was placed in the bill a week ago by the house and has since refused several days later, to reconsider the matter. Indications are that the committee report will be adopted by the senate and that the house will decline to recede from its stand.

The 10-day section provides that that time shall elapse between the date application for a marriage license is made and the date of issuance of the license. It was designed to prevent hasty marriages and possibly in an indirect way, lessen the number of divorces.

Opponents of the proposal declare it would be an embarrassment or an inconvenience to many couples who have good reasons for marrying in a few days after their decision was reached, and that some other means might be found to care for the cases of irresponsible youths who marry without due consideration.

The afternoon also brought forth the probability that the legislature will be called upon to define specifically the industrial activities in which the state board of control may engage with prison labor. This committee suggested a joint penitentiary committee meeting by Attorney General Ben J. Gibson. "In taking such action," Mr. Gibson said, "the legislature could relieve the board of criticism for acting as it saw fit in the absence of specific law."

The committee will meet again in a day or two when decision probably will be made to redraft the penal institutions law, covering the subject thoroughly.

In discussing the matter with the committee, Mr. Gibson said he was of the opinion that the amount of money paid prisoners was not the important factor in determining whether the state was competing with free labor, but that the amount the state received from sale of the prison-manufactured articles should be the determining factor.

Each house was in session less than an hour today, a half dozen bills, chiefly of a codifying nature, being passed.

$100 to Aid Boys on London Trip

Lincoln, Jan. 17.—The Nebraska Association of Fair Managers, in meeting here, voted $100 towards sending the Webster stock judging team to the international contest to be held in London, England, this spring.

H. J. McLaughlin of Doniphan was re-elected president of the organization and W. H. Smith of Seward, state tax commissioner, was re-elected secretary and treasurer. E. J. Mitchell of Deshler was again chosen vice president.

Heirs in U. S. and Canada to Get $1,000,000 Irish Estate

By International News Service.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 17.—Property in the heart of the Irish city of Limerick, valued at approximately $1,000,000 will come into the possession of American and Canadian descendants of John Kane on December 31, 1924, at midnight, according to an investigation, the results of which were being communicated to relatives throughout the country today.

Kane, an Irish immigrant to the new world, leased 1,200 acres of land for 99 years for 7,000 golden sovereigns before leaving his home in 1829. When the 99 years is up he reverts to his descendants of whom there may be about 200 in the United States and Canada. Among the known heirs are: W. J. Kane, Vancouver, B. C., who probed the records of the 99-year-old lease on a trip over seas; D. P. Kane, postmaster at Kaslo; Mrs. J. D. Keenan, South Vancouver, and Mrs. W. B. Livingston, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Realtors Elect M. A. Larson Head of State Body

Columbus Chosen as Next Meeting Place—Number of Resolutions Are Passed.

Fremont, Neb., Jan. 17.—Martin A. Larson of Central City was elected president of the Nebraska Association of Real Estate Boards at the sixth annual convention, which came to a close here this evening.

Columbus was chosen as the place for the next convention, to be held in October. Lincoln entered the only other invitation offered and the delegate from that city withdrew in favor of Columbus.

The newly elected officers of the association, in addition to President Nelson, are: Phil R. Hockenberger, Columbus, secretary-treasurer; H. T. Brown, Grand Island, vice president. The newly elected directors are as follows: First district, E. A. Bickford, Lincoln; second, B. R. Hastings, Omaha; third, Charles L. Dickey, Columbus; fourth, S. J. Hyatt, Lincoln; fifth, J. W. Smith, Stratton; A. E. Smith, Cambridge; sixth, C. E. Lockwood, Kimball; A. T. Seybold, Bridgeport; C. A. Hager, Ord.

It was resolved by the convention in regard to world peace, "that we ask our congress in the name of God and in the interest of humanity to do something to promote peace that will not smack of partisan politics but that will uphold the principles of brotherly love as advocated by the Prince of Peace."

The association went on record as favoring the waterway, through Great Lakes and St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes to the Gulf waterway as the most important means of transportation to all central western states.

The realtors also urged the passage of a resolution now pending in congress known as joint resolution No. 1, that will do away with the issuing of any and all tax-free securities, and thus again turn the financial surplus back into the former usual channels.

Among a number of other resolutions adopted by the real estate association were those offering the services of their appraisal committee from the various boards to county assessors, municipal, state and federal authorities.

Suit Filed to Test Status of Women

A friendly suit to determine the legal status of women as candidates for membership on county central committees, was filed Thursday morning in district court by Mrs. Bess E. Todd, republican, through her attorney, George Collins, who is also a state senator.

The suit, in the form of an application for a writ of mandamus, is against William D. McHugh, jr., Douglas county election commissioner. It asks the court to compel McHugh to place Mrs. Todd's name on the ballot as a candidate for the republican county central committee from the 15th precinct of the first ward, Omaha, at the primary election to be held April 8.

Ex-Lincoln Pastor Accused of Taking Woman's $550

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 17.—The Rev. James Belk, former circus acrobat, and former pastor of Lincoln, Neb., who styles himself "the flying evangelist" flew away with $550 of her money, Mrs. Frank Renninger, of Madison, Ill., alleged in a suit which came up for hearing today in Circuit Judge Landwehr's court.

Delia Renninger, exclaimed that she thought Mrs. Renninger was giving the money for the good of the cause. Mrs. Renninger says she lent the money to the pastor on a strictly business basis and alleged further that Delia also borrowed her husband $1,000 which he borrowed to build a tabernacle.

Delk conducted meetings here last summer in a tent on Grand boulevard.

Nebraska City Clothing Store Suffers Fire Loss

Nebraska City, Neb., Jan. 17.—Thousands of dollars damage to the clothing stock of Marcus Sichel and the building occupied by the establishment was done by fire here. The building is owned by M. M. Straub of Avoca. The fire is believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring. Water and smoke caused the most damage. Both building and contents are covered by insurance.

Washington Awaits Texas Consent Before Granting Mexico's Request for Troop Move on Border.

2 States Approve Plan

Houston, Tex., Jan. 17.—Gunboats of the Mexican rebel faction were bombarding the beach at Tampico at 11 a. m. today, according to a wireless message picked by the Irish Thea tor station, WEAY, here shortly after noon today.

The message was broadcast by the Sinclair tanker Joseph M. Cudaly which reported its position about 18 miles south of Galveston. It reports it picked up the message from the tanker Eugene V. Thayer, also of the Sinclair Oil line.

About 15 shots were fired, the message stated, although no idea of the damage done could be obtained.

The Cudaly was reported as being just off Tampico.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The State department announced tonight that the government of President Obregon in Mexico had requested permission for a detachment of the Mexican army to pass from Naco, Ariz., to some point in Texas, where it will re-enter Mexican territory for service against the revolutionists. Although final decision has not been made, it was said the Washington government looked favorably upon the request.

The American government has made request for such passage of troops of the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and has received favorable replies from the first two, but as yet no reply from the governor of Texas. In case a favorable reply is received from the latter, it was added, the request of the Mexican government would be granted.

In a statement the State department said:

"The Mexican government through its embassy here has requested permission of this government for the passage of a detachment of the Mexican army together with animals and other material which usually accompanies such a command from Naco, Ariz., to some point in Texas, where they will re-enter Mexican territory for service in regions in Mexico where American lives and interests are being threatened with grave danger by the forces in revolt against the Mexican government. These troops will be accompanied by arms, munitions and will accompany them as baggage."

Requests Granted Before.

"This government has transmitted this request to the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, and has received favorable replies from the governors of Arizona and New Mexico. No reply has yet been received from the governor of Texas. This government looks favorably upon the request of the Mexican government, and has received favorable replies from the governors of Arizona and New Mexico. No reply has yet been received from the governor of Texas. This request will be granted."

"Similar permission has been extended in the past, the last occasion being in October, 1915, and again in November, 1915, when the de facto government of Mexico, headed by Carranza, was allowed to transport Mexican troops from the Texas border through the United States to the state of Sonora, Mexico, where American lives and property were in serious danger from the operations of Mexican revolutionary bands."

Texas Considers Request.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 17.—The request of President Obregon for permission to transport Mexican federal troops across a corner of southwest Texas was received from Washington by Texas authorities today.

Acting Governor Davidson stated he was in communication with the officials at Washington in reference to the matter, but had nothing to give out at present. The acting governor conferred with other state officials on the question this afternoon.

New Mexico Gives Permission.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 17.—Governor Hinkle of New Mexico today granted permission for Mexican troops to pass through New Mexico, en route from Nogales, Ariz., to Eagle Pass and Laredo, Tex.

2,000 Troops to Move.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 17.—Movement of approximately 2,000 Mexican troops with their equipment, from Naco, Sonora, through Arizona, and thence to Texas to Laredo, was authorized today by Governor George W. P. Hunt in response to a message from Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes.
